INTRODUCTION

In 25 years when you open this 1957 yearbook, we hope it will recall memories of . . . coffee dates and bridge games in the Husky Den . . . the excitement of Homecoming . . . drenching rain and mud-filled puddles in the Quad . . . feverish cramming for Finals . . . broken legs from skiing . . . the gaiety of Song and Stunt Night . . . the tense anticipation of elections . . . warm sunbaths on the Music Building lawn . . . the significance of Commencement.

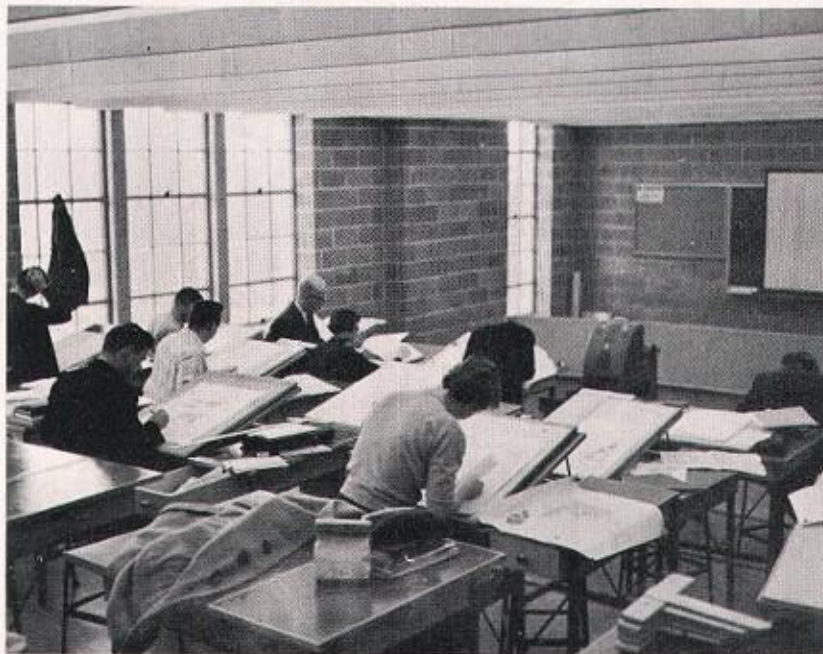

The staff has tried to preserve the story of such memorable experiences so that you will never forget your years at Washington.

To all Washingtonians, past and present, who have shared these memories, we dedicate this TYEE of 1957.

LEADERSHIP

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

To all of the members of the University family I extend in this fine new 1957 Tyee my fondest greetings and good wishes.

Tyee provides a priceless record of the growth of a great University. I know that this is so because I have been close to the University for most of the years of my life and, having watched the University grow, I have treasured the copies of Tyee in which moments of change and accomplishment were captured forever. You who have shared the experiences of 1956-57 will never tire of referring to these pages.

The University that we know will be altered soon. It must grow larger. It will, I am certain, grow stronger and better. We can see these changes coming and we can realize how important it is to get into the record, now, the spirit of the University as it is. It has been my privilege to serve the University during years that will be recognized, I think, as forming a period of preparation for this new and greater University. You who have participated in this preparation will find the spirit of the University in pages such as these.

My greatest satisfaction, this year as in others, has been in my happy meetings with students. The students of Washington have my particular greeting, for they will be building the University of the future and no institution could be in better hands.

HENRY SCHMITZ
President

My official duties call on me to extend greetings to scores of organizations throughout the year, but no such request has given me more pleasure than the invitation to greet the students of the University of Washington through your yearbook, The Tyee. The reason is that I am an alumnus of both the liberal arts and the law schools. Your University is mine, and its progress and growth through the years has been dear to my heart, as it is to all the "old grads."

As your school year nears a close, and I finish my first half-year as your governor, I see ahead a tremendous growth for our school as our population expands. One of my greatest prides, during my legislative career, was the sponsorship of the measures which established our fine medical and dental schools and teaching hospital. I can assure you that, as needs arise, my warm support as governor will go to improvement and expansion of the physical plants of the university.

Furthermore, I feel that I have a double responsibility, both as governor and an alumnus, to see that the University has the finest administration and the best teachers possible. We in government owe that to you and to future generations. In that regard, I plan to see greater participation of your faculty, your alumni, and those in state government in the affairs of your University and mine.

It is my hope to visit the campus many times during the next year, to talk with you students and your faculty, with one mutual aim—the welfare and betterment of the University of Washington we all love. May you all have a fine summer, wherever you are!

VICE PRESIDENT HAROLD P. EVEREST

Johnny had just reached the age where he was able to read a newspaper. Painfully he sounded out the words in a newspaper headline.

"University Board of Re--Regents to Meet Saturday. Daddy, what's a board of regents?" he asked.

His father put down the book he was reading.

"Well, Johnny, the Governor of our State of Washington appoints seven men to run the University of Washington. These people have to be approved by the State Senate and they serve for six years without pay. They are the people who set up the rules of the University that the President carries out. They have full control over the operation of the University and over any property it may have. The Board of Regents also appoints the President and approves faculty appointments.

"But don't the teachers get a chance to say anything about how the University is run, Daddy?"

"Yes, the faculty elects a group of men called the University Senate which presents their views to the administration."

"Daddy, when I grow up, I want to be a Regent."

She had a problem. There was simply no escaping it. But what to do? She could check with the gang to see if they had had similar problems, but this was something she felt needed adult consideration. Yes, she had thought of parents, but they were miles and miles away. Say . . . what was that man's name? The Dean of Students? Yes, that was it, she'd check with Dean Anderson and see if he could suggest a solution to her problem. She'd even heard about foreign students going there for counseling on their problems and about other students who had gone there to speak with counselors or the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women. Student leaders often went there to get advice on planning activities. Maybe the Office of the Dean of Students could help her, too!

Harold looked at the calendar . . . time to pick up that registration date again. Then registration would come with its endless lines, lines . . . sections . . . cards to fill out, almost a million, if he remembered correctly. He had carefully avoided all connection with the Ad Building whenever possible since his nerve-shattering experience in sections his first quarter at the Institution of a Thousand Years. Now he was a senior . . . sigh, only one more trip to the Ad Building for registration.

Harold was among those unfortunate few who never really took time to find out what went on in the Ad Building besides registration. He didn't realize how important an efficient, capable administrative staff is to a university. Never having investigated the functions of the administration, Harold wasn't aware of the men and women in the "bleak, gray building" who try to maintain and improve the financial, physical and educational well-being of our University and its students.

Golden W Reunion of the Class of '06 had a record turnout.

alumni association

"The meeting of the Alumni Association will please come to order! We have a few items of business to discuss and then you can use the remainder of the evening to renew those acquaintances with the friends you haven't seen since college days.

"First, I know you are anxious to hear the results of the election of officers for the Alumni Association. A. M. Lundin was re-elected president; Mrs. Mark Mason, vice-president; C. Henry Bacon, vice-president, and Alan G. Grant and R. Bronsdon Harris were re-elected treasurer and secretary, respectively.

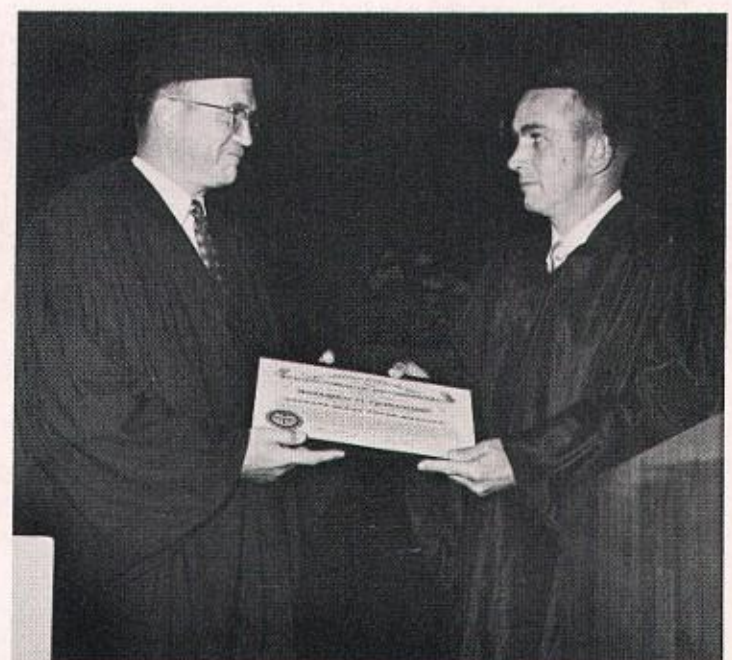

"Replies have come in for the 'Golden W' reunion of the Class of '06, and it looks as though we are going to have a record turnout of honor guests. It isn't hard to understand, though, because to each class its fifty-year reunion is almost as much of an event as Homecoming is to the Association as a whole.

"As we look back on the history of our group, I think we have a record to be proud of. Since our founding in 1891, we have managed to help our University in many ways, such as the 'Foundation for Research at the University of Washington, Inc.' Let us not forget to continue working to aid the University in reaching its objectives and to secure recognition for it wherever we go.

"The meeting is adjourned."

He stepped into the "Quad" and looked around himself in wonder. It was so big! Seeing an upperclassman on the path he approached timidly.

"What is taught in all those buildings?" he asked.

"Why, this is the main center for the College of Arts and Sciences," the upperclassman replied. "It's the biggest, most widespread department in the University. No matter what major you're in, you're bound to run into Arts and Sciences courses. It contains the schools of Architecture, Art, Communications, Drama, Fisheries, Home Economics, Music, and Physical Education. It offers special programs of General Education, General Studies, and even a Pre-Major course for students undecided on a major. If you want to get into a professional school such as Dental Hygiene, Dentistry, Law, Librarianship, Medicine, Nursing, or Social Work, you'll have to take a pre-professional course in Arts and Sciences. Do you see now why there are so many buildings?"

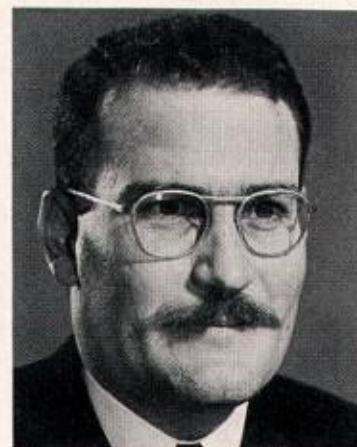

"Yes, I do," was the thoughtful answer. "How long has this College been on campus?"

"Some of the courses taught here were among the first ones offered at the University, but it was not established as a College until 1913. You may be very sure that no matter what career you choose, the College of Arts and Sciences will probably play an important part in fitting you for a useful and satisfying life."

I have been a teacher in the College of Business Administration for nearly 40 years now, ever since the college was established. I have watched students work in accounting, business education, finance, banking, foreign trade, insurance, marketing, office management, personnel administration, production, real estate, secretarial training, and transportation.

I have worked with students from the Department of Business, Communication, Business Law, Human Relations in Business, and Policy and Administration. I have worked with majors and non-majors. I have worked with graduates and undergraduates.

I have seen students provided with a rich, full background in the business world. I have seen the student given business training rooted in general knowledge and developed in the qualities of character that make useful, intelligent citizens and responsible members of the business community. I have seen students go out in the world and succeed.

DEAN HAROLD E. WESSMAN

"Good afternoon, sir. My name is John Smith. I will be graduating from high school this year, and I intend to study engineering. I wonder if you could tell me something about the University of Washington School of Engineering—the curriculum, the teaching facilities, and how well it is accredited."

"I'm glad to see you are taking such an interest in the school you attend, John. I am more than glad to tell you about our school here at Washington. First year students in engineering take general courses, which are taught by the General Engineering Department. After the first year, undergraduate engineers may specialize in aeronautical, chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical, mining, metallurgical, or ceramic engineering. In addition, students take prescribed courses in the humanistic-social area."

"How many people are there on the teaching staff?"

"Approximately 110 persons, chosen from all branches of the profession. Almost every faculty member has had practical professional experience, in addition to advanced graduate study."

"How about accreditation? How does the school rank nationally?"

"All curricula taught here are accredited by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, which is the principal accrediting agency recognized by the engineering profession in the United States. When ranked with schools from all over the country the College of Engineering of the University of Washington has achieved a very high status."

"Is there any other course of study besides the regular four-year program?"

"Yes, the College offers a course of study in industrial engineering for which a second bachelor's degree is awarded at the end of five years. After completing the first four years majoring in any of the branches of engineering, courses in industrial management and related subjects comprise the fifth year."

"Thank you, sir. You've answered all my questions, and from what you've said, I feel fairly certain that you'll find me enrolled here at the University of Washington School of Engineering next year."

He remarked to the student nearest him, "This dental school is very good, isn't it?"

"It certainly is," the student replied proudly. "It's approved by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association and by the American Association of Dental Schools. Only a select group of students are admitted, and they get the benefit of the best educational techniques in the field."

"But don't you get tired of studying nothing but science?" he continued.

"Oh, but we don't," was the emphatic reply. "We try to get as broad a liberal background as possible, in order to gain a better understanding of human relationships. We don't leave a dentistry course until we really know the material. It's the aim of every student to become a good dentist."

Future dentists gain practical experience.

Susan graduates from the College of Education this spring. Her family will be especially proud because her father was a member of the first class to graduate from this college which was established in 1914.

Susan said she found the reading clinic and curriculum workshops to be of great help to her.

"The visits to student teachers, consultative programs, and informal help through letters and telephone calls were services I could not get along without," said Susan. "The library facilities were excellent, too."

Susan said graduates from the College of Education feel they have mastered academic content and professional techniques.

" 'They can think creatively, value good citizenship, and reflect the best in democracy' are words I have heard spoken about these graduates," she added.

Susan believes good teachers are indebted to the excellent training they receive in the College of Education.

"You know, Tom, I've often heard the Graduate School mentioned around the University, but I never have been quite sure just exactly what it is. You're a graduate student—maybe you could clear it up for me."

"I can see where you could easily become confused, Jim. There are graduate students in almost every course of study offered here. The Graduate School is simply the administrative department that keeps track of all these students and admits them to higher degrees. Admission to the status of graduate student is by approved application. In order to maintain a 'clear status' rating, a student must have a 3.0 grade average."

"The Graduate School demands more of its students than the undergraduate school, as you can well imagine. In order to develop a spirit of research, the graduate student is thrown more upon his own resources and has to measure up to a more severe standard."

"The University is constantly increasing its emphasis on graduate work, because it feels that the better citizens of tomorrow should be equipped with advanced training, research and scholarship."

"Hello, sir. I am John Baker. I wish to apply for a position on the State Forestry Service."

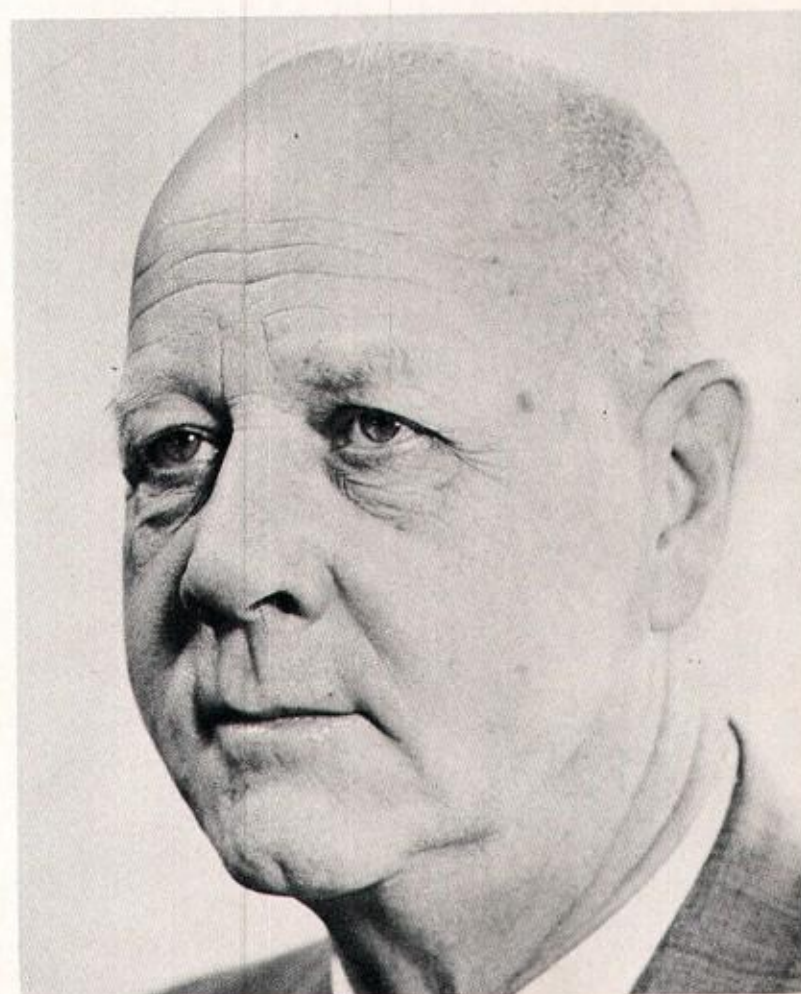

"John Baker, hmmm. Didn't you graduate from the University of Washington College of Forestry? the college that aids our department in research developments? the college accredited by the Society of American Foresters? It offers a four-year curricula leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Forestry with specialization in forest management, logging engineering, and forest products, doesn't it?"

"Yes, I was wondering . . ."

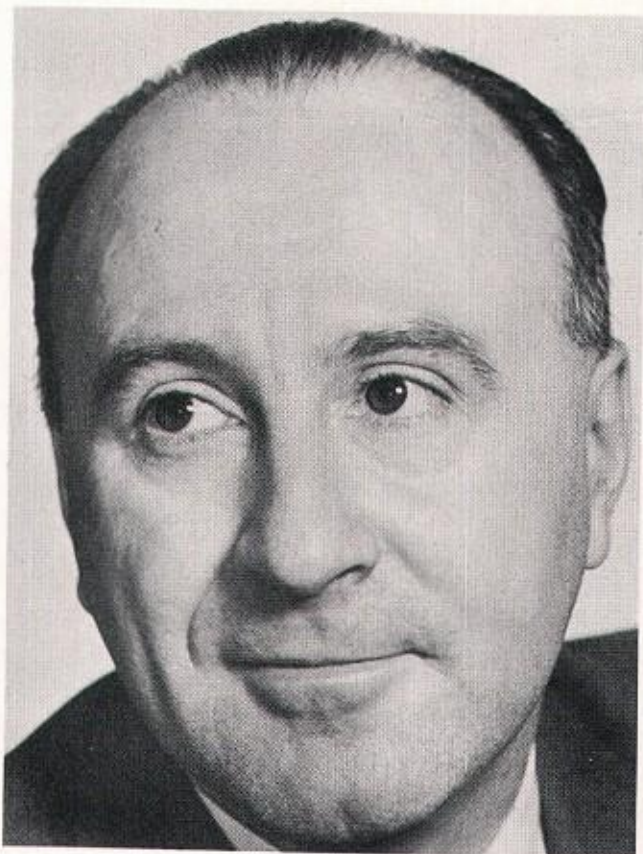

"I don't need a sales talk on your college, young man. I just need its graduates. Logging is industrially significant in the Pacific Northwest, you know. Now tell me what can you do?"

"Well, I . . ."

"Never mind. I know what a young man with your good training can do. Can you start work next week?"

DEAN GEORGE NEFF STEVENS

"Good afternoon, Mr. Smith. I am Tom Jones, the University of Washington graduate who called you about a position with your law firm."

"Oh yes, Mr. Jones. I remember your call. I've heard many good things about the University's Law School. Your school has the largest law library west of the Mississippi, does it not?"

"Yes, sir, and our school is convenient to federal and state courts, enabling us to witness the trial of actual cases."

"You realize, of course, that you are applying for a position out of your own state, and may be at some disadvantage regarding the laws of this state?"

"I don't think so, sir. Our school prepares its students for practice in any state or jurisdiction where the Anglo-American legal system prevails. Our school is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, you know, and is approved by the Council on Legal Education and Admission to the Bar of the American Bar Association."

Library students practice behind reference desk.

"Didn't you know? I'm studying in the School of Librarianship. It's a graduate school to equip students as specialists in libraries devoted to law, medicine, engineering, business and other technical fields."

"Really? I always thought the School of Librarianship prepared students to work in libraries like the one in my home town."

"No, only students who have already obtained their bachelor's degree from a college or university of good standing may gain admission to this school."

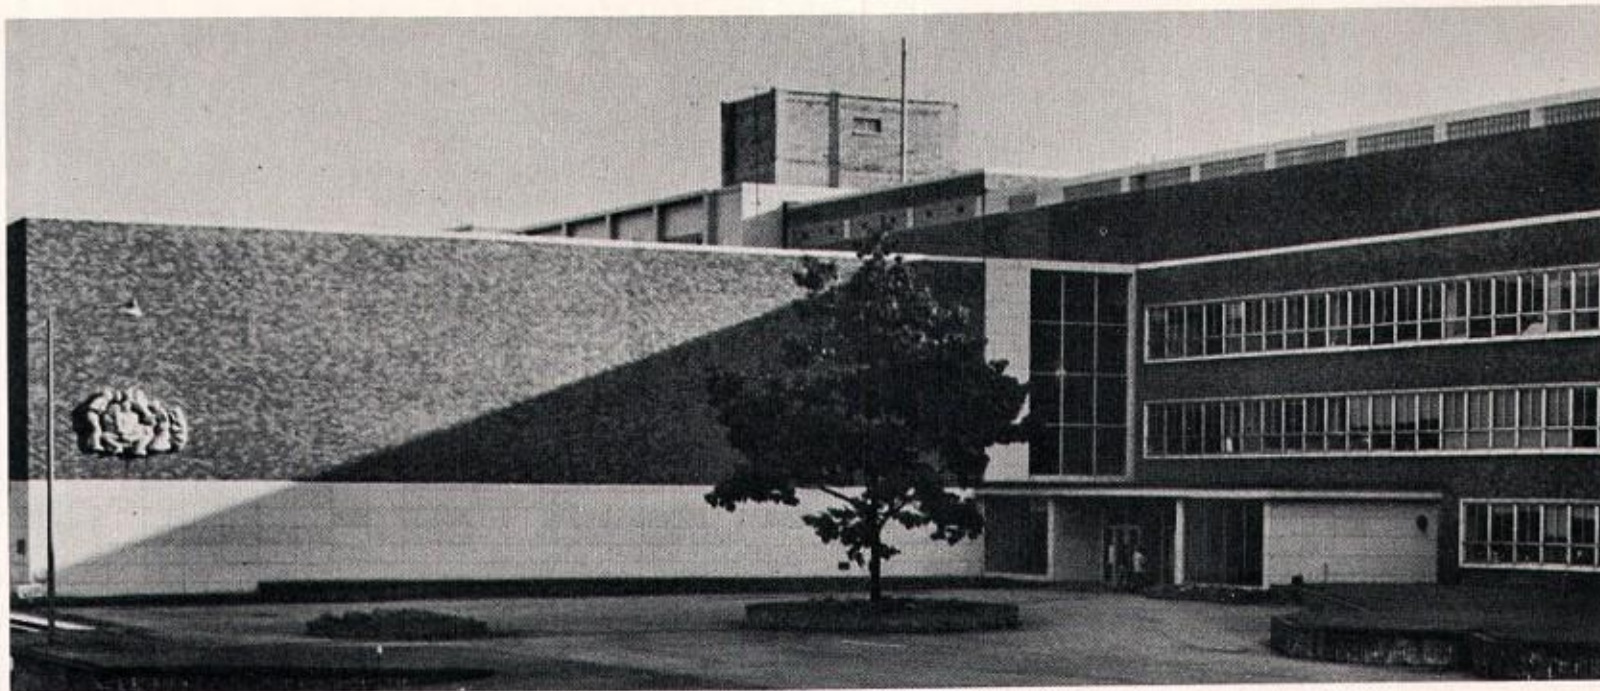

"But one of my friends told me that he was taking some courses from your school, and he's still an undergraduate."

"During an undergraduate's senior year, it is sometimes possible for him to gain librarianship knowledge by taking several introductory courses from the School."

The University Medical School was having an open house. I was interested, so I decided to drop down for an hour or so. I stayed not one but four hours, tramping the halls of the modern Medical-Dental building with increasing fascination.

I discovered that the school not only strives to prepare a selected group of students for the practice of medicine through the best educational techniques in the field, but it attempts to develop continuing educational programs for graduate and postgraduate physicians. It also conducts an active program of research and investigation.

I learned that the University School of Medicine is fully accredited. In addition, it is affiliated with the King County Hospital, United States Public Health Service Hospital, Seattle Veterans' Administration, Children's Orthopedic Hospital, Firland Sanatorium, University of Washington Child Health Center, and state mental hospitals at Sedro Woolley, Medical Lake, and Steilacoom.

DEAN MARY S. TSCHUDIN

"Well, Mary! I didn't even know you were in Seattle. What are you doing now?"

"Hi, Judy, yes, I've been up here for quite a while. I'm studying nursing at the University of Washington."

"Did you know that in 1948 the University of Washington School of Nursing became the fourth school in the country to become accredited by the National League of Nursing Education and the National Organization for Public Health Nursing? The School offers two nursing programs in addition to the Master's Degree program for graduate nurses. The basic nursing research program attempts to prepare a nurse for her professional work as soon as possible, and provision is made so that she can work as a nurse part of the time while she is completing her requirements for a degree. Also there is the basic degree program, which allows for a broad general background in addition to the required scientific courses."

"That really sounds wonderful, Mary. Nursing has certainly become a profession, hasn't it?"

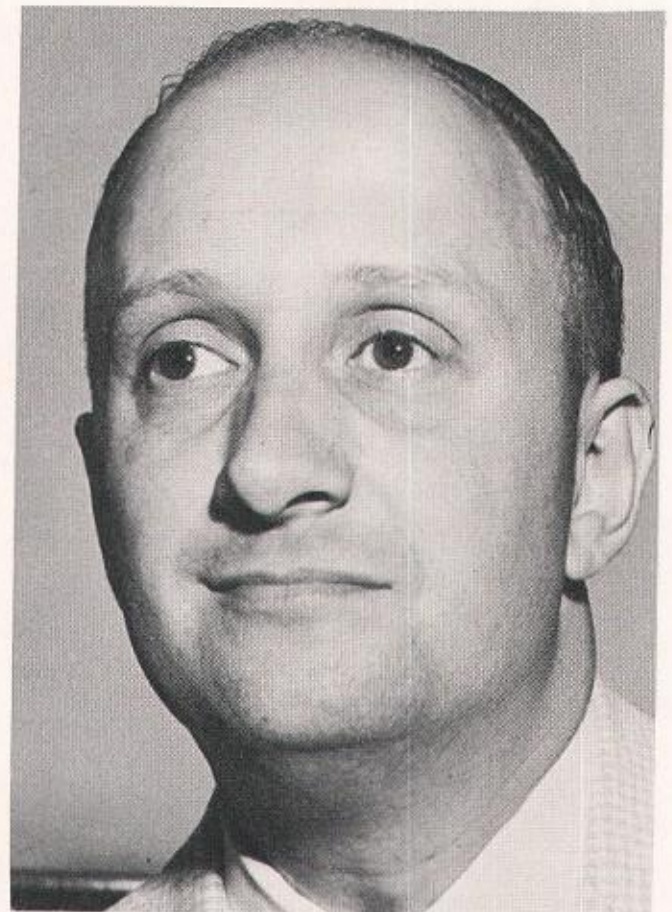

"Yes, it has. Our department is recognized as an independent professional school within the Division of Health Sciences."

"Today, radio listeners, we take you to the University of Washington College of Pharmacy as a part of our series on educational programs in the state of Washington."

"The College of Pharmacy was established in July, 1898, by the Board of Regents of the University. It offers an intensive course of study in the essentials of pharmacy as a profession. The College itself is accredited as a class "A" college by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education."

"Here we are watching a group of students working in a laboratory class making capsules. Adequate facilities are available here to give students practical experience in almost every pharmaceutical preparation."

"The College of Pharmacy also maintains a drug service department, where pharmaceutical preparations are manufactured for the benefit of the Health Center, the Schools of Dentistry and Medicine, and other sections of the University."

aws jean low

Under the leadership of president Jean Low, the Associated Women Students planned activities to give service to the University and community and to provide an opportunity for individual growth of all its members. Three conventions last spring gave the officers many ideas for their program which began with the annual AWS check-in. Important projects for the AWS were working for the Orthopedic Hospital and orphanage and setting standards for the women on campus.

Besides directing AWS activities, Jean was a member of Totem Club, W-Key, Board of Control, and Delta Gamma sorority. Last year she gained first-hand knowledge of AWS as its secretary and as a member of its council.

ams chuck mertel

This year, headed by Chuck Mertel, the Associated Men Students sponsored University Hockey Night, the annual Fist Fest, and an intramural open house. They also added a full-time female secretary to their office staff. Jointly the AMS and AWS conducted a workshop for their chairmen and officers and sponsored the scholarship banquet in December and Parents Weekend this spring.

Like Jean, Chuck learned about the group he heads by being its secretary last year. Besides guiding the activities of the AMS, he turns out for varsity tennis and is a member of Purple Shield, Oval Club, Big W, and Sigma Nu fraternity.

JUDY PETERSEN, although not an AWS officer, has an important job as secretary to the executive board. She is also Panhellenic secretary and last year was secretary to the AWS cabinet and council. Judy is a member of W-Key, Totem Club, and Alpha Phi sorority.

Besides her work as AWS vice president, BEVERLY BULLER has an outstanding record of other campus activities as evidenced by her membership in W-Key, Totem Club, and Mortar Board. She also belongs to Pi Lambda Theta and Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

JUDY ERKEN, as AWS treasurer, guides the AWS financial situation. She is a member of W-Key and Delta Delta Delta sorority.

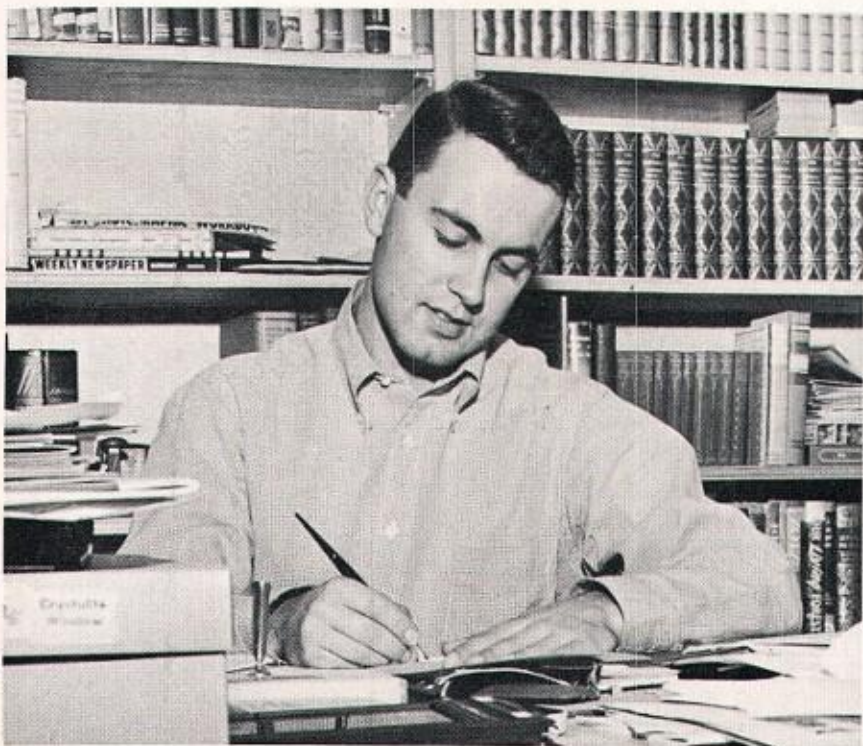

BARBARA BARTROFF, recording secretary, is also a member of W-Key, Sigma Epsilon Sigma, Mu Phi Epsilon, and Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Last year she was AWS activities chairman. On the right is CECILE EVANS, corresponding secretary, who last year advised frosh council and was on the AWS council. Cecile is a member of W-Key and Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

AMS Vice-President DICK DAUBERT finds a new use for the Tye as he ponders new activities for University men. Dick is a member of Oval Club and Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Catching up on the latest doings of the AWS is GORDON RICHARDS, AMS Board Member At Large. He is a member of Bachelors' Club, the Spirits and Traditions Committee and Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

AMS money-keeper DON DAHLGREN also holds the reins for Bachelors' Club. He is a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

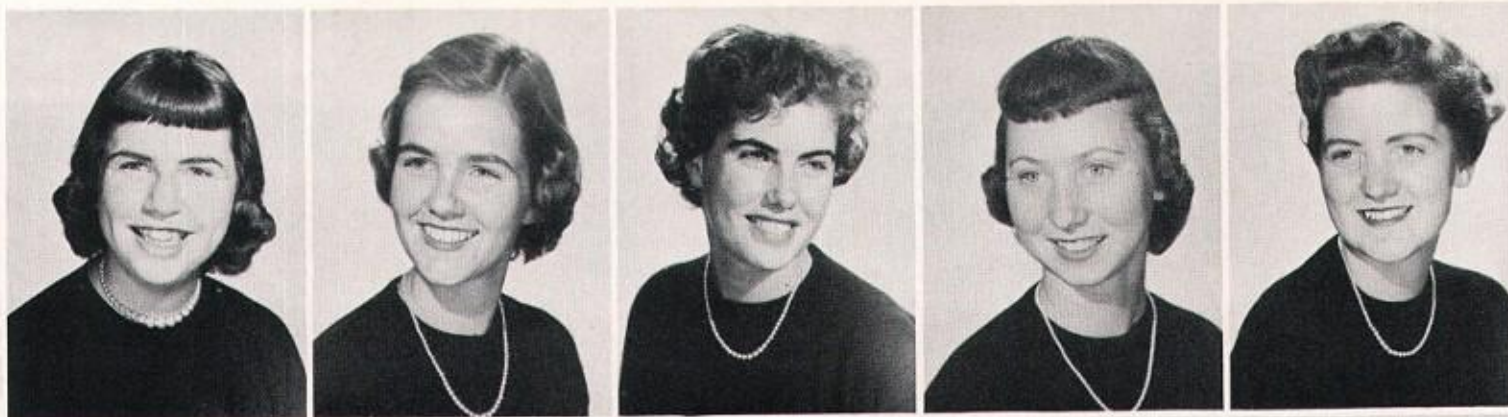

Pictured in their usual haunt are SARA COMINGS, BOB KARR and NANCY RAUH. Sara, AMS secretary-receptionist fall quarter, is chairman of Guppies and a member of W-Key, Rally Girls, Silver Fish and Alpha Phi sorority. Bob is secretary to the AMS Executive Board and a member of Program Panel and Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. Nancy, who took over Sara's duties winter quarter, is active in the YWCA and is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

The mail must go through, and PHIL GALLAHER, AMS secretary, completes his end of the bargain. Phil is a member of Oval Club, Purple Shield, High School Relations Committee and played varsity football. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Garb Day is the biggest Autumn Quarter event in the life of a competition and fun loving forestry student. Behaving in the true spirit of Paul Bunyan, the rugged foresters compete in everything from beard-growing and log-sawing to tree-climbing and tug-of-war. Log rolling, too, is a featured event of Garb Day and this year the lady loggers got a chance to show their remarkable talent at the ancient art. Climaxing the day's numerous competitive events is the famous Loggers' Brawl at which the foresters and their fair ladies gaily dance away the last hours of Garb Day.

Because Garb Day is one of the most colorful student sponsored events on campus it was chosen as one of the featured University of Washington activities to be shown on N.B.C.'s portrayal of the "American Campus" on the Wide Wide World T.V. Show.

Head Coach: DARRELL ROYAL

Husky Coaching Staff

Washington's Huskies playing their first game under Coach Darrell Royal exploded for eight touchdowns as they ran up an impressive 53-21 victory over the Idaho Vandals in a Pacific Coast Conference game at the UW Stadium.

Washington held a 13-0 lead at the quarter and a 34-14 margin at the half. By the end of the third quarter the Huskies increased their lead to 47-21. Washington's left halfback, Luther Carr, rambled around for 99 yards in 11 carries to lead the UW ball packers. Al Ferguson firmly established himself as a field general by snapping off seven straight completed passes until he finally missed and called it a day.

And that's the way the game ended—53-21. But Saturday's inaugural was certainly a tremendous show: eight touchdowns, 613 yards of total offense, Carr's 99 yards, Green's 71 yards, Herring's 62 yards, and Ferguson's 7 for 8 and total offense of 185 yards. That's pretty good even if it was done running against the wind.

huskies 14 gophers 34

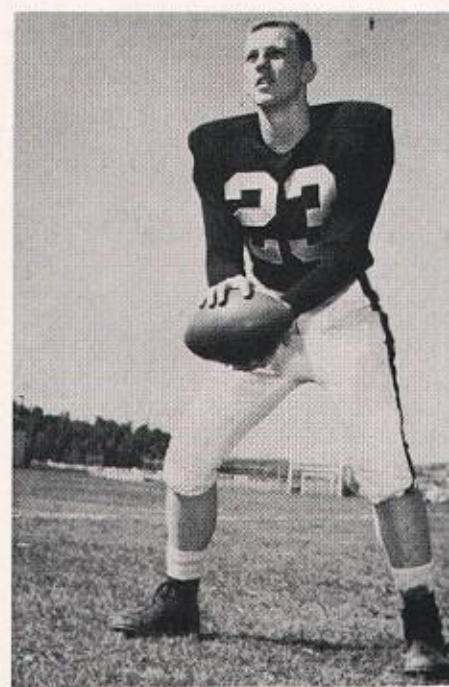

Along about the third quarter, some speculators from Minnesota acquired a piece of real estate bounded, north and south, between two Washington tackles. In a word, the Gophers ripped up the middle of the Husky line, scored their third touchdown, and laid back to accept some assorted gifts in the form of fumbles and foolish passes.

The score, 34-14, as both coaches and players seemed to agree, did not truly reflect the difference in the two teams. But as the losing philosopher of Washington exclaimed, "It's like golf—they don't ask how. They ask how many." Minnesota's coach had praise for the UW tackles and the rest of the team.

Throughout the game, though, the Huskies did produce. McCluskey, Jones and Carr looked great as they blasted the Minnesota tackles for gains of 22, 31 and 10 yards. From the standpoint of entertainment it was a good ball game with plenty of dramatic highlights.

The Huskies, underdogs by two touchdowns, rose up and sent the fighting Illini home with a dulled tomahawk and no scalps.

In the statistics column the Huskies proved that the game wasn't won purely on breaks. Washington gained 316 yards on the ground while Illinois gathered 226, 115 of which were gained in the first quarter. Washington halfback Dean Derby played the best game of his college career. His 92-yard gallop on the second play from scrimmage was the longest jaunt in Washington history. Derby, a senior from Walla Walla, carried the ball 15 times for 147 yards and a 9.8 average.

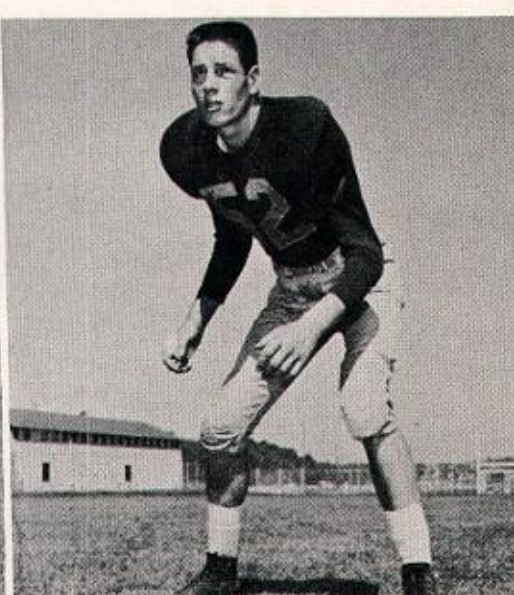

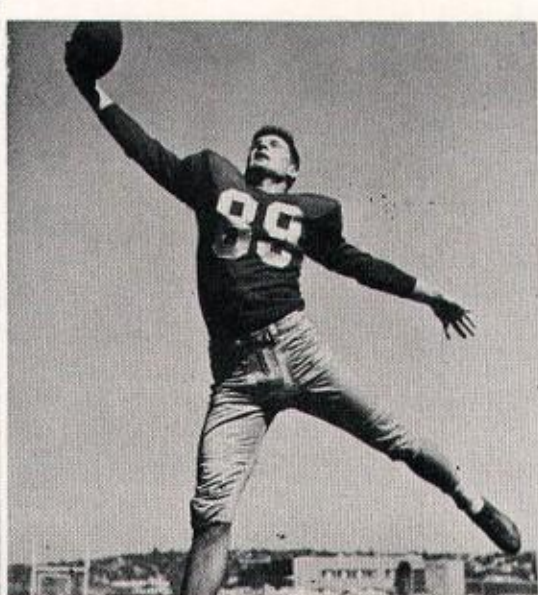

Another Husky halfback, Bob Herring, also proved his ability and his worth as a starter in Darrel Royal's split-T machine. On the Huskies' way to their second touchdown, Herring caught an Al Ferguson pass good for 12 yards and a first down on the Illini 35. Three plays later he turned disaster into joy when he picked up a fumbled pitch-out and raced 10 yards for another first down on the Illinois 22. Washington scored four plays later.

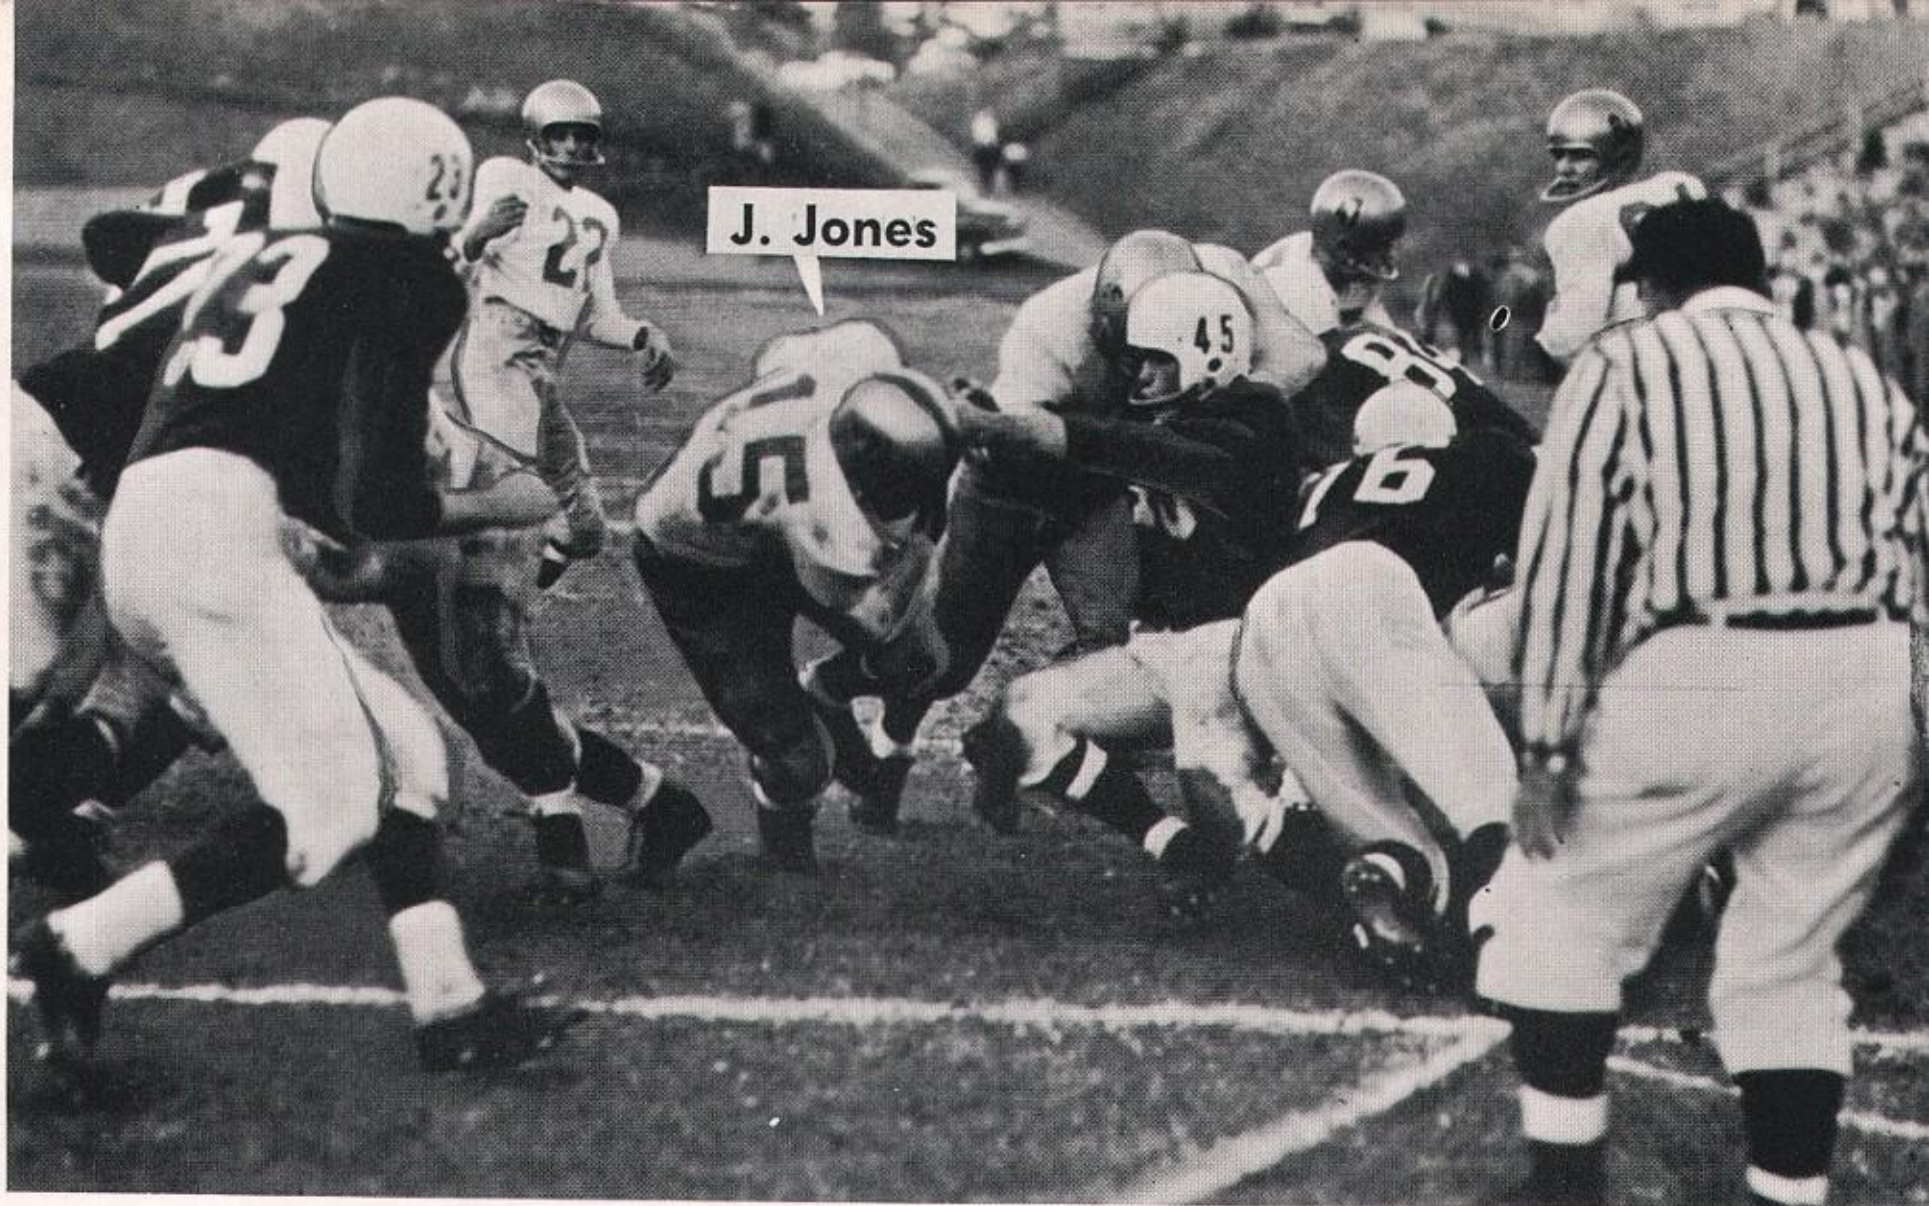

Again in the fourth quarter, Washington scored when Bobby Herring returned a punt to start the drive. Several plays later Herring crashed over to make the touchdown.

Washington's football Huskies filled their game bag with Ducks and kept their conference record unblemished with their win over the Oregon Webfoots.

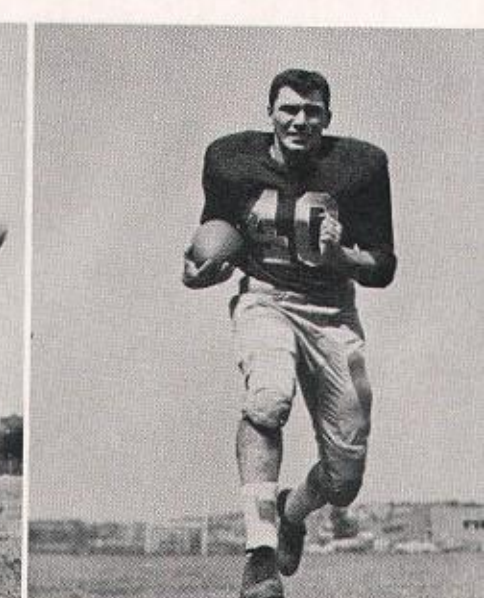

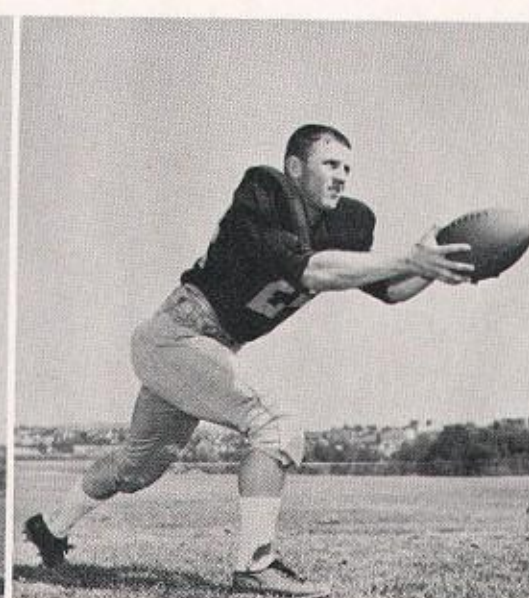

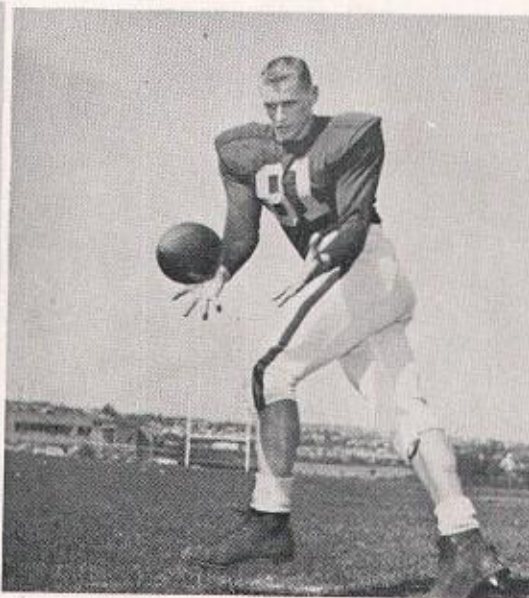

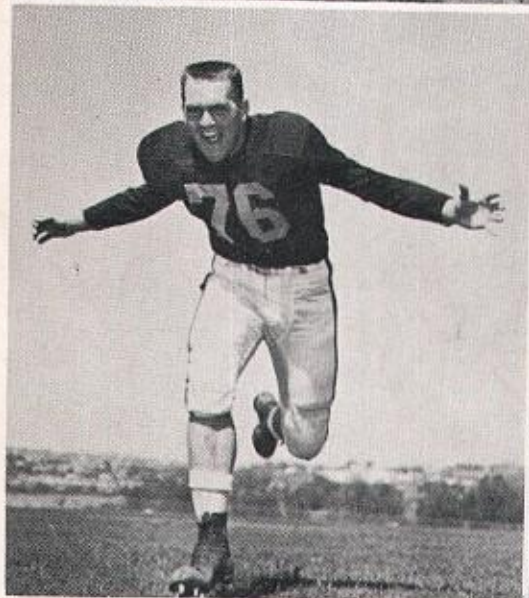

The Huskies proved again that they could move the ball as they gained 252 yards on the ground against an Oregon defense that had previously held the opposition to an average of 180 yards rushing per game.

Fumbles plagued the Ducks continually. In all, Oregon fumbled 7 times, 5 of which were recovered by the Huskies. In the second quarter the Ducks fumbled on their own 33, and Whitey Core grabbed the pigskin and Washington went 32 yards in 9 plays for the second score of the game. After recovering another fumble on the Duck 47, the Huskies scored again in the fourth quarter. Dick Day, Husky left tackle, recovered 3 Oregon fumbles.

The cheers of the small collection of Washington rooters were turned to dismay in a matter of seconds after the game began, but the sun-drenched Huskies held back the Trojan tide during the first half of the game.

Washington's ground attack moved forward until Luther Carr, who averaged 5.16 yards a carry was stopped inches short of a first down on the USC 17. The big touch of life for the Washington cause was Whitey Core's interception of Frank Hall's pass, giving a first down to the Huskies. With the help of Derby, Carr went through left tackle for the touchdown. Then with 12 seconds left in the first quarter Derby kicked the extra point and Washington led 7-0.

But it was a game that blew wide open in the second quarter. After trading the ball back and forth, the Trojans put together a sustained drive. A Washington fumble put the Trojans in scoring territory. U.S.C. led 9-7 as the half-time gun sounded. The Trojans unleashed their full power during the next half. They took advantage of every Husky miscue and we did not stop them until the clock almost ran out. Washington totaled 212 yards and 9 first downs during the game.

Washington's hard-luck Huskies were smothered under an avalanche of their own fumbles for the second straight week as they bowed to the California Bears. In the game one fumble lost the Huskies a score and another gave the Bears a touchdown. The first bad mistake came on the Cal one-yard line after a drive from the midfield strip. Ron Wheatcroft jumped on the ball and the scoring threat was ended. Another costly error came in the fourth quarter when a Husky halfback took a bad handoff and the ball squirted into the air. Cal quarterback Joe Kapp speared the pigskin and ran for 56 yards for a California score.

The U. of W. was a strong defensive ball club against the Bears. The Huskies held Cal to 131 yards on the ground while they were grinding out 251. In the first downs department Cal had 11 and Washington 12. The Royal machine stopped the Bears 12 out of 16 times while the U. of W. was stopped only 7 out of 16.

Ten of Cal's 16 points came on breaks. The 29-yard field goal was booted without the aid of a kicking tee which was lost in the excitement on the Cal bench. The other score was of course the fumble which was intercepted for a T.D. The Huskies have a young team and this is probably some of their trouble. Thirteen of the starting twenty-two are sophomores and with experience they should become less erratic.

The Oregon State Beavers won another step toward the Rose Bowl when the Huskies dropped their third straight loss. Earnel Durden scored three touchdowns to spark the Beavers to their fourth straight win in conference play.

Oregon State started early in the contest as they took the opening kickoff and marched 83 yards in 14 plays. Tom Berry, Beaver fullback, climaxed the drive by plunging over from the one-yard line. Late in the first quarter Talbot George fumbled on the 11-yard line and a second Beaver rally followed. In the second half Washington came back to go 58 yards in 10 plays. Jim Jones made most of the yardage and Jim Thomas went the final eight yards to make the score 14-7.

Midway in the third quarter Oregon State scored again when Durden carried the pigskin from the 27-yard line. The conversion was wide and the score at the end of the quarter showed 21-13 in favor of the Beavers. In the final quarter the Huskies and the Beavers both made touchdowns to make the final score 28-20.

UCLA made good their threat of last year when they stated they would walk over the Huskies. The great Bruin attack made a phenomenal total of 65 yards while Washington made 176 yards to set a school record for yards gained in a single season. The record was made in 1950 when Washington had a season total of 2076 yards for the season. DARREL ROYAL had already bettered this record to 2109 yards with only two more games to play.

At halftime after the Bruins had already gained their distinctive margin of victory the UCLA offensive power gained 24 yards on the ground to the Huskies 102. In the passing department the Bruins completed two for 43 yards while the Huskies completed the same for 57 yards. In game totals the Bruins had 3 of 13 for 53 and Washington had 3 of 11 for 63 yards.

The Bruins proved their ability to move the ball by making 10 first downs. The rain might have hurt the Bruins in the air and on the ground but they were still able to have a good afternoon in the punting department. On one occasion they punted and it landed on the Husky's one foot line. The Huskies can feel quite proud of the 13-9 victory to UCLA.

A smiling California sun turned out to be the only happy Californian around Palo Alto Saturday as the Huskies from the frozen north chilled Stanford's Indians with a 34-13 lesson on how to play football.

After a shaky start Washington's Don McCumby intercepted the ball to score our first Washington touchdown. Dean Derby made it 7-0. Washington started to roll again after the Stanford kick-off with Al Ferguson faking out even the TV camera by throwing a bootleg pass to Luther Carr for 16 yards and a first down. Big Jim Thomas hit the line like a cannon shell taking the ball to the Stanford three. Derby then took it over to make the score 13-7. Mike McCluskey took the ball over center and Derby's kick was good, making the score 20-7 at the half.

Stanford took the kickoff and sparked by passing went 84 yards to close the gap 20-13. However, not for long. Ferguson looped a pass over the head of a lagging linebacker to Carr who took it across to score. In the last quarter after a drive to the Stanford 17, Washington gave Dick Peyseno the ball and he romped 14 yards. Green carried it over on the next play for the last touchdown of the game. The final score read Washington 34—Stanford 13. The Huskies could do no wrong Saturday, as they put together what was probably one of their best games this season.

Washington's split-T Huskies scored two quick touchdowns, then went on to beat Washington State in their final football battle of the 1956 campaign. The Huskies scored the first time they got their hands on the ball. Mike McClusky, sophomore halfback, made the first tally. Seconds later Bruce Claridge pounced on a WSC fumble in the enemies' end zone to score again.

The Cougar forward wall and the WSC fans were completely fooled when Al Ferguson faked to Jim Jones and handed off to Dean Derby. WSC fans cheered wildly when Jones was stopped cold, but were less happy when Derby ended up in the end zone with the ball. WSC's only first half score was obtained in the second quarter on an aerial from Bunny Aldrich to Bill Steiger.

The Huskies increased the score to 34-6 in the third quarter with Derby and Dick Payseno picking up the final yardage. Derby scored a total of 16 points during the day to take scoring honors in the PCC for the 1956 season. The Cougars came to life in the fourth period and scored three times. The Huskies' final score came in the fourth quarter, bringing the final total to 40-26 in favor of Washington.

Another year, and another successful program of activity was enjoyed by the women students of the U. of W. who participated in the sports offered by the Department of Physical Education. The department, under the capable direction of Ruth Wilson, offers a wide variety of intramurals and Sports Days to those interested.

Skiing, one of the most popular sports at Washington, found the Women's Ski Team at Mt. Baker, where they placed third in the Northwestern Ski Competition. Alpha Gamma Delta placed first in intramurals during the Husky Winter Sports Carnival.

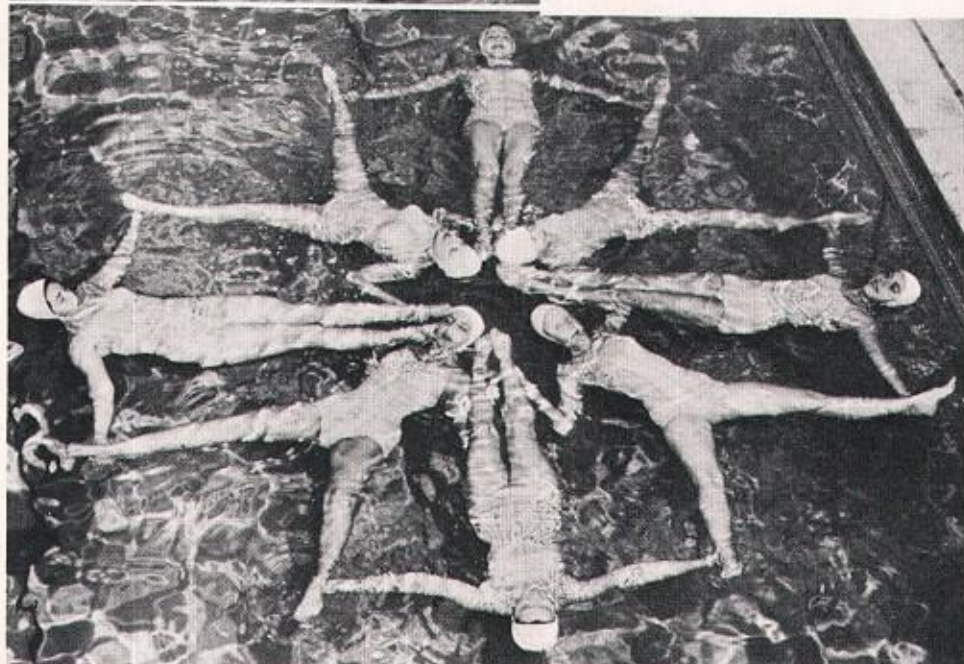

Sports Days which include everything from the intercollegiate tennis matches to the invitational hockey meet are regular events. The honorary for women who have been active in sports and have maintained a high scholastic rating is W Club.

Modern dance is represented by Orchesis, which is under the direction of Mrs. DeVries. Several performances are presented by this group during the year. Silver Fish, famous for their yearly swim show, is the swimming honorary that works in conjunction with the men's Husky Swim Club. Many other activities such as Promenaders are available to the students. This group is made up of students interested in square dancing.

The excellent supervision of activities and the students' response have helped make the Department of Physical Education at the U. of W. one of the most outstanding in the country.

The Washington Huskies opened the season with a loss to Brigham Young in a non-Conference game. Washington's one-two punch, Bruno Boin and Doug Smart, led the Washington scoring that night which became a regular habit throughout the season. The Huskies next stand was a two game series against Oklahoma A&M. The Huskies split the series losing Friday night, 70 to 43 and finally finding the basket Saturday night to beat the Aggies 49 to 44.

The Huskies returned home for a two game stand against the powerful Kansas University five. Kansas, who later became the number two team in the nation, plus Wilt Chamberlain proved too much for the scrapping Huskies and the Jayhawks won 77 to 63 and 92 to 78. The Golden Buffs from the University of Colorado came to town next to split the two game series with the Huskies 65 to 53 and 55 to 69. This wound up the Huskies' preseason play and left the young Husky team with a record of two wins and five losses.

Washington made it two straight from Southern California with a 76 to 72 win Friday night and a 80 to 78 win Saturday night. Saturday night Washington led throughout until the last few minutes, when the Trojans spurted, caught the Huskies and finally went ahead, 78 to 77. Pariseau then connected to put the Huskies back on top, 79 to 78, and with only seconds remaining he was fouled and made one shot of two.

Washington gained possession of the ball on the rebound of the second shot and the gun fired in an instant.

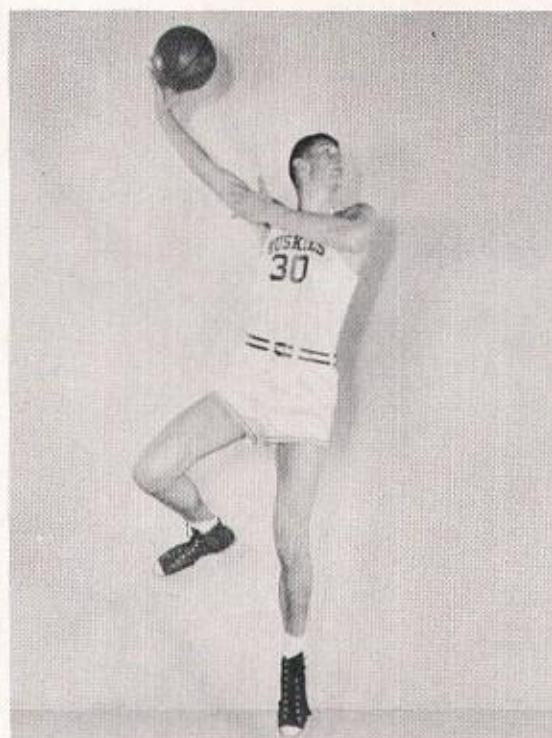

The Trojans assigned rangy Phil Dye to guarding Washington's hook shot artist, Bruno Boin, who scored 29 points Friday night. Even with Phil Dye guarding Boin Saturday night he scored 18 points.

Washington's shooting average from the field was 48 per cent and the Huskies made good on 20 of 33 free throw tries for 61 per cent.

Washington gained an even split with Stanford in their two-game basketball series by winning Saturday night, 68 to 64. Friday night's action saw Stanford the victor, 70 to 63.

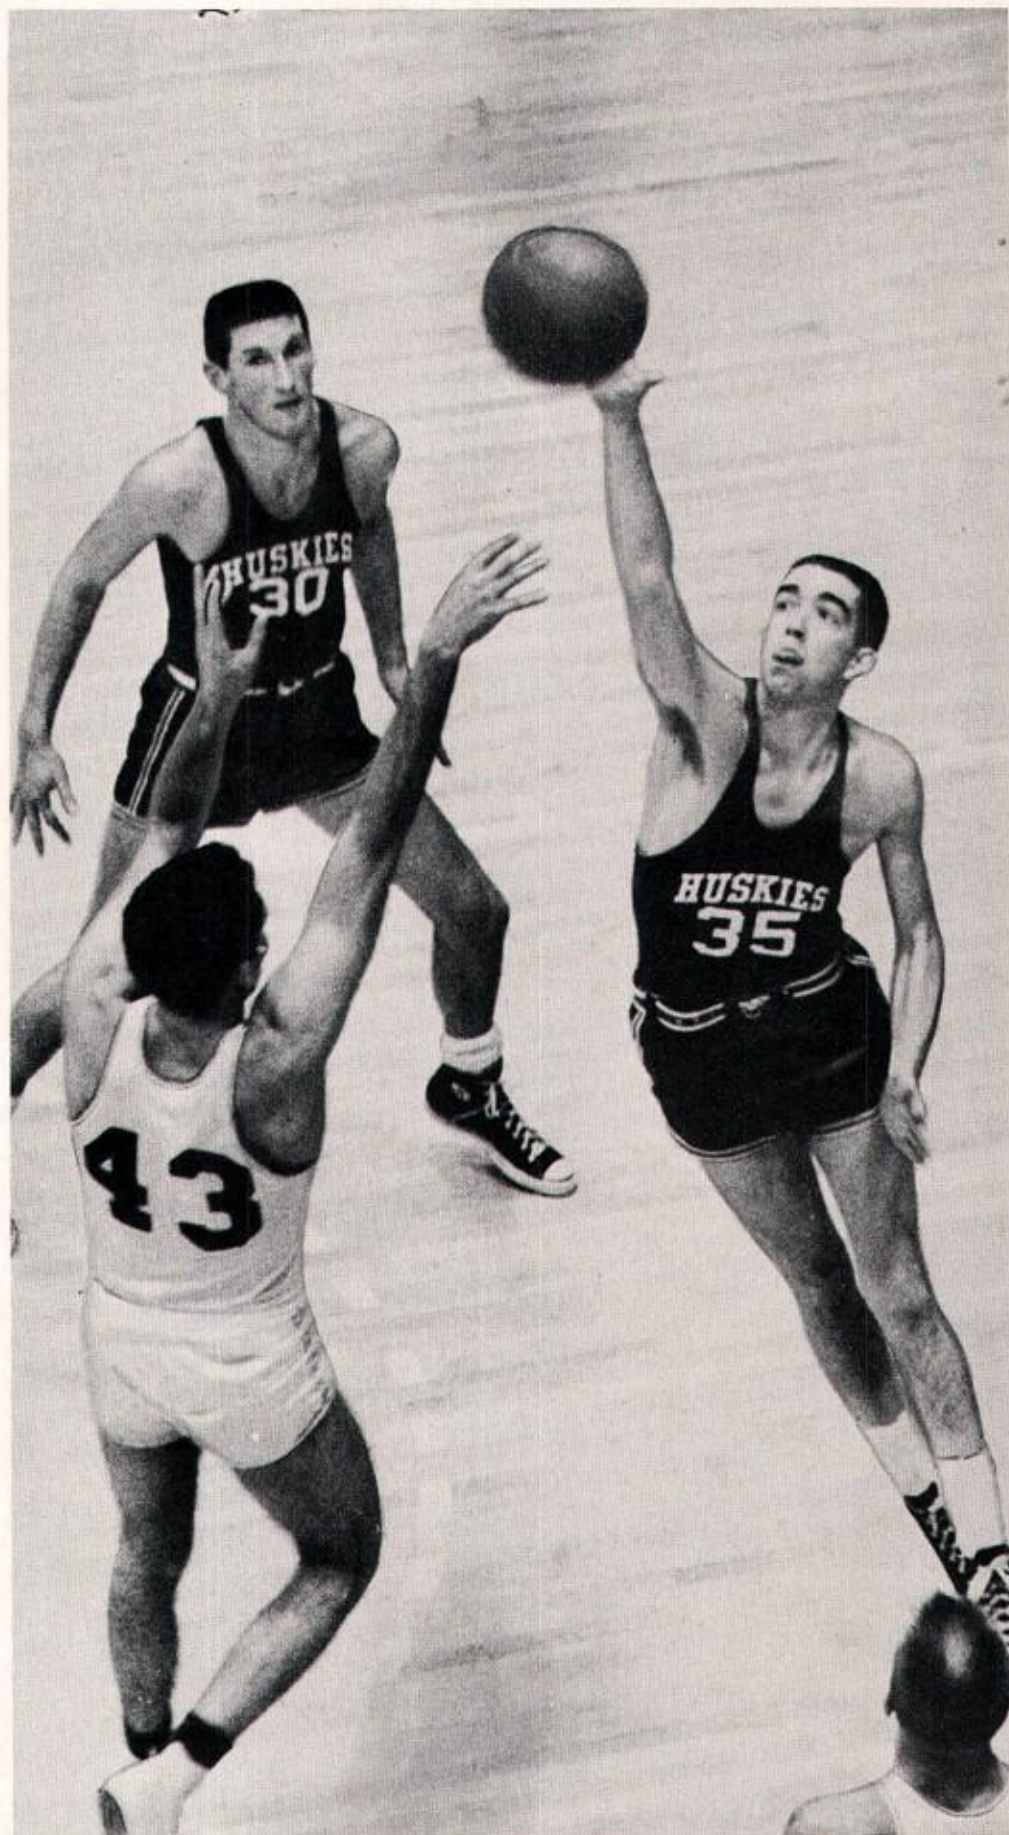

Saturday night Coach Tippy Dye's Northerners overcame a battling Stanford defense in the late stages.

At the half, Washington led 33 to 31.

The Huskies shot ahead 48 to 37, but Bill Bond led an Indian uprising which tied the score at 58 with five minutes remaining.

The Stanford pavilion was wild when John Pflueger and Carl Isaacs put the Tribe ahead, 62 to 58. However, Bruno Boin hit a field goal and John Tuft made two free throws for the U. W.

Then both teams matched field goals and it was 64-all. After a furious battle for the ball, forward Bill Stady put the Huskies ahead 66 to 64 with 55 seconds left.

Washington's Huskies twisted a tight clamp on the Idaho Vandals Saturday night with a 71 to 49 victory. It was the Huskies second win in two nights over the Vandals. Friday night's score was 77 to 58 in favor of the UW.

In Saturday's action Idaho led just twice when the game was very young. Jerry Jorgenson, who topped the visiting Vandals with 13 points, hit the opening basket after a fumbly two minutes. Washington tied it up at 2-2 and Gary McEwen connected for Idaho to make it 4-2 and that was the last time the Idahoans saw the top of the scoring column.

Bruno Boin hit two free throws for Washington, John Tuft poured home a long one-hander and Washington was off and running. Idaho puzzled the Huskies at first with a tight zone defense but excellent shooting solved that problem and by halftime Washington was in front, 34 to 19.

Washington came with a rush at the finish Saturday night to score 13 points in a single string and whip Oregon State for the second night in a row, 58 to 51. The Huskies won Friday night, 64 to 51.

The teams started slowly and Washington was in front, 21 to 20, at halftime after the lead had changed six times. They swapped the advantage four times in the second half before Washington took the lead for keeps with six minutes left to play. Doug Smart was leading scorer for the Huskies with 20 points.

After losing a close one the first night, 68 to 65, the hot-shooting Huskies knocked off U.C.L.A. with a 90 to 74 victory to end the Bruins' long winning streak.

Washington had a direct line to the target Saturday night, hitting more than half their shots from the field for a percentage of .526. After losing a close one the first night, 68 to 65, the hot-shooting Huskies knocked off U.C.L.A. with a 90 to 74 victory to end the Bruins' long winning streak.

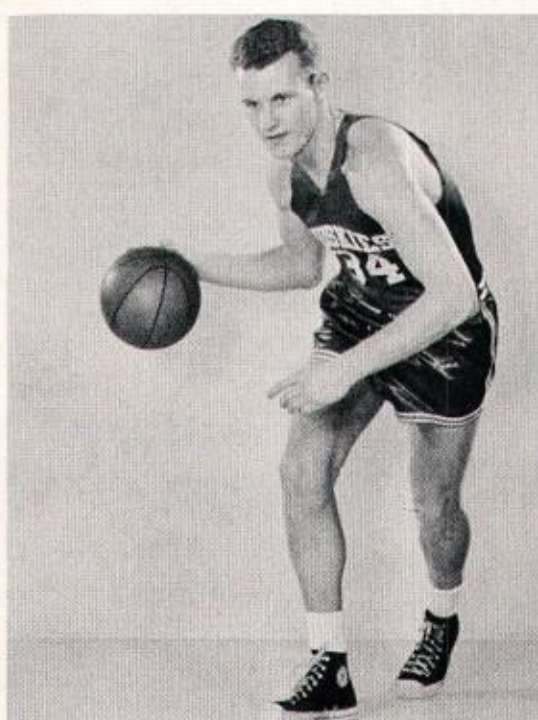

Washington had a direct line to the target Saturday night, hitting more than half their shots from the field for a .526 percentage. The Bruins got away in front on two free throws by Conrad Burke but the Huskies quickly tied it up, went ahead, 4 to 2, and never again let the Uclans develop a serious threat. Washington went to intermission with a 43 to 32 advantage, spread that gap of 15 points early in the second session and never let the Bruins get closer than 10 points for the rest of the route.

The outside shooting of guard Johnny Tuft and the rebounding and hook shooting of Doug Smart kept the Bruins well in control. Smart garnered 31 points; Tuft 21. Bruno Boin was third man on the scoring totem with 17.

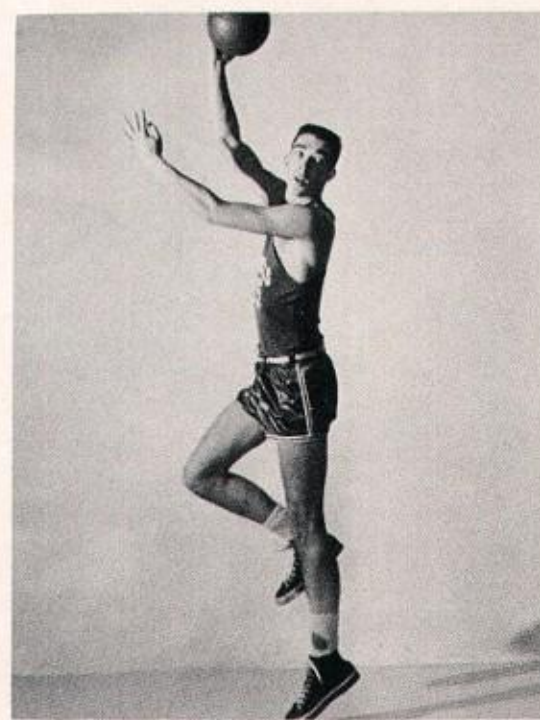

The upset of the nation's fifth-ranked team was the first U.C.L.A. loss of the season and knocked them out of first place in the conference.

After beating Oregon, 84 to 62, Friday night, Washington had to battle through an overtime to be on top of a 65 to 63 score Saturday night.

Charley Franklin, in Saturday's action, nearly tipped over Washington with a late scoring spree, but field goals by center Bruno Boin and guard Dick Crews and two free throws by guard Don Borland pulled Washington through in the overtime. After Boin, who tallied 22 points, sank a close-in shot in the overtime period, Franklin came back to knot it at 61 to 61. Then Crews faked his way under the basket and put Washington ahead, 63 to 61. A minute later Dorland added his free throws for a 65 to 61 lead with only a minute remaining. Oregon could manage only a field goal by center Paul Tucharth just before time ran out.

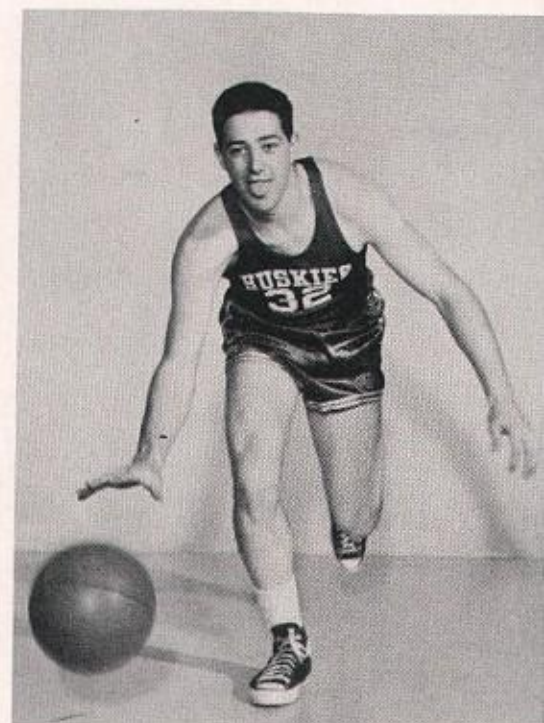

The game was close throughout. The score was tied 10 times and the advantage changed on 14 other occasions. Washington managed a 30 to 28 halftime margin, and was in front 52 to 45 with 3:53 minutes to go. Then Franklin led the late rally.

California's Bears came boiling back from a Friday night defeat, 70 to 57, to trounce Washington, 72 to 62, in the Huskies' final Pacific Coast Conference home basketball game of the season.

With its full court press working to perfection, California reversed the trend of Friday's game to take an early lead and dominate the contest all the way. The count was tied twice in the early going and Washington took a short-lived lead, its only one of the game, at 6 to 4 after three and a half minutes.

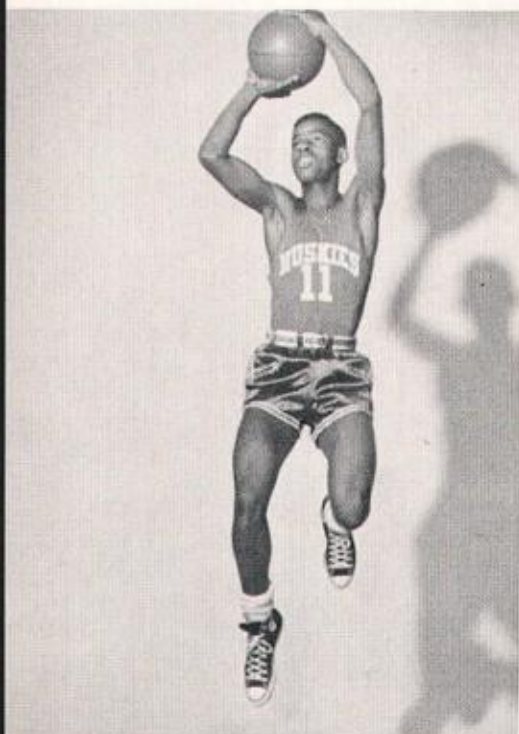

The Huskies' two big scoring stars who killed the Bears Friday night, Doug Smart and Bruno Boin, were squeezed off the boards and bottled up in the first half Saturday night. Smart found the range in the second half and led all scorers with 22 points.

Doug Smart and Bruno Boin combined for 47 points Saturday night in leading Washington to a 76 to 66 win over W.S.C. Friday nights score was 73 to 72 with Washington on top.

The early action was close. Smart hit 20 points in the first half, for two-thirds of the Washington team total. Olson was the offensive show for the Cougars, getting 10 points before intermission. Bill Stady sparked Washington to a seven-point lead at 28 to 21, with less than five minutes left in the first half. Then Olson and Galbraith combined to trim the margin and Washington went out at intermission leading 34 to 31.

Washington caught fire just after intermission and broke open a tight game by moving out to a 21-point lead at 58 to 37. The Huskies coasted on to victory as W.S.C. never again threatened. Smart hit 26 points and Boin had 21.

Coach Bill Morris' University of Washington freshman basketball team finished their season with a record of 14 wins and 1 loss, which is the best freshman record since 1950. The Pups' one loss was to the Seattle University Papooses in the next to last game of the season. Earlier in the year Washington had defeated the Papooses by 19 points. The Pups were paced all season by the scoring of their three inside men, Ron Crowe, Earle Irvine, and Al Murphy, and the smooth floorwork of guards George Grant and Bob Johnson. Other Pups who played outstanding ball were Maris Abolins, Dan Brotherton and Keith Grisim. Irvine broke both the total season and individual game scoring records by scoring 318 points during the season, and 39 points against Sand Point Naval Air Station. Irvine's performance against Sand Point broke the record set by teammate Murphy. Murphy scored 38 points against Grays Harbor JC earlier in the season. Several members of the squad are considered to be top Husky varsity prospects.

Jack Torney's University of Washington Husky Swim Team had a good season defeating all opponents except the powerful Oregon State Beavers, and finishing second on the Northern Division standings. The first team to fall before the Huskies was Western Washington College of Education which the Huskies swamped 72-12. Emory Bundy turned in an outstanding performance by winning the 50-yard free style, and the 100-yard free style as well as being anchor man on the winning 400-yard free style relay.

The next meet against Oregon State saw Washington suffer its only defeat, losing 34-52. The Huskies, swimming this meet before a capacity crowd, provided the thriller of the season. Washington won eight individual events but failed to take any second places. As a result the second place column told the story in OSC's win. Bundy won the 100 and 220 free styles for Washington while Phil Drips and Tom Ward won the 220 butterfly and the diving competition, respectively. Dick Jack tied his own ND record in winning the 200-yard breast stroke with a time of 2:32.2.

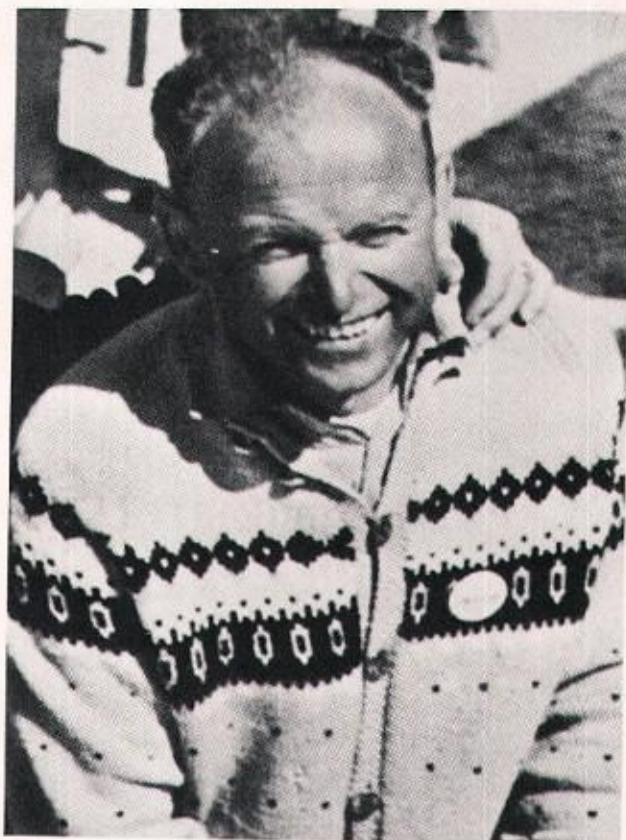

The Idaho and Washington State meets showed the great depth and versatility of the Huskies. The Tankmen sank the Vandals 61-25 and swept over Washington State 70-15. Bundy, Jack, Drips and Ward showed well in these events.

Washington finished off the season by taking another meet from WWCE, 60-24, and beating UBC twice, 45-40 and 58-57. The Huskies placed second in the Northern Division meet with a score of 99.

The Washington Frosh had a very successful season winning all but two of their meets. The winning meet scores were as follows: Frosh 50, East High 17; Mount Vernon 54-23, UBC 47-38, Bellingham 58-19, Seattle YMCA 44-32, Everett 39-38, Stadium 43-34, Longview 41-36, Fairchild 47-39, Stadium 46-31, Mount Vernon 44-32, Seattle YMCA 49-29.

Coach KARL STENGEL has helped the Huskies bring glory of winning ski teams to Washington for several years and has shown what a great coach he is. Coach Stengel is probably the only skier-coach in Washington's history that knows what wax to use and when to use that wax for a faster time.

Washington, having a new team with the exception of two lettermen, started the season slowly. In their first meet, they more or less felt themselves out and showed up in fifth place at Rossland. In the next meet at Wenatchee, the Huskies placed second. At Banff, they placed fourth from a total of ten schools. Because of the lack of skiers in jumping, Washington fell down as a team when the combination of the four events was figured. After their good showing in Banff they placed third out of 12 schools in the Reno Bowl in Nevada. At this meet some of the best intercollegiate teams in the United States competed and the Huskies showed their strength in comparison. Washington finished the season at Stevens Pass by winning fourth place.

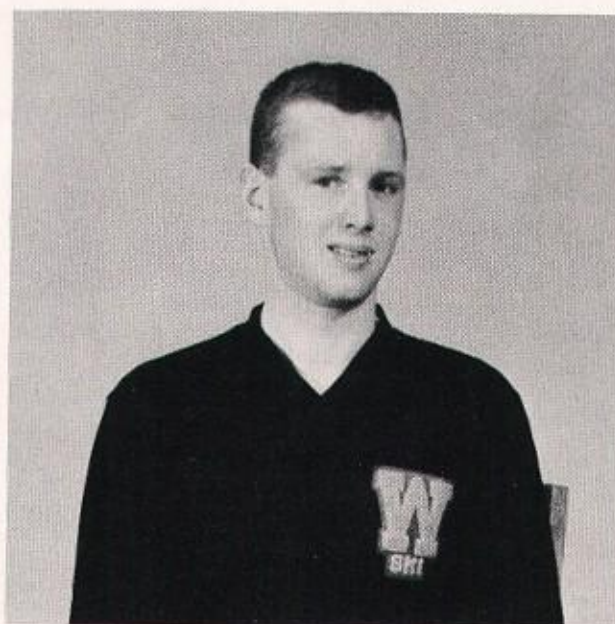

Through the season Gunnar Germundson, a returning letterman, made a terrific showing in the Nordic event, which includes jumping and cross country, to help the Huskies compile points for the four-way combination. Ben Grevstad, the other letterman, showed great team effort by being the only four-way man on the Husky team. Ben was picked by the Times as being the most valuable skier on the Husky team.

Because of the stand of the N.C.A.A., the Washington Huskies were unable to race in the N.C.A.A. nationals to show more of their strength as a team in real relation to the rest of the schools in the country.

baccalaureate honors

Baccalaureate honors are based on the entire scholastic record of the graduate. The distinction of summa cum laude signifies a minimum grade-point average of 3.90, magna cum laude an average of 3.60, and cum laude an average of 3.35. These honors are awarded to those who have completed not less than ninety credits at this institution, together with a record of distinction at institutions previously attended. In computing honors, an "A" carries four grade points, "B" three, "C" two, and "D" one.

undergraduate honors

The undergraduate honors are compiled of those students whose names have appeared on two or more of the quarterly scholarship lists of the preceding year at the University, as well as two-thirds of all quarters here. Transfers appearing on those lists are those who entered with averages approximately equivalent to those of the students who have attended only the University of Washington.

SPRING SPORTS

big w winners

DOUG LUSHER

BUD CONDON

FLOYD BARKER

The Husky sweepsmen opened their season by dusting off Stanford on Lake Washington 14:26 to 14:34.5 in the Varsity three mile, 14:25.4 to 14:50.5 in the JV three mile, and 10:46.8 to 11:16 in the Frosh two mile contest. One week later, California was mopped up in three similar trips over the California course with times of 14:47 to 15:07 for Varsity, 15:04 to 15:15 for JV, and 10:01 to 10:14.5 for the Frosh. These clean sweeps in two regattas showed that the power of Washington combined with the knowledge of mentor Al Ulbrickson might be a real threat in the Olympic Trials.

On May 28th, the Varsity rowed one of the most ideal two thousand meters ever raced over the black bottom channel. Their opposition was the University of British Columbia, who had won the Canadian National Games and later placed second to the winners of the Olympic crew title. As the race started, favored UBC took an early lead and gained the psychological advantage over following boats that generally goes with being ahead in a race of this sport. It is very seldom that a crew can pull itself together in the middle of a race and row harder, yet more smoothly, while its members know the other boat has left them behind. In this situation, even a well trained crew tends to get excited and each man tries to catch the leading boat by himself when he forgets the most important principle in rowing, everyone in the boat must row together as a team or that boat will not run as it should.

In spite of circumstances, the Washington Varsity united in an unspoken effort to draw even with and then pass UBC as if there was no such thing as conserving one's energy for the final sprint. Yet Washington put out even more on the sprint to finish ahead of the favorite with 6:02.6 to 6:07.8.

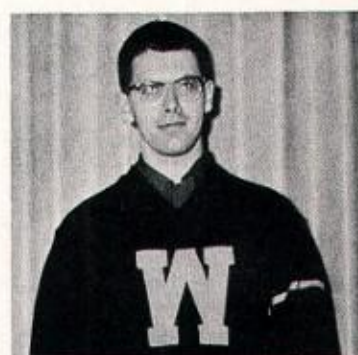

After this Varsity triumph, the JV's demonstrated their greatness by racing three miles in suffocating heat to win the National Intercollegiate JV title with 17:01.5. Neither the Varsity nor the Freshman won in this regatta, and there were no Husky winners in the following Olympic Trials, but in every contest you may be sure that Washington oarsmen strove to win in a manner befitting zealous competitors.

One of the best performances of the year was done by NED INGHAM, FRED STOLL, RON WAILES, DOUG LUSHER, DON VORIS, DAVE PURNELL, BOB THORSTENSON, LOU GELLERMAN, and PAUL ANDONIAN as they win over UBC and the JV boat.

The Varsity crew lengthens its lead part way through the three-mile race on Lake Washington and continues to look back for Stanford as the Huskies finish way ahead at the Seward Park line.

The Lightweight crew provides an opportunity to row for anyone who is too light or too short for Varsity competition. This year their program included three races. The first took place at Vancouver against the VBC JV's, the second race was here against second and third Freshman boats in the Class Day races, and the third was with Oregon on the Willamette River. Although the Lightweights do not enjoy as much publicity as the Varsity turnout, they do have all the pleasures of organized rowing.

LIGHTWEIGHT WINNERS:

AL ULBRICKSON talking about what interests crewmen most, the lineups for the coming race.

After eight months of arduous training these men become worthy of the privilege to say, "I rowed for the University of Washington."

Head manager DICK EVANS

Frosh manager LOYAL SNIDER, Senior Frosh manager JACK SJOLSETH, and Sophomore manager HAROLD PEBBLES are devoted to Crew and work unheralded throughout the year.

A crewman begins his career in a barge which is much more stable and sturdy than a racing shell.

The next step up is into the third boat, then to the second Frosh boat represented here by BOB HUMPHREYS, TOM CURRAN, JOHN SELLS, and RON JENSEN kidding DAVID STEINER.

JV letterwinners JOHN BISSET, JIM DAVIS, FRANK McKEOWN; and Frosh Numeral Winners JOHN MOORE, DENIS PISTORESI, DAVE BALLAINE, JOHN CRITCHLOW, BOB ENGEL, JOHN MATHEY were not pictured.

The University of Washington tracksters after getting off to a fast start hit a mid-season slump and never did make their way out. Lack of experience and depth and injuries tended to make the season just a mediocre one. Bob Leadbetter, leading sprinter and hurdles man, was lost to the squad early in the season due to leg injury. Dean Singer, Junior hurdles and high jump man, stepped in and filled the bill well, losing only one race all year. Jim Hilton in the pole vault, Larry Pulford in the shot put and discus, were constantly pulling in their share of first place awards. Dean Derby also was one of the leading winners on the squad until he left to turn out for spring football practice. At Eugene, Oregon, the Huskies came in 2nd, in the Northern Division Track Championship, for the 4th year in a row. Jim Hilton became a three-time winner as he pole vaulted 13' 10" to win the Northern Division Championship. Dean Singer placed first in the 120-yd. high hurdles in 15 seconds flat, 2nd in the low hurdles and tied with Bob Bryan in the high jump. In the discus, Washington's Larry Pulford took first, and in the shot put placed third.

COACH WINDY LANGLEIE

DOYLE PERKINS

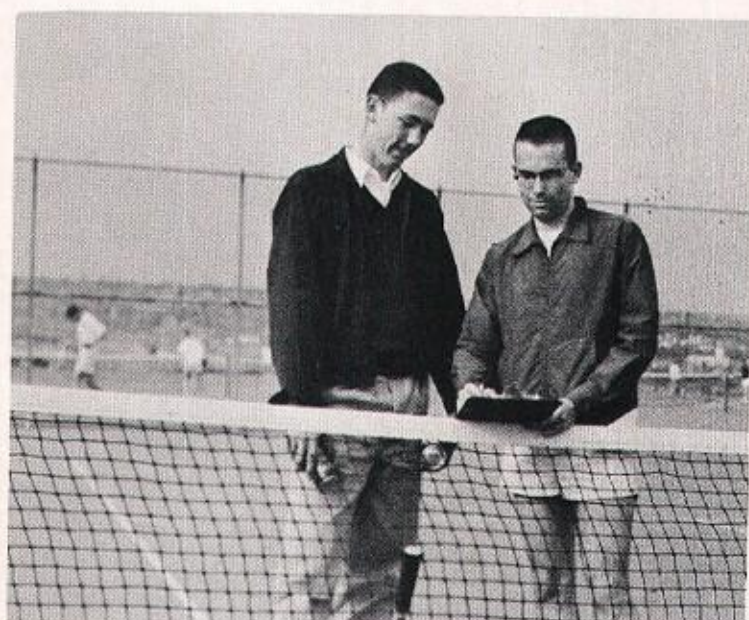

Led by Senior captain and number one man Doyle Perkins, the University of Washington tennis team continued its winning ways this year to take the Northern Division Championship once again.

It proved to be a repeat performance of previous seasons as the netmen overwhelmed their opponents. Idaho, Washington State College and the University of Oregon all fell by identical lop-sided scores of 7-0 and Oregon State College was defeated 6-1 to run the Washington winning streak to 71 straight. The last Husky team to drop a conference match was in 1937.

This year's racketeers won not only the duel competition but also the team championship. In addition, Perkins won the Northern Division singles title and then teamed with Gary Linden to capture the doubles also. In doing so, they had to beat the second Washington team of Chuck Mertel and Bill Jacobsen who had also reached the finals.

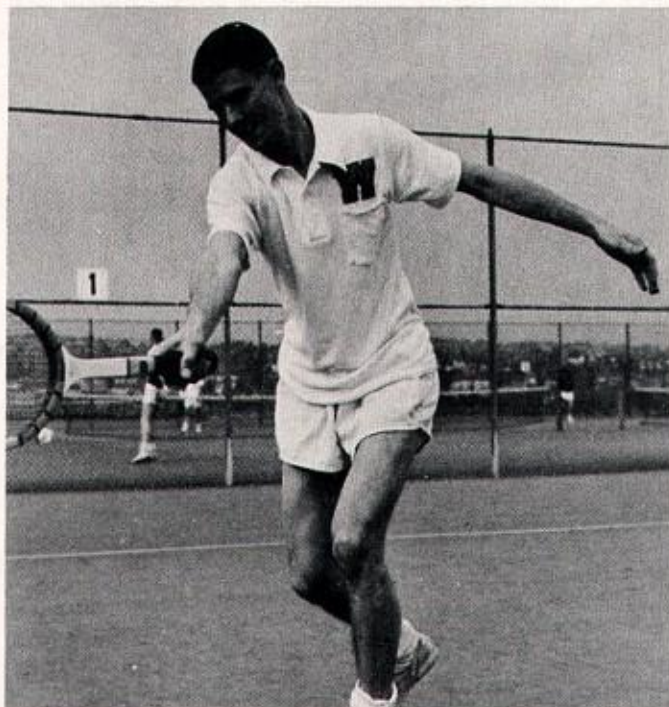

Next year's team will be bolstered by several promising freshmen plus Don Flye, a former Husky and ex-serviceman, who is returning for his final year of competition. And so once again it appears that Coach Langlie can look forward to many more tennis triumphs for his Washington team.

The University of Washington varsity golf team turned in another very successful year, winning seven matches, losing only one, with one tie. In pre-season meets, the Huskies lost their first outing to Seattle University, but came roaring back to hand the College of Puget Sound a pair of defeats. They then scored single victories over the University of British Columbia and the Seattle Golf Club.

With Len Perry and Wimpy Sargent pacing the squad, Washington opened Northern Division play, in defense of their championship, against Oregon and came out of the contest with a 13½-13½ tie. From here on out, though, the Purple and Gold was unbeatable as they mowed down their traditional rivals. They beat Idaho $19\frac{1}{2}$ - $7\frac{1}{2}$ and then O.S.C. and Washington State by identical lop-sided scores of $22\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$ to finish the Northern Division season undefeated.

Along with Perry and Sargent, Bob Marlowe, Al Newman, John Williams and Gary Coleman also turned in fine performances. With new members coming up from the frosh team and returning lettermen, Washington tennis coach Bill Jefferson can look forward to some great golfing next season and in years to come.

1956 baseball

Coach Joe Budnick, in his first year, showed great promise for the University of Washington by having his team place fourth in final Northern Division standings. Coach Budnick believes that the Washington baseball team will have the best record on the Coast next year. He will have a large number of returning lettermen to complete his roster for the coming year.

The Husky baseballers ended their 1956 campaign with a 5-9 win-loss record. The scores throughout the season included a double win by Seattle U. of 8-4 and 6-5 and another defeat at the hands of Oregon State 16-15. The following day the Huskies returned to win 9-5. Washington State College played the Huskies on four days, winning all the games with scores of 7-3 and 18-1 for the first series, 8-7 and 9-2 for the second series. After this they played Idaho and won 6-1. The Huskies ended their season by defeating the University of Oregon 11-8 and 9-8 on Graves Field.

Jack Brady was one of the most outstanding members of the team. The muscular catcher batted .429 and also led the club in runs (14), hits (21) and doubles (4). John Zaepfel trailed Brady with a .270. Jack Ballard, another catcher, fell off to a .255 this year, but led the team in runs batted in with 15, home runs with 2, and triples with 2. Kay Jones and Ed Lajala each posted a 1-1 record on the mound, and Jones maintained a 1.69 earned-run average over 16 innings. Bob Reimer was the workhorse as he chucked 36 innings and faced 154 batters.

Panhellenic is the coordinating body of the sorority system. Its members are the twenty house presidents and six officers. The Panhellenic year begins with the annual Training Conference held during Spring Vacation at the Empress Hotel in Victoria, B.C. Presidents of Panhellenics from other Northwest colleges and universities, presidents of AWS, YWCA, Phrateres, and the Women's Dorms, and all the incoming Panhellenic officers and Sorority presidents on our campus attend this conference. Here, they propose policies for the coming year, exchange many valuable ideas, and also have a lot of fun. In between meetings the girls can be seen shopping and sight-seeing, while happily munching English toffee.

Besides the monthly dinner meetings held at the sororities on a rotation basis, the Round Robin dinners, and Inspiration Week, Panhellenic also sponsors a tuition scholarship for a woman student. Its primary activity, however, is the Rushing program prior to fall quarter. During these ten days of organized confusion, the sororities entertain nearly 600 girls.

Junior Panhellenic is composed of presidents or representatives from each sorority pledge class. The group meets once a month to orient the freshmen into the Panhellenic system, to discuss problems of sorority pledgship, and to become better acquainted with other pledges.

The main activity of the year is a fund-raising project. The proceeds go toward one-year scholarships which are presented to two incoming freshman girls. Junior Panhellenic also participates in an activity with Junior Inter-Fraternity Council.

"We're in at last!" "Can it really be true?" "All this room!" With delighted cries of excitement, Rho chapter of Alpha Chi Omega made its long anticipated move to the heart of Greek Row over the Christmas holidays. The lovely new home was truly a Christmas present worth waiting for.

Inspired by a shining new house, Alpha Chi's kept themselves sparkling in a long list of house and campus activities. Successfully calling themselves the "sneakiest pledge class on campus," the 26 enthusiastic new pledges started their year by sneaking in October. Then everyone was involved in the fun of Founders' Day banquet, the Lambda Chi-Alfa Chi football game, the annual pledge dance, and the Homecoming sign, with its popular "Green Door" theme.

Winter quarter found all quite "snowed" by the studies and daily campus rounds, but Alpha Chi's took time to help the cerebral palsied children on their annual Hera Day project, and to honor their parents at special banquets.

Soph Carnival, the spring dance, and Senior Breakfast brought another full and satisfying year to an end in June.

Rho proudly points among its members to Sharon Carey, associate editor of the Daily, and Barbara Calvert, vice president of the Y. Stephanie LeBrache was president of Pi Lambda Theta, and Caryl Smith was president of the Campus Religious Council. Alpha Chi's were also active in AWS, ASUW, YWCA, the Tyee, Religious Emphasis Week, Rally Girls, W-Key, Totem Club, Mortar Board, and departmental honoraries.

"Lucky" you might say about the A.D. Pi's,
They seem to win prize after prize!
First—pledges beautiful, bright, fun-loving, fine,
Next—a trophy winning Homecoming sign,
Honoraries, church groups, campus plays . . .
Student offices, a yell leader, scholastic praise,
Christmas Sing, Soph Carnival, and Song Fest—
In everything the A.D. Pi's seem blessed!

Behind the success, the honors, the fun,
A tradition's been revered since 1851
When the first sorority was founded, our A.D. Pi
With ideals of love and sisterhood, standards high.
"We live for each other,"—our motto's the clue
To our "luck," to our happiness, to our loyalty true.

4510 21st N. E.

After an exhausting two weeks called Rush, the Alpha Gams, whose blood had turned to coffee, and their twenty-three terrific new pledges settled down to begin the school year. Everyone turned Hawaiian for Homecoming; the girls learned songs, words, and dances of Hawaiian origin for the sign. Mid-terms descended quickly upon the Alpha Gams and another successful quarter was over, ending with a flurry of exchanges, the pledge dance, and a Christmas sing with the DKE's.

Those Alpha Gams who survived the Christmas bustle and turkey returned for winter quarter. Our winter twin dance helped to lessen the drag of studies, housework, phone duty.

At last came that glorious spring quarter, when study time dragged and new tans appeared. Everyone looked forward to our annual spring formal held at the Seattle Tennis Club. Then came the building of banners and sore thumbs, and the Alpha Gams turned carpenter by attempting to keep up with the ATO's for Sophomore Carnival. With books piled high and pens and typewriters flying, the seniors made preparations for leaving the halls of Alpha Gam and the well-worn paths of campus.

NANCY FIELD, President

We, of Alpha Phi, look back with pride on the just ending year. It has been a memorable one, full of fun, friendship and growth.

Thirty-six new pledges chose to share their college days with us last fall. Eagerly we watched our new house being built, together we anticipated its completion, and happily we settled in our roomy new quarters.

True to tradition, many Alpha Phi's could be found in campus activities. We claimed an ASUW officer, the president of the National Association of Women Students, and a yell leader. Our girls were members of Totem Club, Mortar Board, W-Key, Rally, Silver Fish and the YWCA. Realizing the true purpose of college itself, Alpha Phi was primarily concerned with high scholarship.

A full schedule of parties, dances and serenades rounded out a busy and unforgettable year for the wearers of the ivy leaf. Strong and united, Sigma chapter of Alpha Phi looks towards a future of continual growth.

"Come See, Come See Our Alpha Xi . . . Come See, Come See Our Alpha Xi." Thirty-eight rushees came and saw Alpha Xi Delta and decided to make it their college home. Through the perpetual Washington rain, one could always see the sisters' cheery smiles and hear their friendly Hi's.

The pledges began their social whirl with stock show night and finished with our wonderful Rose Formal. The pledge dance, exchanges, and a terrific winter costume, rounded out our social calendar.

Seeking to retain our prized Garhart Trophy, we participated enthusiastically in Silver Fish, volley ball, baseball, badminton and skiing.

Mortar Board, Totem Club, and W-Key found many Alpha Xi's among their members. YWCA, Tyee, and Hub activities were participated in actively by other Alpha Xi's.

The tears shed when Nu chapter bid a formal adieux to our senior sisters soon vanished in remembering our song, "We're all good sisters and each one each other's friend and we'll be good sisters until all this world is end."

Alpha Chapter of Chi Omega welcomed 34 wonderful new pledges after an exciting Fall Rush. With the end of Rush the Chi O's looked forward to another year of work and fun. Fall Quarter was highlighted by the Pledge Sneak, Homecoming, the Pledge Barn Dance, football games and the Christmas Party.

Winter Quarter started with the thrill of Inspiration Week, which was climaxed by Initiation. The annual Winter Formal was a big success. Participation in Song and Stunt night, ski trips, basketball games and school work rounded out the quarter.

Spring Quarter brought the fun of working on Sophomore Carnival with the Phi Kaps, practicing for Songfest, elections, the Spring Informal—all climaxed by the Senior Breakfast.

We were proud that so many Chi O's were active in ASUW activities, W Key, Totem Club, Mortar Board, Rally Girls, Silver Fish and departmental honoraries. 1956-57 was a most rewarding year for Chi Omega, one of friendship, spirit, and fun, that will be long remembered.

As the 1956-57 school year draws to a close, the members of Theta Alpha Chapter of Delta Delta Delta look back to a year filled with many memorable events. A year in which the members have shared in intellectual growth, social maturity, participating in exceptional activities, and building sincere and everlasting friendships.

Our social calendar was filled with such functions as the pledge barn dance in the fall, the pledge-active dance in the winter and our annual formal in the spring.

Tri Deltas and members of SAE fraternity teamed together for the annual Christmas Serenade of orphanages. We teamed with the Betas for sophomore carnival.

During spring quarter, Delta Delta Delta traditionally honors all graduating senior women at the annual Pansy Breakfast.

Members of Tri Delta were well represented in the Hub this year and boasted several members in Mortar Board, W-Key, Totem Club, Silver Fish, and Rally Girls.

A bond of true comradeship has developed in our college days as seen by the way girls worked together in song practices for Songfest, Homecoming and Sophomore Carnival, elections, and pledges selling Columns.

Here comes the goodies man!

Singing, parties, bridge, ice-skating, visiting the D. G.'s in Canada, bound by the unity of friendship . . . these were activities common to the warm, companionable spirit of Delta Gamma.

The D. G.'s claim first honors in scholarship, second in Homecoming, and presidents of AWS, Totem Club, Sigma Epsilon Sigma, and Gamma Alpha Chi; Panhellenic and Senior Class officers; members of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, W-Key, Silver Fish, Orchesis, and Mu Phi; regional chairman of ACU and the Advertising Woman of the Future.

Delta Gamma has spent hours working on the National Project—Sight Conservation and Aid to the Blind. Many inspiring moments were found by D. G.'s during Inspiration Week, at the Founders Banquet, and in Songfest, winter formal, and spring pledge dance.

1956-1957 has been an outstanding and rewarding year for the Delta Gammas in scholastics, social events, and activities. They all have something special called "that D. G. spirit."

The Delta Zetas had a great year. After two weeks of vigorous rushing, fall quarter brought us the shining faces of our new pledges who "snuck" to Broadmoor and never were caught. We celebrated our fifty-fourth year as a national sorority at our annual founders' day banquet in November. Many DZ's were active in the ASUW and we were tapped for Silver Fish, Rally Girls and Sigma Epsilon Sigma. Studying wasn't neglected, however, and Panhellenic awarded us with a trophy for the most improvement in our house average.

Winter and Spring quarters brought us exchanges and serenades, our pledge dance, and the Winter Formal. Songfest and Sophomore Carnival are looked back on with much enthusiasm, strained throats and sore backs. We showed off our parents during Parents Weekend and they enjoyed the activities in which many DZ's were participating. Spring quarter also brought us to the time when we had to say good-bye to the graduating seniors at the annual senior breakfast.

Summer fun was over and Fall was here.
With 26 pledges to start the year.
We looked back with pride on our 3 campus queens
And a national scholarship award won by our team.
Also in golf many a trophy had been tossed
To our own Lambda member, Anne Quast.

When back to the campus to start a new quarter
We ranked high on the activities scoreboard.
Besides having the prexies of Frosh Council and and Junior Panhell.

In Silver Fish and W-Key, many did well.
Mortar Board, Totem and Rally tapped again
We also claimed Soph. Class Treas. and International Banquet Chairman.

Finally Spring came—the favorite of all
Soph Carnival with the Alpha Delts was a ball.
Our annual Spring formal and Songfest took most of the time.

And we all hated to hear that final chime.
As Senior Breakfast rang the year's ending note
With our departing class we all cast our vote.

Thirty-five new faces gained during Rush helped Alpha Lambda chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta through another successful and thrilling year.

Hardly a moment's peace was allowed anyone fall quarter, with activities—social and campus—starting right away. Homecoming brought a lovely Theta queen, Rosemary Anderson, to reign over the festivities. The Hobo Pledge Dance, Christmas sing with the Betas and, of course, finals kept us all on our toes through the first ten weeks.

Inspiration Week and Initiation highlighted winter quarter. The Valentine Semi-Formal, exchanges, and active campus work carried us through the supposedly "slow" quarter.

Spring quarter brought sun, fun, and work to the Thetas. Sophomore Carnival with the SAE's, songfest, the formal, and the Senior Breakfast were all just a part of a magnificent whole.

We are proud of our campus workers, too. Bev Buller served as AWS vice-president and Marilyn Horne filled the same position for the sophomore class; Nancy Boyd, Linda Link, and Marijo Swenson were out for every game as songleaders. We had members in the other campus and departmental honoraries.

The girls on Greek Row had a ball during 1956-1957. The year was punctuated with days of fun, gaiety, excitement, anticipation, study, and activity. Yet each day was also one of sisterhood.

The graduating seniors will remember the social life—the exchanges, dances, serenades at 2 a.m., and the coffee hours. They will remember the KD dances: the fall pledge dance in honor of 36 pledges, the winter costume dance, and the spring formal.

They will remember the girls who were tapped for Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, W-Key, Totem Club, Sigma Epsilon Sigma, and other honoraries, those who worked on YWCA, ASUW, and AWS committees. They will miss preparing for Homecoming, Christmas caroling, constructing a Sophomore Carnival sign with Lambda Chi Alpha, and participating in Songfest.

The seniors understand what is meant when college life is said to be more than study, social, and activities. It is also a period of close friendship with sorority sisters.

A whirlwind of campus activity swept Kappa Kappa Gamma into its fifty-second year on the University campus. Once again the Kappa Key unlocked the door to success.

A sparkling pledge class of thirty girls found their college home behind the green door. Shortly after school began, the freshman class "Answered the Call" by electing Carol Horsfall class vice-president. Kappa's worked long hours before Homecoming "cooking up" a sign which won them first place in women's competition.

Among the Kappa's active on campus this year were Cecile Evans, AWS corresponding secretary; Linda Bird, junior class vice-president; Storm Jobs, TYEE editor; Joan Chatalas, Parents' Weekend chairman; and Teddy Braunschweiger, Mortar Board president.

Kappa's staged an "Artists and Models" pledge dance in the fall and a winter formal at the Olympic Bowl in February. They went Christmas serenading with the members of Phi Delta Theta and joined the Theta Chis' for Sophomore Carnival.

Locked out?

We jumped on the merry-go-round in September and leaped off in June. Problems? How do we keep fish nets up during rush? We don't—we just re-hang them. How did we get a Volkswagen on the front porch? We drove it up the steps. When can we study? Good question. One thing follows another—Rush—Homecoming—Pledge Sneak—Pledge Dance—Exchanges—Mother-Daughter Christmas Party—"and the house boy sat in Santa's lap." Winter quarter—more exchanges—Carnation Ball—no time to study. Spring quarter? "Somebody answer the door." "Everybody's sunbathing on the roof." Active Dance—Soph Carnival—Song Fest—no time to study. "It's too warm to go to class," and "one spade," "two hearts," "pass," "two no-trump"—bridge goes on and on. Final exams—coffee on every desk—"Oh, these courses!" "I haven't finished my term paper YET!" The end draws near, Senior Breakfast—Graduation. It's all over until next year.

"Look around, look around, not a better bunch of pledges can be found."

So sang our thirty Pi Phi pledges coming home from their sneak in the fall. We agree. They're wonderful.

Fall quarter got under way busily, with a tea honoring our new housemother, Mrs. Young. We were hostesses to a Mortar Board open house during Homecoming weekend, after putting up our Homecoming sign in record time.

Pi Phi's are found on campus in many facets of college activity. W-Key, Rally Girls, the ASUW, and Silver Fish are some of the organizations in which we are represented.

But behind the activities and various interests is a unity in which every Pi Phi participates at "home" on Greek Row.

Dear Carole,

Wait until you hear the news. I'm so excited I don't know where to begin. Rush was really great! We pledged 41 terrific girls, and you know what they did? They got away with the first successful pledge sneak in five years. Soon we all got together for Homecoming and a vigorous campaign in which "competent" Judy Compton was elected Freshman secretary. Judy joined other Sigma Kappa prominents in the Hub.

Besides many exchanges and serenades we had a beautiful pledge dance and later went Christmas caroling with the Alpha Sigs. Whoops, almost forgot! In competition with other sororities our pledges won first prize for their Thanksgiving basket. They also gave a costume dance for the actives winter quarter.

Ah yes, spring, and we sang in Song Fest with the Chi Psi's and went with the Phi Psi's for Sophomore Carnival. The Spring Formal ended a perfect year. Even with all our activities, though, study table hours were from 7 to 10, and we were always there.

Time to get ready for a big date. See you later.

Love,

P. C.

Memories of this busy year for Psi chapter will remain with members for many years to come. Immediately following Rush, Zetas began preparation on Autumn Quarter activities. Both actives and pledges worked busily to make each activity a huge success. Events capturing the enthusiasm and help of everyone included the Homecoming sign, Founder's Day, and the Pledge Dance. The quarter ended filled with holiday cheer at the annual Christmas Party for parents and children from the Washington Children's Home.

Winter Quarter whistled in with preparations for the Father-Daughter Banquet, the International Fireside, and the White Violet Ball. Spring followed gaily with participation in Song Fest, the Spring Awards Banquet, and the Spring Cruise through the San Juan Islands.

In addition to their active social calendar, Zetas also took an interest in scholarship and activities. They were represented in Rally Girls, Totem Club, Air Force Sponsors, and honoraries, such as Alpha Tau Delta and Beta Gamma Delta.

In 1913 at Hunter College,
A fine place for the pursuit of knowledge,
Our first chapter had its start.
By 1940, we had branched out anew, you see,
Until we had a chapter at this university.

The girls who started it had foresight,
And now we know their ideas were right,
For here we are after sixteen years,
Still full of fun, and full of cheer.

Our school days that mean so much,
And Phi Sig, that gives that added touch,
Leaves us free from worries and from tears,
And sure that these are our very best years.

Though our chapter is young,
Our chapter is strong,
And we believe
That her greatest songs are yet unsung.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of presidents or representatives of the thirty-nine fraternities on the University of Washington campus. I.F.C. has the responsibility of regulating and controlling fraternity rushing. It registers all rushees, conducts an assembly giving pointers on rushing and pledging, sets up rules and helps the rushee choose a fraternity which will benefit him most and where he will fit in best.

Scholarship and conduct standards are also maintained by I.F.C. and it has the power to discipline offending fraternities and individuals.

Wide participation in activities, athletics, and other phases of campus life is encouraged by the I.F.C. It also seeks to educate fraternity men for citizenship, for social competence, and for successful human relations.

Upholding the high ideals upon which the fraternity was founded in 1904 at Michigan, Washington chapter has made much progress in recent years, seeing the fraternity through its Golden Anniversary and the chapter house through an extensive remodeling.

After fall cleanup and formal rush week passed, our social program began with firesides and exchanges. The pledge dance followed Homecoming activities. Winter quarter brought more social activities, costume firesides, serenades, and the semi-formal Night on the Nile, a dance held by all Acacia chapters. In the spring, the annual Founder's Day alumni banquet, with its awarding of the "Bullus Texanus" honor, was held. The Spring Formal rounded out the year.

Participation in intramural sports kept us busy after classes throughout the year. Other University activities came in for their share of attention, also. With Acacians heading the HUB Dances, Nickel Hop, and YMCA activities, many members were active on campus.

1956-57 was another successful year for Alpha Delta Phi, the second oldest national fraternity. The Washington Alpha Deltas extended their record of activity in athletics, scholarship, social life, and HUB activities.

While maintaining their position on the top ten scholastically, the Alpha Deltas carried on a first class social program. They started off with a pledge dance during November, and ended the year with a weekend house party on the Oregon coast. Between these two events the Alpha Deltas had the traditional exchange with the British Columbia chapter, the mid-winter formal, firesides and exchanges.

Representatives on Purple Shield and Oval Club show the Alpha Deltas' participation in ASUW activities. Last spring three members were elected to Fir Tree. Dick Leon was elected president of the ASUW. Phil Braden and Pete Miller were elected president and secretary of Purple Shield, respectively.

Alpha Deltas were active in varsity baseball, football, crew, basketball, track, skiing, and swimming. In intramurals they were ready to defend their championship in handball and swimming.

Again this year, Alpha Delta Phi's Washington chapter lived up to its motto: "Manus Multae Cor Unum"—Many Hands, One Hand.

Alpha Epsilon Pi experienced an active and successful year. Within the close brotherhood of our chapter, we have achieved goals which could not be reached through larger organizations. The brothers received two trophies this year, one for high pledge scholarship, and one for scholarship improvement. Among the social affairs of the year were the pledge dance, the New Year's Eve dance, and our traditional spring formal with a Hawaiian theme. We held a picnic the day after the spring formal.

Our athletic program was also active this year. It included football, volleyball, basketball, and baseball.

Alpha Epsilon Pi has many unique ideas, such as the annual pie-throwing contest which is used in raising charity funds and the Pretty Baby Contest which is held for the sorority girls. Therefore, the brothers of AEPi reach their objectives through a well-rounded program of activities.

Alpha Kappa Lambda is unique among fraternities on this campus in that it seeks to be a brotherhood of men vitally interested in following the principles of Christianity.

In the spring of 1956, we moved into our present home. It has offered us the opportunity to bring more fellows into our brotherhood where we strive to build personalities through development of religious, scholastic, extra-curricular, social, and fraternal interests and responsibilities.

From the rushing of September to the last exam in June, the academic year of 1956-1957 was a year of marked achievements and growth for the brothers of Theta of Alpha Kappa Lambda. A spirited pledge class kept the actives on their toes and enabled us to participate in more activities than before. We would like to go on record as saying, "This year was great—next year will be greater!"

The year 1956-57 found a group of eighty-five individuals pooling their interests, talents, desires, and aversions for one reason—they liked each other. These men were Alpha Sigs at the University of Washington.

A successful Rush Week provided the year's springboard for the Alpha Sigs. Forty-one new pledges helped the "returning lettermen" defend the trophies they had won with last year's "wide-screen" Homecoming production, Village Band, and Sophomore Carnival.

Scholastically, the Alpha Sigs rated above both the all-fraternity and all-men's average.

The social calendar ranged between two extremes . . . the Thug Dance and the year's highlight, the Winter Formal at the Olympic Hotel. The Pledge Dance, the Barn Dance, exchanges, firesides, and the weekend house party on Orcas Island filled in.

Success in scholarship, campus and community activities, intramural and varsity athletics summarize this past year for the versatile men of Alpha Sigma Phi.

At the beginning of the school year, the Tau Temple found itself bulging with 43 little urchins, labeled pledges in more customary usage. Regardless of its size, the ATO pledges soon adjusted to frequent beatings, mental torture, etc., and found themselves going the way of all brothers.

That is to say, they participated in HUB activities, Husky sports, enjoyed social life and displayed scholastic endeavor — factors which make ATO the well-rounded house it is.

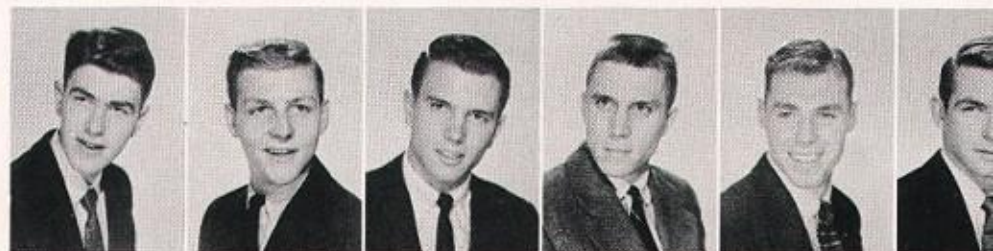

After winning the Sigma Chi Scholarship Trophy last year, the house resumed its pursuance of good grades. Integrated with this were the pledge dances, the annual Spring Formal, dollar parties, a House Party, and another successful Sophomore Carnival.

ATO was well represented in Purple Shield, Oval Club, Bachelors Club and various scholastic honoraries.

beta theta pi

As the year of 1956-57 has recorded its history in the heads of Betas, the fraternity, as in fifty-six previous years, can look with pride upon its enviable records in all areas of college life.

The year was marked with many enjoyable social activities, including the pledge dance, pajama dance, winter formal, thug dance, Miami Triad, and numerous fire-sides, serenades, and exchanges. Even so, the Beta house ranked fourth scholastically among Washington fraternities and first among the larger fraternities. Campus activities found Betas in student body offices, scholastic and activity honoraries, the Daily staff, and ASUW and AMS committees. Various intramural teams helped defend past championships and capture new "hardware" for the den.

No matter how diversified their interests may be, the men of Beta Omega are strongly bound together by the cardinal principal of the fraternity—unity.

Time out for a little pool.

It was another great year for the men from "The Lodge." As usual, rush week was a terrific success, resulting in 24 top pledges.

After completely filling the social calendar with exchanges, firesides, an authentic spring formal complete with yacht trip, the Hunters' Frolic (polite name for the brawl of the year), the Roman Dance, Pledge Dance, and eight miscellaneous dollar parties, we discovered that our schedule would carry our last exchange to July 28.

Intramural athletics were the source of bruised knuckles and shins, four crippled brothers, and no trophies. Of course, a few of the Chi Psi's would have nothing to do with intramurals and were forced to earn their Big "W's" in varsity athletics and numerals in frosh crew.

Chi Psi's were represented in organizations such as Oval Club, Purple Shield, and other university honoraries along with HUB activities including Gordy Winship heading the Varsity Ball.

GORDY YOUNG, President

Another year has seen the Beta Delta chapter of Chi Phi fraternity combine the formal education of the classroom with the informal type of learning that comes with social activity. The chapter members have found that it is possible to have parties, dances, and other functions without sacrificing the high scholastic standing which has been characteristic of the fraternity. The parties have been numerous and there are plans for more in the future.

The social calendar of the Chapter has been heavy with functions such as the Pledge Dance in the fall, the Winter Informal—a snowbound affair, and the Spring Formal—complete with tales. Exchanges and firesides also have played an important role in keeping the Chapter abreast socially.

Set 'em up, Joel!

In Spring quarter, 1956, Delta Sigma Phi celebrated the 30th anniversary of its founding at 4518 17th N. E.

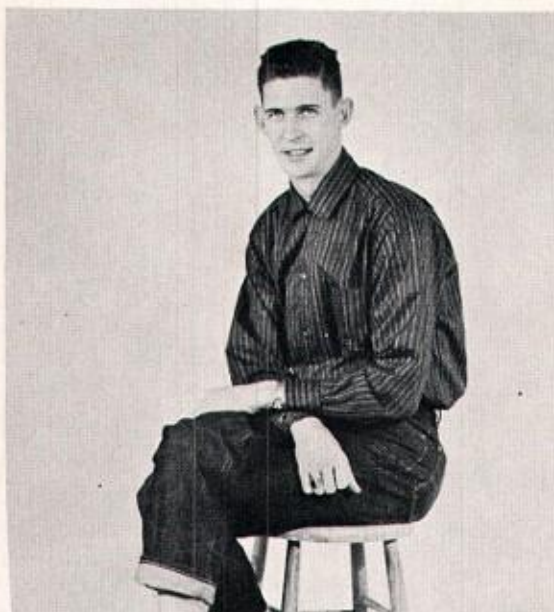

The Delta Sigs had another banner year.

Among our fall social events, the Halloween dance, Homecoming dance sponsored by our alumni association, and our annual House Mothers' dinner were particularly successful. Winter quarter saw our "Sailors Ball" and the initiation of the joint-fraternity Valentine's Day dance as our outstanding functions. An epidemic of spring fever was caused by our annual "Carnation Ball" at which time we chose our Dream Girl.

A program of seminars built around the theme "Engineered Leadership" was started Winter quarter. This was an outstanding accomplishment on the educational aspect of college fraternities.

The Washington chapter of Delta Chi started the new school term in the right direction by pledging a record class of 36 men. Continuing with the same type of spirit, the chapter combo took first place in the Village Band contest, while pledges and actives pitched in to finish our 80-foot Homecoming sign.

Socially, the Pledge Dance, Winter Formal, Spring House Party, and Delta She Dance were the highlights of the year. Exchanges, class dances, and dollar parties rounded out the calendar. Scholastically, the chapter had a record representation at the 1956 Scholarship Banquet and as the year progressed members were initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, Purple Shield, and Oval Club. Delta Chi was also well represented in every phase of ASUW and AMS activities. Sportminded Delta Chi's turned out for crew, basketball, track, tennis, and baseball, and participation in intramural sports.

In conjunction with these various activities, the chapter once again accomplished its annual goal—an even more respected brotherhood.

New pledge?

delta kappa epsilon

4520 21st N. E.

Again, the Kappa Epsilon Dekes look back on another fruitful year of scholastic, activity, and social endeavors. The annexing of 40 pledges had the house manager sweating as to where to put them all, but with an addition to the house and remodeling done last summer by our gracious alums, the pledges all found a roost at 4520 and proceeded to give the actives a bad time.

Socially, the Dekes were off to a roaring start with the Informal Fall Quarter, followed by the Christmas Serenade with the Alpha Gams. Winter Quarter saw the Pledge Dance and with Spring came the big formal. Scattered liberally throughout the year were our string of dollar parties.

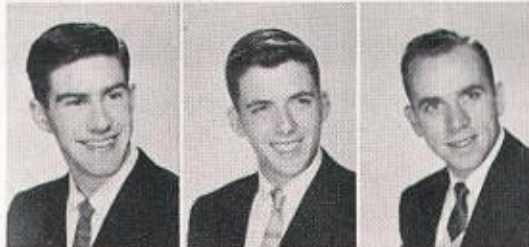

As well as having committeemen dispersed all about the HUB, the Dekes held offices in IFC and AMS. In athletics, Dekes had letterwinners in football, crew, skiing, track, golf, and tennis. Intramural competition also gave a large number of our pseudo-straps a chance to demonstrate their ability.

At the close of their forty-ninth successful year on the campus, the Washington Dekes look forward to many more of the same.

Forty top men, the largest pledge class Washington Delts have welcomed into membership since the chapter was founded in 1908, joined the actives in a successful year.

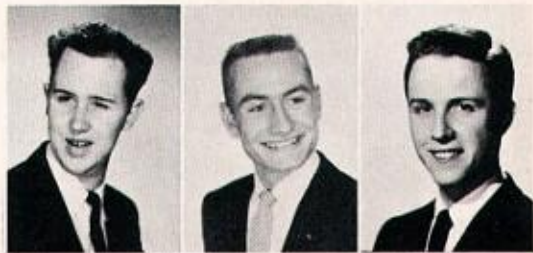

Scholastic achievement is the highest aim of the fraternity, but there is more to a well-rounded fraternity than scholarship alone. Washington Delts have always gained recognition with participation in such major activities as Sophomore Carnival, the Songfest, and Homecoming. Individual Delts have distinguished themselves through membership in many activity organizations including Purple Shield, Oval Club, Bachelor's Club, and Malamutes as well as in professional and scholastic honoraries.

Washington Delt's social program rates with the best, including such memorable functions as the Spring Formal, the Pledge Dance, the Spring Cruise and the House Party, plus a series of firesides and exchanges. So the Delts look back with pride at another successful year at "the shelter."

"What a year!"

These words amply describe the general feeling of the members of Delta Upsilon as they look back with fond memories on the 1956-57 school year. The club maintained its position as a campus leader with a well balanced program of activities, athletics, scholarship, and social events.

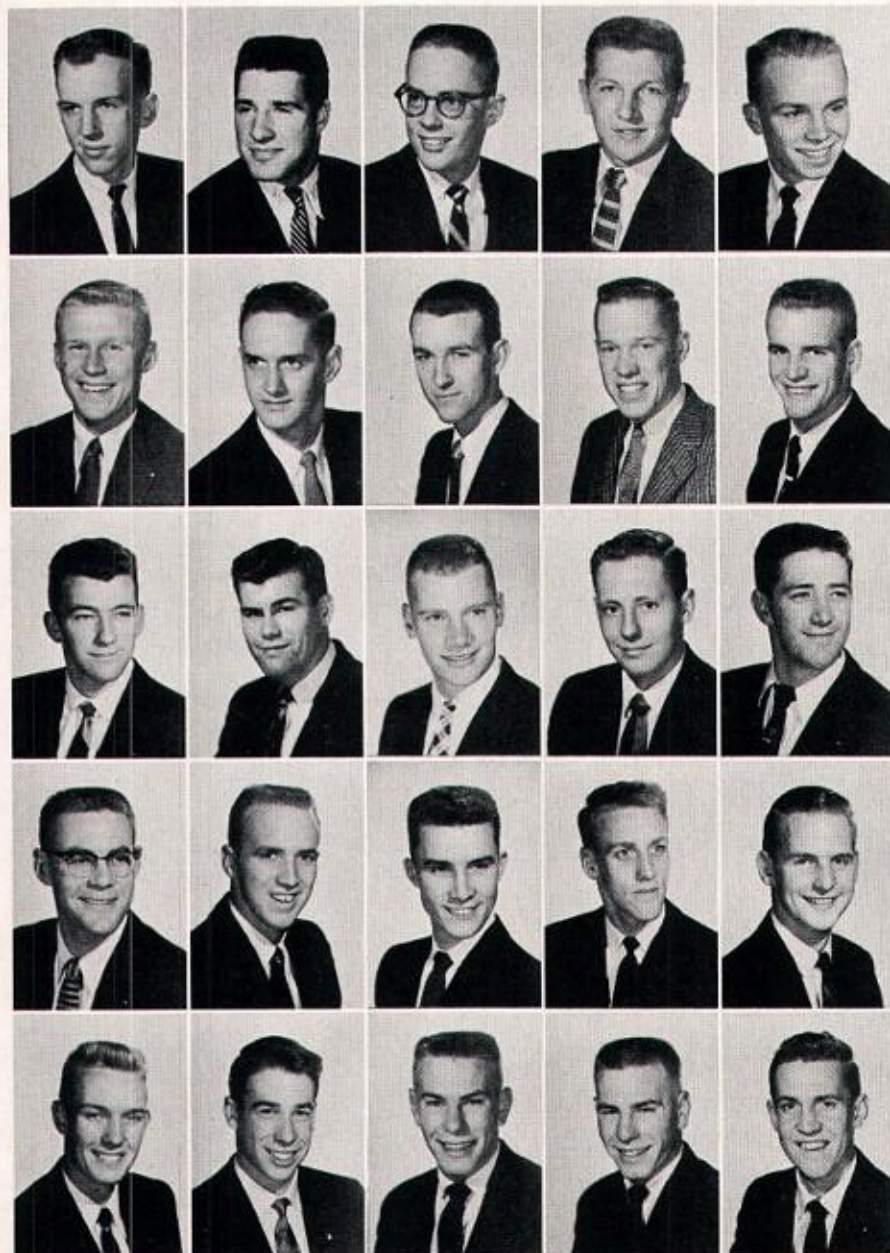

DU was once again in the spotlight, claiming such prominent headliners as Dick Payseno, Bill Stady, Don Dorland, Don Sunitsch, Jack Brady, and Monte Geiger. Everyone went all out for intramurals and the results were highly satisfactory.

Fir Tree, Oval Club, and Purple Shield honoraries beckoned a number of the brothers and the various HUB activities had a generous sprinkling of DU's.

The social slate began with the Pledge Dance, honoring an outstanding class of 25 men, and included the Brawl, the Pajama Dance, the House Party, and the now famous "Big Weekend." Exchanges, firesides, and dollar parties added to the good times.

kappa sigma

Beta Psi chapter has well represented the name of Kappa Sigma. The pledge class this year was one of our finest, promising continued prominence in campus and fraternity life.

We were league champions and reached the semi-finals in volleyball. Varsity wise Kappa Sigs were found in crew, track and baseball.

Socially, Kappa Sigma was second to none. The pajama dance was featured in Life Magazine. We also held a Pledge Dance, Fall Opener, Tavern Dance, Stag Party, House Party, and Winter Formal. The formal was held in conjunction with the Stardust Queen contest with Miss America as our guest of honor and finalist judge.

Naturally every fraternity takes a serious attitude toward its scholastic standing—Kappa Sigma is no different. Over $20,000 in scholarships are awarded annually among our 128 chapters.

Aside from athletic, social and scholastic interests there exists a true spirit of brotherhood here—our home away from home.

Lambda Chi Alpha has 150 chapters and is leading the field among the larger fraternities. Alpha Psi chapter has been on the University of Washington campus since 1918. The 1956-1957 school year was typical of college and fraternity life.

In the fall, we yelled ourselves hoarse at the football games, played in the Village Band contest, built our Homecoming sign, and met the Alpha Chi O's in the annual Mud Bowl. We attended the pledge dance and the pajama dance. The WSC weekend in Spokane was a highlight of the autumn session. Winter quarter found us at the Italian Fireside, the Prison Dance, and the basketball games. In the spring came the Founders' Day Banquet, Mothers' Weekend, Sophomore Carnival, and the pride of our social calendar, the Crescent Ball. We also had our exchanges and other firesides.

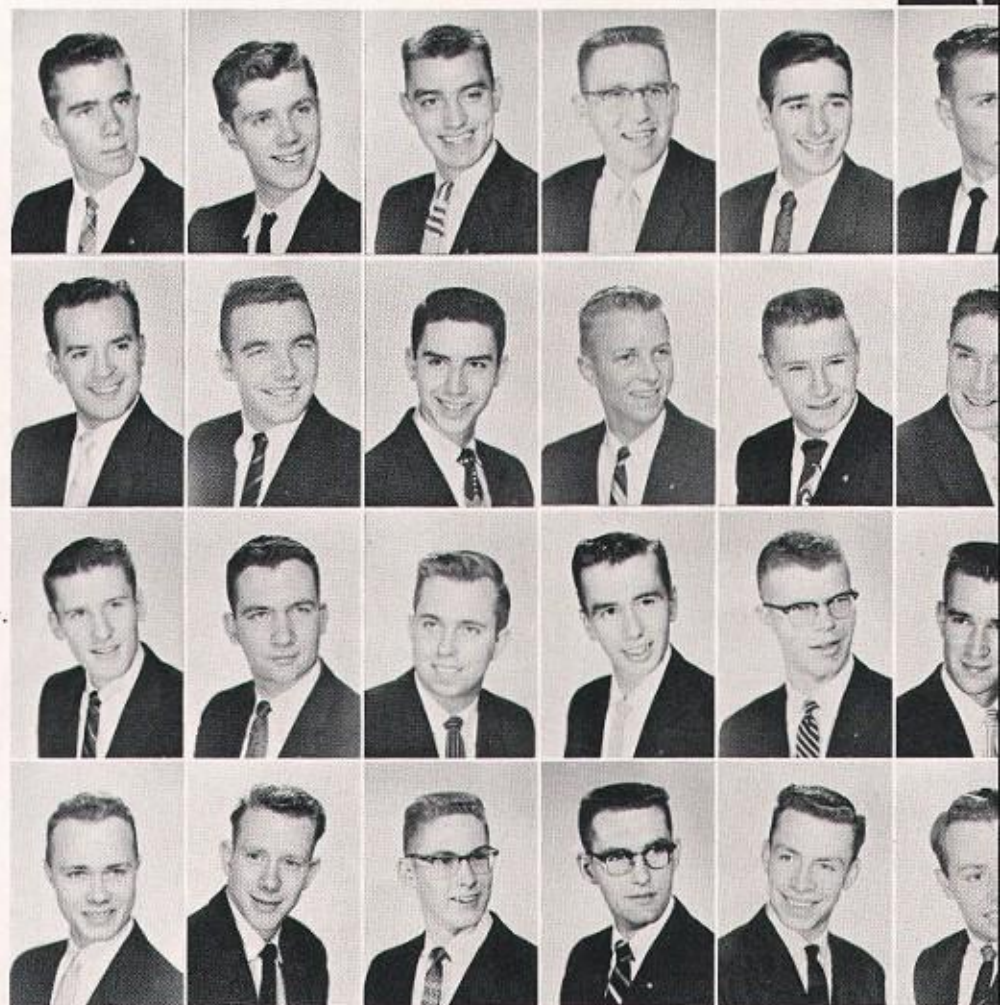

University of Washington Lambda Chi's are members of Alpha Delta Sigma, Big-W Club, Compass and Chart, Husky Winter Sports Club, Malamutes, Oval Club, Phi Beta Kappa, Purple Shield, and Scabbard and Blade.

phi delta theta

This year, as in the past, Washington Alpha can be proud of a fine record, both scholastically and activity-wise. The "Phi Delts" were well represented in student government, honoraries, athletics, and campus activities. The house claimed a good share of intramural trophies, a result of hard work and determination.

Socially, the impressive dance of the year came with the Winter Formal, one of the outstanding social events on campus. The rest of the social calendar contained numerous exchanges and firesides, a pledge dance, a pajama dance, a bowery brawl, and to conclude the highlites, a house party beyond compare.

Even with all the great social events, we did not forget that scholastic achievement is the most important element in college life. A combination of spirit and hard work by everyone once again produced a record of high standing on the campus for Phi Delta Theta.

Phi Gamma Delta has proven successful in fulfilling its aim—scholarship. This year, it placed sixth among University fraternities.

Fijimen again held key positions in student government and activities. Fijis have served as 1955-56 Freshman Class President, A.M.S. Secretary, Junior Class President. Fijis are president and treasurer of Oval Club, and for the third year, president of the Managerial Council.

In Athletics, Phi Gamma Delta was awarded the "Big Stick" by the Big W Club for having the most big "W" winners. Fijimen captained Husky track, baseball, golf, and football squads. Two Fijis were among the eleven seniors elected to Fir Tree, Senior men's honorary. Phi Gamma Delta had a well-balanced social calendar with three main dances along with many class parties. In Phi Gamma Delta the combination of internal strength with scholarship and athletic achievements is instrumental in developing mature citizens and leaders.

A fraternity is valued by what it does, and Washington Alpha of Phi Kappa Psi can be proud of its past year. We're up at the top member-wise, and came through with some sparkling performances. Intramurally, the Psi Psi's went to the quarter-finals in football and ranked high in basketball and bowling.

We packed our social calendar with one long string of rollicking parties and other social functions; and still finished the year with some top performances, scholastic-wise.

We parlayed in Soph Carnival with the Sigma Kappas and crooned with the Alpha Delta Pi's in Songfest.

No one was surprised when we pushed handsome Duane Olson into the spotlight and came in a walloping second in the second annual Ugly Man contest.

This school year was a busy one, and between wine, women and the Dean's Office, we managed a passable degree of activity. We "lose" very few members through graduation this year, and this should stand us in good stead for 1957-58. Meanwhile—Hail to 1956 and 7!

Take a house with a wide variation of personalities and interests; the campus politician, the Freshman and Varsity athletes, the social minded, and the academic wonder . . . all under one roof and working toward one goal. The interests range from the outdoors to the library, from the concert hall to a thousand other places. Take all these different individuals, unite them under one spirit, and you have the Alpha Upsilon chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma.

Here are a few of our campus activities: Frosh and Varsity football, Frosh and Lightweight crew, Frosh swimming, Intramural participation, ASUW and IFC offices, and the winning of the mixed group Songfest title with the Tri-Delts.

Among the social events were the Pledge Dance, the "Go to Hell" Dance, the Winter Formal, the annual house party at Harrison Hot Springs, and the usual sprinkling of Dollar parties and exchanges. These activities coupled with a spirit that just won't quit makes Phi Kappa Sigma the great house it is.

For Phi Kappa Tau at the University of Washington, the year 1956-57 was one of outstanding achievement. Socially, the highlight of the year came with the Red Carnation Ball, our annual spring formal. With firesides, a pajama dance, traditional pledge dance, and too many exchanges; it was a gasser.

Homecoming, Soph Carnival, Songfest, and intramural sports again took up too much time, though all were entered with relish and enthusiasm. It was decided that we should not have our stag party last year, as too many men were being lost to Walla Walla.

Scholastically, Phi Tau retained its coveted niche in the all-fraternity averages by encouraging every active pledge to do his very best academically. A Phi Tau realizes he is at the University essentially to study.

A fraternity is formed when a group of men live together in a type of brotherhood. In Phi Kappa Tau, the combining of internal strength with achievements in scholarship and athletics in a social environment is most instrumental in developing mature citizens and leaders.

Oi' Phi Sig started off the '56-'57 grind with the annual two-week "blast" during work and rush weeks, and we all confirmed among ourselves the feeling of true brotherhood and equality, avowing again our reputation as "The Friendliest House on Campus." With none of the guys worse off for the days of toil we held a bang-up drag on pledge night, helping the new men get "oriented" as to the wiles and ways of fraternity life. As the year progressed we launched (and we mean "launched") our yearly festivities, among them our pledge dance, formal at the Tennis Club, hot-rod pajama dance, the lovely Moonlight Girl contest and of course, the annual exchanges and spring "activities." "What, me study?"

Nevertheless, the silver and magenta flew high overhead again in the scholastic brackets as mind triumphed over matter. As usual Phi Sig placed many in the honoraries: Don Coie, Dick Fisch and Ken Hollingsworth, Pi Omicron Sigma and Phi Alpha Theta; Roger Mercer and Dick Miller, Alpha Kappa Psi; John Spear and Ron Finlay were leaders on the debate squad, Finlay also being the secretary of the Sophomore class.

So, as the year drew to a close, a house of "youngsters," (practically all freshmen and sophomores) bade farewell to another season, knowing the next would bring us all together again.

"Let's have a party." And the Pi Kaps are always ready for a party. Our Pioneer Days dance, with western garb and theme was quite a success. Our Pledge semi-formal dance was another hit.

The Pi Kappa Alpha Jam Session was by far the most outstanding event of the fall quarter. Sponsored by the pledge class, the Jam Session was campus-wide, featuring musicians from the University of Washington, playing both progressive and popular music. With the new year came Inspiration Week. And it was quite an inspiration. With the Dream Girl formal, the district convention, numerous parties, and of course lots of book learning, Pi Kappa Alpha feels that it's been a pretty full year.

Well, frankly, we did it again. Hottest pledge class on campus. Everyone a jewel, all of them nuggets.

As in the past we integrated our now famous "three point program" . . . athletics, scholarship, and activities. Might have gone overboard with an entirely new innovation in fraternal life, the Everyone in Something Club. It was kinda gung-ho, but we had our reputation.

As always, our incomparable social program. No point in discussing it for fear you'll drool on our page.

Our intramural program came right along, although instead of winning six team trophies this year, we unfortunately only won five.

Our cook is stupendous, our alumni infallible, and the Mother's Club impeccable. And, if you think we're hot, read what you wrote on your page.

As the school year 1956-57 closed, Pi Kappa Phi could look back on a year crowded with memories that make college the happiest time of life. From fall quarter to spring quarter our chapter was active in school functions. Its scholarship rating was among the highest and its social activities were among the best on campus.

During the spring quarter, the Pi Kapps held their annual spring formal, at which time they chose their Rose Queen.

On October 27th, the Pi Kapps held their annual Homecoming banquet, followed by a dance for both Alums and undergraduates. On December 10th, they celebrated the date of their founding with another banquet.

Besides their other activities, Pi Kapps were prominent in numerous and varied intramural functions. Their baseball team did quite well, and their dances, firesides, exchanges and picnics were also numerous and successful.

At the end of the school year, the Alpha Delta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi could review a year noteworthy for its scholarship, social activities and increased membership.

A review of the past year brings to mind many events that will be recalled in the future whenever the men of Sigma Pi gather for a reunion. The outstanding achievement of the year was the increased membership. A pledge class of sixteen worked with the returning four men during Fall Quarter to re-established the chapter on campus.

And, of course, one can't forget to mention the chapter being awarded the Inter-Fraternity Mother's Club trophy for having the highest fraternity scholarship.

Socially, the highlights of the year were the Pledge Dance, the Winter Informal Dance, and the traditional Orchid Formal in the spring. In between these main functions were firesides, parties, and exchanges.

In looking back upon this year, one can't neglect to notice the bond of fellowship that has been created among the men of Sigma Pi. As a result of this bond, there will emerge a stronger fraternity for the coming year.

Descendants of Agamemnon?

As the troops filed into the Hotel at the beginning of Rush Week to dredge out the building, they had an ambitious 1956-57 year planned. First on the list to gain fame and boarders for the house was Item #1, acquiring several platoons of notable scholars and outstanding athletes for the pledge class. Item #2 was preparing for several smashing functions and Item #3 was laying down plans for winning laurels for the ole' frat: landsliding to victory in the frosh and spring elections, capturing first place in Homecoming signs, tra-laing to the top in Songfest and similar feats of glory.

As fall quarter ended, the 192 pledges were locked safely in and the Fall Brawl and Paddle Dance were under the fellers' belts. With the advent of spring and sunshine and bathing girls and beaches, the brothers headed down to the sea in Rainiercraft to accomplish more than they had all year.

Twenty hacks for spilling punch.

Motivated by their badge, the White Cross, the Sigma Chi Fraternity had another outstanding year in every phase of college life.

In keeping with the main purpose of college, education, and in realization that the most important aim of the Sigma Chi Fraternity is scholarship, the Sigs kept a highly respectable grade point average. Meanwhile, they found time to participate in all forms of activities and athletics.

The Sigma Chis filled their social calendar with dances, house parties, exchanges, beach parties, firesides and picnics, to say nothing of serenades from which they derived particular enjoyment. Inspired by the best loved of all fraternity songs, "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi", the Sigs highlighted this year's social festivities with the annual Sweetheart Ball in January. This highlight was supplemented by the All-Sig Dance and the Pledge Dance in Fall Quarter. They completed Spring Quarter with the Miami Triad Dance and Spring Field Day.

Yes, in every way, 1956-1957, was another rewarding year, and the men who wear the White Cross of Sigma Chi all want to say . . . "It's great to be a Sig!"

Gamma Chi of Sigma Nu, the oldest fraternity at the University of Washington, was founded on this campus in 1896. Sixty-one years later Sigma Nu still maintains a top position. Scholastically, we achieved a 2.57 grade average, well above the all fraternity average. Activity wise, men were prominent in many phases of student government and leadership. Offices held ranged from AMS, Big "W", and Varsity Boat Club Presidents, to chairmen of ASUW committees.

Sigma Nu athletes participated in freshmen and varsity football, an intramural program, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, golf, skiing, and swimming, with one of our men being co-captain of the football team.

Socially, the highlight of the year was the Pig Dinner. Other functions included the pledge dance, pajama dance, French prom, house party, exchanges, and dollar parties.

The chapter went all out for Homecoming, receiving a trophy for the best representation of the 39 fraternities at the Homecoming Dance. Sigma Nu joined with Alpha Delta Pi for Sophomore Carnival, as a very successful year came to a close.

"Gung Hol!" was the familiar battle cry around the dear ol' Sigma Phi Epsilon this past school year. We started the year by pledging a very interesting group of boys—numbering 30—whom we laughingly referred to as PLEDGES. In spite of the example set by the active chapter, the pledges managed to do quite well in all their little harmless activities (they lynched the pledge trainer.) They even paid their housebills . . . bless them.

Socially, we set a few precedents with our 'Little Party on the Island' (pledge dance,) the Winter Formal, the annual 'Fire Dance', and the Spring picnic.

Activity-wise, we managed to have members represented in Oval Club, Big W, the president of JIFC, and many committees and honoraries.

Scholastically . . . we tried hard!

Tau Kappa Epsilon, the fraternity for Life, has always been proud of its accomplishments and the fellowship its members share. This year has been no exception for after adding an exceptional pledge class to our ranks, we went on to enjoy another year of scholastic achievement, social and campus activities.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the year was the purchase of three choice lots in the heart of "Greek Row" for a new house. The new house has been designed and the bonds are now being sold. This is being done for us by our wonderful alumni. All financial responsibility lies with them and we are free from obligation except to uphold our standards. The entire design concept is contemporary . . . planned for maximum efficiency, while containing every feature necessary for gracious fraternity living.

Tau Kappa Epsilon is looking forward to even greater years in the future.

tau phi delta

Tau Phi Delta is classed as a social fraternity, but its membership is primarily limited to students interested in forestry.

Briefly, our purpose is to further the profession of forestry and allied fields; to promote high scholarship by bringing to the undergraduate a more complete understanding of the accomplishments of these professions; and to further establish the mutual benefits to be derived by cooperation.

This was the year of the "big move," wherein we moved into the former Alpha Chi Omega sorority house. In our new surroundings, conditions are more conducive to studying and the chapter is no longer cramped for space. Membership has hit an all-time high.

Socially, our year was rounded out with participation in "Garb Day," winter formal, numerous ski parties, exchanges, two firesides, and the annual spring picnic.

Oh sweet reminiscences, oh glorious memories. Yes fans, it's been a grand year for the old Red Ox Club. Aside from our gre-e-a-t spirit (s) and traditions, our campus checkers, and our burly, bouncing athletes, you know, we have fun. Yes indeed, it's been a BIG year.

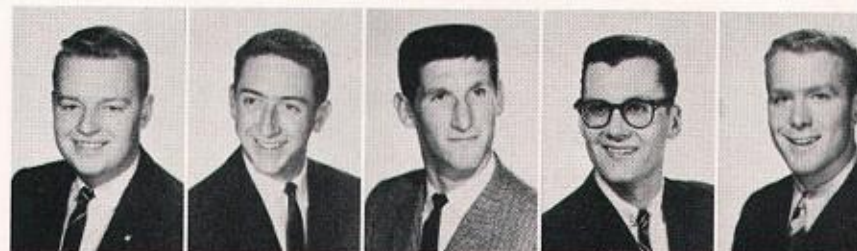

Hark, let us call the roll. First place, Homecoming Signs. Sonny Matson, elected Frosh President. Dick Day, third All-America gridder. Bruno Boin, talents unlimited. Rollicking, riotous dances, like Bowery Brawls, Bohemian parties, hotel parties (now they're not what you think), Formals, House parties, cruises on the OX version of the SS. United States. But let us be modest.

Yes, avid audience, contrary to popular opinion we do ordinary things also. We do serve hot lunches, we do have exchanges, and we do participate in intramural pon-poming. We chloroform pledges, serve tea at Panhellenic luncheons, and drink torpedo fluid in our sub-sub-basement. Yes, there's more life to Theta Chi. But there are too many stars, too many standouts to tell about here, so drop up any time, fans, and we'll tell you all about it over a bucket of suds.

Riding the crest of spirit generated at the 109th convention of Theta Delta Chi held in Seattle, Theta Delts experienced their best year to date. Thirty-three new pledges were soon molded into fine fraternity men. After rush week the brotherhood moved into an interesting social calendar including the Founders' Day Banquet, a successful Pledge Formal, the Singapore Sling, Ze' Paree, Pajama Dance, and the Spring Cruise. The brothers also found time to present the annual all-University Pre-Election Street Dance.

Theta Delts held many campus positions including ASUW First Vice-President, Hub Committee chairmen, and membership in Fir Tree, Oval Club, and Purple Shield. Also, the house grade point was well above average.

In sports Theta Delta Chi participated in both varsity and intramurals. The brothers were active in Varsity crew, swimming, golf, gymnastics, tennis and baseball. In intramurals the house was among the leaders in basketball, bowling and softball.

After spring finals, the brothers looked forward to an even better year at "good ol' TDX."

The TX's quickly became known for their unusual ability in maintaining a high scholastic standing without impairing their party life. Theta Xi was seventh highest in scholarship last year and all the members privately vowed to regain the number one position again next year.

The Theta Xi's not only burned the midnight oil . . . they drank it. The parties were immeasurable in size and pleasure. Three costume balls, a formal and the Pledge Dance provided enjoyment for all. Firesides, exchanges, picnics and beach parties supplemented the larger house functions.

Athletically Theta Xi participated in almost all the intramural sports from ping-pong to football. We were a respectable foe outdistancing most of our opponents.

The Hub was a second headquarters to TX men in political and social pursuits. The Daily and Columns had both TX wardens and writers on their staff.

Since the founding of Theta Xi, in 1864, the fraternity has developed a strong national organization with chapters in sixty-three of America's finest universities.

ZBT

Alpha Mu of Zeta Beta Tau filled its trophy case with "hardware" and its scrap book with headlines during the past year. While maintaining a fine scholastic average the Zeta Betes were represented on varsity golf and track squads, freshman golf, track, tennis and basketball teams, reached the semi-finals of the all-University softball competition, and came from behind to win the University bowling championship. The Alpha Mu's also placed a man on the Intramural Football All-Star team and the ZEBE pledges overwhelmed their traditional football rivals, Sigma Alpha Mu pledges.

When Homecoming 1956 rolled around, the ZEBES brought back their third consecutive Village Band Contest trophy, and captured second place in the sign contest.

The positions of Homecoming Rally Chairman and Sophomore Carnival Chairman were filled by ZEBE brothers, as well as positions on the Daily staff and many other campus activities.

Socially Zeta Beta Tau again had an overflowing calendar. The annual Orchid Formal, a great success, the Winter Formal, exchanges, and usual house parties. The second annual ZBT jazz concert drew a capacity crowd.

From a fine pledge class to the party after Spring quarter, the past year was very successful for the Zetes. The house grade point stayed well above the all-University average and the social life was still tops. The social calendar was highlighted by the Pledge Paddle dance, the Winter Formal, and a house party in the San Juans. The pajama dance, Harum-Scarum barn dance, firesides, exchanges, and serenades rounded out the program.

The Zetes also managed to keep studying and participate in campus activities. Zetes were active in honoraries all the way from engineering to journalism. Though no first place trophies were brought back legally from the intramurals, everyone had a good time.

That sums it up—everyone had a good time and learned a little, too.

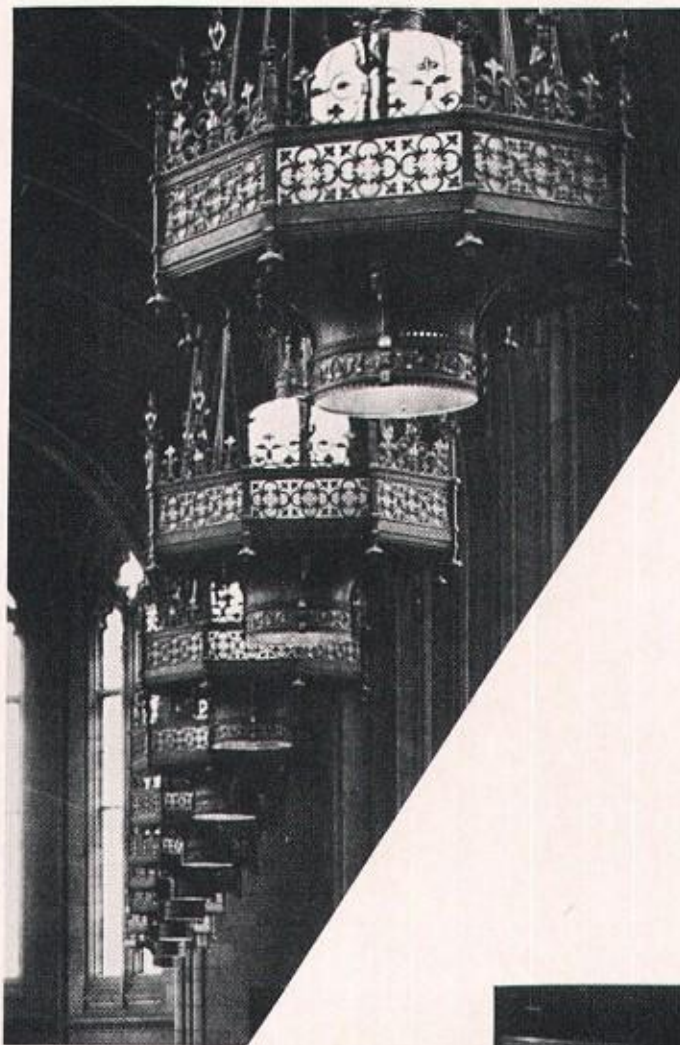

A warm fire felt good on cold days.

A sounding board for issues of concern to the independent women's organized houses is the IWA. IWA gives its members direct voice in campus affairs by means of a seat on the Board of Control and by representation on other campus committees. The executive body of IWA consists of the Interhall Council of the WRH, to which the affiliate members, Synadelphic and Wesley House, may each send its representative. Attempts to bring about wider acquaintance among the members of independent women's groups are represented by IWA functions.

interhouse council

The Interhouse Council consists of three representatives from each of the five houses of the Men's Dorm. It coordinates house activities, plans Hall activities, and is responsible for the use of Hall facilities. The Interhouse Council elects its own officers. Its meetings are held weekly, and are open to all Dorm residents.

cascade house

The Cascade crew from the 8th and 9th floors of the Mens' Residence Hall have made it another big year.

Dances, exchanges, and the other "automatic" activities got very enthusiastic receptions from new and old members alike. The Songfest group made another good showing in the annual competition. After many months of preparation, the lounge mural became a reality. The House has had a very active year in intramural sports, and house members have been active in ASUW activities. Among the minor political activities, was the naming of a red robin as the House mascot.

We're all agreed that it was a good year for the House of Cascade." But then, what else could it be!

rainier house

From the top of the gleaming white structure, commonly termed the "greenhouse," Rainier, with its 115 members, originates its activities. The spirit of competition is verified by the extensive intramural sports program carried on by Rainier. With its other activities, it has a well filled social calendar, highlighted by the annual "Winter Dance" and the "Moonlight Cruise."

Oh, oh, those Rainier men are at it again!

The Students' Cooperative is a corporation organized by students for group living under the cooperative principles. Members are from all sections of the United States and foreign countries. The coop is the most democratically operated organized living group at Washington. The association is governed by a Board of Directors and a Manager, and assisted by a most capable and appreciated Advisory Board. The Coop includes one women's house, and five men's houses.

macgregor house

MacGregor House was named for Mrs. Nell MacGregor, past housemother and present honorary housemother. With her help, we adopted the tartan, the coat of arms, the battle cry, and the history of the MacGregor clan of Scotland. The realization of our objective of house improvement is evidenced by various newly painted rooms and the mural on the living room wall. Scholastically, the house has improved greatly with many men on the honor roll.

Success was the keynote of Synkoa's activities this year. Starting with the welcome social, and climaxed by the annual Senior Dance, members enjoyed varied social activities. Synkoa participated in the intramural sports program in bowling, boxing, softball, and tennis. Synkoa has succeeded in promoting lasting friendship among its members and other campus and civic organizations, good will, and leadership in the individual, a final measure of success.

The Wesley bulb-snatcher.

This year 29 girls resided at Wesley House, "a home away from home" since 1935 for all University women. The purpose of Wesley House is to provide the college career with well rounded Christian fellowship, service projects, discussion groups, exchanges, and recreation. The many activities of Wesley House are shared with two other groups—Wesley Club, and Kappa Phi, the keynote to success being cooperation and harmony. All Methodist preference and any other interested young people are welcome to participate in the versatile program of Wesley House.

dental hygiene

Practice makes perfect.

NOT PICTURED:
Peer, Jean
Redman, Joan

Behind the solid brick walls of the Health Sciences Building the fair-haired students of dental hygiene pursue their earnest gropings into the scientific unknown.

After two years of pre-dental hygiene and two years in the School of Dentistry, the dental hygienist will promote good oral hygiene through the teaching of dental health. She is skilled in giving topical fluoride applications, oral prophylaxes and making dental X-rays.

With the Bachelor of Science degree and state license clutched in a quivering, but experienced hand, the new graduate will be prepared for clinical and educational work in schools, public health, hospitals, industrial clinics, and private dental offices. She will have a future of continued learning while gaining security and satisfaction in helping others to "health and happiness."

eklind hall

With two years of campus life and various science and basic nursing arts courses behind her, the student nurse proudly receives her white cap, symbolic of her chosen profession. Whether she enters Eklind Hall and the Swedish Hospital, or Harborview Hall and King County Hospital, she finds her training a valuable and unforgettable experience.

Once she is capped, her days become a whirlwind of hospital duty, classes, and study, and soon she is whisked off on affiliations to Children's Orthopedic Hospital for pediatrics, Northern State Hospital for psychiatric nursing, Firland Sanitarium for tuberculosis, and the King County Public Health Department.

Off-duty hours bring fun and relaxation with fellow students. Informal parties and picnics are abundant. Sports enthusiasts enjoy skiing, basketball, tennis, and swimming.

"With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care." Thus the student nurse receives her cap and begins her clinical education toward a lifetime, rewarding profession. As the student nurse enters Harborview Division, she gains experience from many phases of nursing. To broaden her field of knowledge, the student travels to Northern State Hospital for psychiatric nursing, The Doctors Hospital for private patient care, Firland Sanitarium for tuberculosis care, and the Seattle King County Public Health Department.

Activities galore fill her off-duty hours as she participates with enthusiasm. Picnics and pajama parties are among the favorites. After much hard work and good times, the annual variety show is given for all our friends. With warm hearts we take part in the traditional Christmas caroling in the hospital corridors followed by a decorating party in Harborview Hall.

Students at Harborview Hall make the constitution and laws. A student council with officers and representatives from each class present problems for the student body's consideration. Delegates are chosen to represent the students at state and national nurses' conventions.

A group of student nurses have formed HCF (Harborview Christian Fellowship). This offers many additional activities.

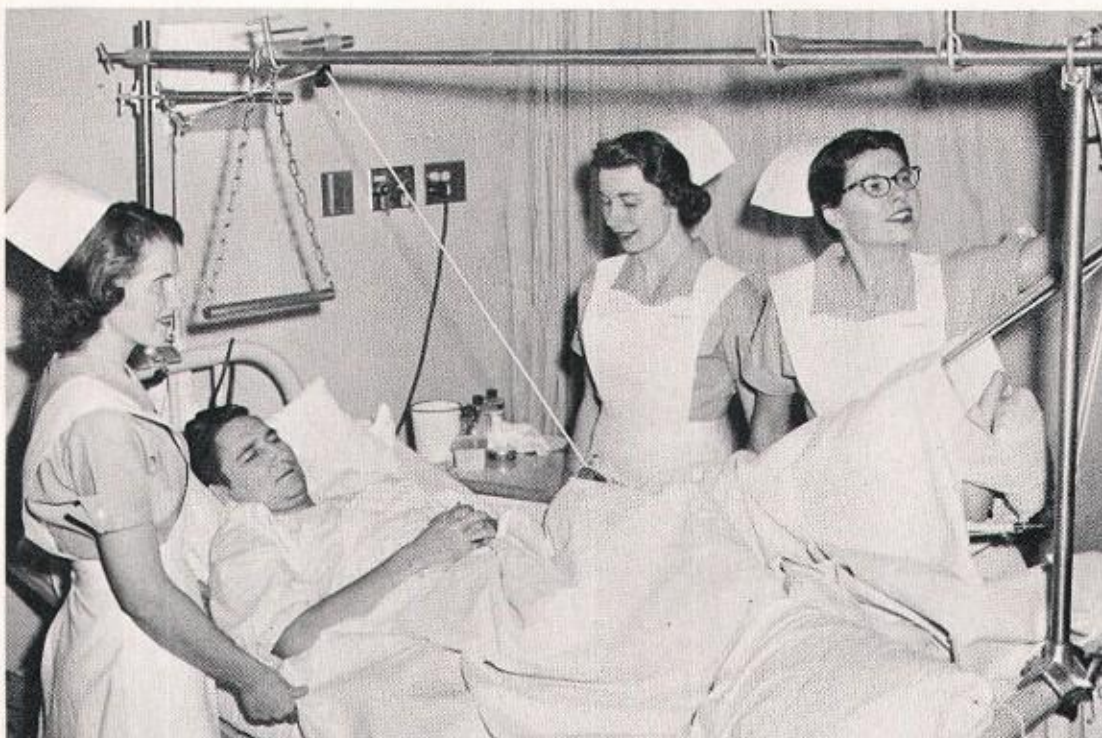

To each student nurse, her clinical education is both a challenge and a rewarding experience, one she will never forget.

Work? With a cute little patient like this it's a pleasure.

The Basis Nursing Research Program at the Virginia Mason Division of the School of Nursing has three classes enrolled at the present time.

The Basic III class is currently studying pediatric nursing at the teaching unit at Children's Orthopedic Hospital. The Basic IV class is having clinical experience in medical-surgical nursing at the Virginia Mason Hospital, and the Basic V's are enrolled full time on the campus.

The Basic Nursing Research Program is an interrupted-degree program in which students spend four quarters on campus and the next eight quarters at the Virginia Mason Division and other teaching units of the school of nursing such as Northern State Hospital, Children's Orthopedic Hospital and Firland Sanitorium. At the completion of this three year period, the student may elect to take her state board examinations to become a registered nurse or return to the campus for another three quarters to complete the requirements for a Bachelor of Science in Nursing.

Off duty the girls enjoy informal parties together plus basketball games with the students from other nursing programs. The sport enthusiasts enjoy heading for the slopes or the beaches in their free time. All the girls work and play together. They are united in a common goal of becoming capable professional nurses.

NILS ANDERSON, President

The American Institute of Chemical Engineers was founded in 1908. The student chapter was chartered in 1940 at the University of Washington.

The institute brings to the campus many speakers and movies from industry. It hopes in this way to promote the professional standards of its members, the maintenance of high professional standards, and the furtherance of Chemical Engineering in theory and practice.

Social activities include participation in regional conferences, engineering open house, field trips, and social functions.

Professional growth is gained in two ways. First is the attainment of a background of technical knowledge and skill. Second is a philosophy which creates a spirit of loyalty to the profession. Student chapters of ASCE provide the opportunity for the beginning of growth in these directions, by supplementing regular class work and making student work known to professionals in ASCE.

The Washington Engineer is published six times per school year by the Engineer Student's Council, with a staff of 32 undergraduate engineering students. Filled with semi-technical and non-technical articles, it is primarily circulated among engineering students. However, it is also used to stimulate an interest in the field of engineering in high schools throughout the state.

B. A. Interorganization Council is the coordinating body for the various clubs and student organizations within the B. A. College. Membership is composed of two elected delegates and the president from each of the following organizations: Marketing Club, Management Club, Alpha Kappa Psi, Beta Alpha Psi, Beta Gamma Sigma, Pan Xenia, Propeller Club, U. of W. Insurance Society.

The outstanding accomplishment this year has been the successful publication of the B. A. newspaper "B. A. Interaction." This has been a service to both B. A. students and the College of Business Administration.

It is the purpose of the organization to support and promote school spirit on the University of Washington campus and to encourage active participation from the older male students. Only single, unengaged males, 21 years old and over with the proper attitude concerning the opposite sex are eligible for membership. Please do not misconstrue "proper attitude."

Along with our several stag parties with dates required to foot their own bill and wear white shirts and levies, the Bachelors were a huge success in Songfest. Also, the club initiated last year one of the most outstanding all-university functions ever to be held during the noon hour—Brown Bag Day.

Washington's Naval fraternity, Compass and Chart, has completed its thirty-first and most successful year on the Washington campus. Compass and Chart was organized with the idea of promoting a kinship among the University's NROTC students. Membership is entirely voluntary, yet almost every NROTC student belongs.

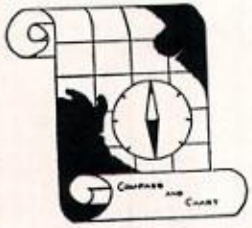

The many activities of Compass and Chart enable future officers to train for their years ahead. The Binnacle, a monthly newspaper, and the unit's own annual are among these activities. A spirited intramural sports program, the sailing club, Helm and Halyard, and the radio club, several of whose members hold amateur radio licenses, were all actively supported. The unit's rifle and pistol teams competed with those of the fifty-one other units located throughout the nation. The Washington unit holds many trophies and ranks as one of the country's top teams.

Two dances each year are sponsored by Compass and Chart. A fall informal, held this year at the Sand Point Officer's Club, and the formal Ring Dance, held winter quarter at Fort Lawton, were both great successes. At the Ring Dance, the crowning of the queen was a much awaited moment.

Compass and Chart, with the support and enthusiasm shown by its members this year, well deserves its place of respect on the University of Washington campus.

Established at Washington in 1948, the purpose of the Industrial Designers has been to further industrial design by publicizing the training in this field available on the campus and by providing closer contact between design students and the profession. Speakers and films of interest to the club members are featured at regular meetings to accomplish this objective.

Highlights of the past year were talks given by a former stylist of the Chevrolet Corvette and Ted Jones, famous hydroplane designer. Among other activities were the winter banquet and spring picnic.

industrial education club

The membership in this club is composed of students majoring in Industrial Education in the College of Education. It was founded in 1951 under the guidance of the department head, Dr. Athol R. Baily. At the weekly meetings the club sponsors guest speakers whose topics are designed to better acquaint the students with the industrial education teaching profession. Various field trips, dances and spring picnic are also part of the club's activities.

institute of aeronautical sciences

ALFRED THOMAS, President

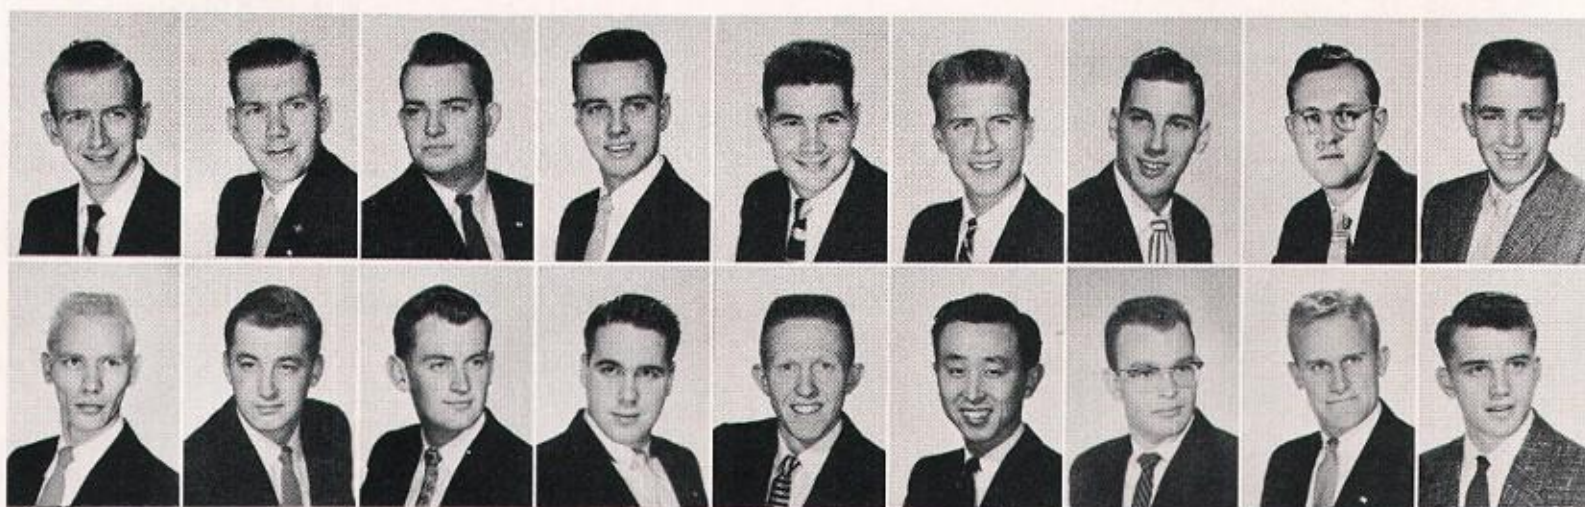

As an Engineering Society, the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences provides opportunities for students on campus to benefit by participation in programs and activities related to the aeronautical sciences. Membership in the I.A.S. is open to every engineering or physical science major with a bent toward things aeronautical. Activities of the I. A. S. include high quality technical meetings with leading men from the aircraft industry. The I.A.S. member gains first-hand information of aviation on the field trips offered each year. The bi-annual engineering open house is an interesting project on which I.A.S. members work together as an engineering team.

The Management Club is designed for men and women students interested in management. The purpose of the club is to foster education in management. This includes working for cooperation between local business and the University. The activities of the club include the participation of top executives in business, labor, and other fields as guest speakers and the project of editing, producing, and marketing of the club's booklet, called "Selling Yourself," which has achieved nationwide fame. The club has not been found lacking in social achievements and has an active program of banquets and other functions listed on its calendar throughout the year providing extra interest for its members. It is through these activities that the club members obtain valuable contacts with potential employers.

The advisors of the Management Club are: Professor John Hennessy and Professor Dick Dunnington.

arsity athletic managers are doing strategic jobs in our intercollegiate and intramural programs. They not only relieve busy coaches of much of their detailed everyday work, but are also the men behind each and every player's uniform.

The Managerial Council acts as a coordinating body for managers in all sports. Through the council we strive to work out the problems of our jobs and promote an active interest both managing and athletics at Washington.

pershing rifle drill team

Company B, 11th Regiment of the National Society of Pershing Rifles was organized on this campus in February of 1952. Pershing Rifles is an honorary society open to outstanding men in the Basic Army R.O.T.C. program. The officers of the organization are selected from Rifles, of those who are in the Advanced Program.

Pershing Rifles acts as a service unit for the Army R.O.T.C. by sponsoring the Army R. O. T. C. Drill Team and aiding in many phases of extra-curricular activities for R.O.T.C. Cadets. Rifles members have had opportunities to visit military bases in the area and to increase their understanding of military life.

Social highlights of the past year included the Initiation Dinner-Dance in January and the All-University Military Ball which Pershing Rifles joined with other campus military organizations to sponsor.

Many hours of practice go into perfecting the team.

marketing club

The Marketing Club promotes the advancement of the science of marketing. Formed in 1948, the club benefits the student in that it bridges the gap between college and the business world. Members of Marketing Club gain personal contacts with professional people, through such things as addresses at meetings, and the affiliation with the American Marketing Association, which is the leading professional organization sponsoring the development of more scientific practices in the field of distribution. Membership in Marketing Club is open to students interested in marketing as a career.

Sororia was organized on the University of Washington campus in 1910, and gained great popularity with the soldiers' wives during World War I. It is for the mature woman who has returned to college and wishes to affiliate herself with an organization which provides friendship, mutual helpfulness, and social contacts with others of similar interests. It is a luncheon group which meets each Wednesday noon. The meetings are spent socially for the most part, though speakers or other entertainment are provided occasionally. It is felt that place to relax and chat for an hour is particularly needful for this type of student.

A foreign enrollee is sponsored by the group annually. Each year, also, an Achievement Award is given to a graduating member who has been most outstanding as a scholar and citizen. The 1956-57 year finds Dr. Laura Crowell of the Speech Department to be the group's advisor.

Sororia is sponsored by an active Alumnae which includes many prominent women of Seattle. Each year the Alumnae plans three social affairs for the campus chapter: a Fall Luncheon, a Christmas Party, and a May Breakfast for graduating members. In addition, a loan fund is maintained from which any member may borrow if necessary.

yacht club

Washington pulls ahead.

The University of Washington Yacht Club was organized in 1948 to provide facilities for sailing among Washington students, faculty and staff. The club owns a fleet of twelve sailboats, and maintains a year-around program of free instruction, cruising, and racing. Sailing activities are supplemented by an active social program.

At a very successful Northwest Intercollegiate Regatta sponsored by the University of Washington Yacht Club and attended by five schools, Washington regained the championship trophy from Seattle University. Yacht Club members also placed high in local competition.

The Varsity Boat Club is an organization of oarsmen, coxswains, and managers who have turned out for five quarters, and have been voted into membership. Members are distinguished by their familiar "Husky Crew" jackets.

During fall and early winter quarter, the Boat Club becomes a functioning aggregate as the crewmen cram a whole year's social life into five months. The social life ends in early February with the annual semi-formal. This is followed by strict training and clean living which is climaxed by the National Rowing Championship in Syracuse, New York.

women's recreational council

The Women's Recreation Council is the governing body for the recreation program for women on campus. A part of ASUW, the Recreation Council assists in promoting interest in recreational activities open to all University women. The activities are divided into two types: tournaments in team sports and individual and dual sports; and clubs. Any woman student is eligible to enter the all-university individual and dual sports tournaments and to participate in the clubs which do not have a skill requirement for membership. The clubs having skill requirements hold tryouts during the autumn quarter.

Women who participate in five activities, one of which is a club, are awarded the "W" letter and become members of "W" Club.

GLORIA HIKIDA, President

The purpose of Phi Epsilon Chi is to promote high scholarship among the women Physical Education majors. We try to inspire all majors to do the best they can in all subjects, not just their major field. We help to promote high scholarship by contributing to a Physical Education scholarship fund — The Mary Gross Hutchinson Scholarship Fund—which is awarded to a deserving major each year.

In order to be accepted, a girl must be at least a junior, have a GPA of .2 or more points above the all university average and a 3 point or more in all major subjects.

Alpha Delta Sigma is the men's advertising fraternity, dedicated to "bridging the gap" between the University and the men practicing advertising as a profession. Forty-three chapters of ADS throughout the nation engage in contests, conventions and promotions which give the members experience and insight into careers in advertising. The Robert W. Jones chapter of ADS, composed of men in advertising journalism, marketing and commercial art, has had a successful year in accomplishing these goals.

The highlight of the year was the ADS Banquet which honored ADS alumni and outstanding people in the advertising business. The "Advertising Man of the Year" was selected from those in the profession who had contributed most to furthering the advertising ideals.

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national premedical honor society, and Beta Chapter has been active on the Washington campus since 1948. The organization requires a grade average of 3.1 in 75 hours of premed work for membership. Its goal is to unite similarly interested students. Lectures by members of the medical profession, medical movies, and the annual spring membership banquet serve to achieve this purpose.

The high point of this year's program was sponsorship of the biannual Pacific Northwest Preprofessional Conference for premedical and pre dental students which was attended by about 250 students from 25 colleges.

Alpha Kappa Psi, the first and oldest commerce fraternity, was founded on October 5, 1904, at New York University in New York City.

There are 86 active chapters. Rho Chapter at the University of Washington was installed in 1919, making it the 17th chapter.

Each year Alpha Kappa Psi sponsors professional programs with outstanding speakers from the business world and from education. In addition we promote industrial tours, special commerce school events, and certain social activities.

As our members are drawn from all fields of business school study we are able to have a program of broad diversification and interest. Our activities are directed to those basic groups, alumni, faculty, university relations, and professional programming. In so doing we are able to further the outlook of our members and to educate them in the various phases of business activity which they will encounter in the business world.

alpha tau delta

nursing fraternity

Alpha Tau Delta is a women's fraternity formed in 1921 at Berkeley, California. Delta Chapter at the University of Washington was established in 1936.

The purposes of Alpha Tau Delta are to promote higher educational standards for women in nursing and unite members in service for their profession. To accomplish these purposes we have inaugurated various service projects that will be profitable to our University campus, to our community, to our chapter and to our nation. These include giving a Christmas basket to a needy family, philanthropy work for The National Epilepsy League, reading for the blind and doing volunteer work in the community.

New members are rushed in the winter and pledged in the spring once yearly. Eligibility for membership requires prospective members to have completed two quarters in the School of Nursing with an accumulative grade point of 2.75. Registered Nurses enrolled at the University may become members of this organization.

Meetings are held monthly in the nursing residences. Often social functions are held in conjunction with these.

Alpha Tau Delta is a National Nursing Fraternity and is now a member of Professional Panhellenic and Campus Panhellenic. A national convention is held every two years at the same time as the National Student Nurses' Convention.

The Arnold Air Society, a national organization, was established on this campus in 1949. The Squadron was formally dedicated in honor of jet pilot Douglas Matheson, former University of Washington student who was killed in Korea in 1951. A fraternal bond among men who will become officers in the Air Force Reserve and a well-rounded social background are the goals of this group. Meetings and activities are held semi-weekly for members who are enrolled in the advanced A.F. R.O.T.C. program.

beta alpha psi

accounting fraternity

Beta Alpha Psi is a national professional fraternity. Delta Chapter was chartered on this campus in 1921.

The purposes are threefold—first to encourage high scholastic attainment, second to promote the advancement of the accounting profession through the study of accounting, and third to serve as a contact between the active members and those employers requiring the service of men trained in accounting and business. Candidates are those selected with 20 hours or more of accounting, who have 3.0 in accounting and 2.5 in all subjects. A five-hour examination covering accounting theory, problems, and law must be taken and passed before becoming full-fledged members. Active members are those registered as advanced undergraduate or graduate students majoring in accounting.

Big "W" club is the varsity lettermen's organization. The purpose of the club is to further interest in athletics and associated activities and to strengthen bonds between participants of varsity athletics. Discussions are held at bi-monthly meetings to help solve problems arising from student participation in athletics. Big "W" members attend athletic contests together as a sign of athletic backing athletic. Membership is open to all varsity letter winners in major sports.

The club holds an annual picnic and dance. Big "W" manages the "Miss Varsity" contest for Varsity Ball. It functions as a service organization to raise the standards of spirits and traditions at Washington.

Beta Gamma Sigma, sponsored by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, encourages and recognizes outstanding scholastic achievement by students of Business Administration. The organization serves further to advance the contribution of educational institutions to the character and ability of students of commerce and industry.

As the highest scholastic honorary attainable in the field of Business Administration, Beta Gamma Sigma has a membership consisting of top-ranking graduate students, seniors, juniors of advanced standing. A grade point average of 3.3 or better is required of graduates and seniors, while eligible juniors must have earned at least a 3.5.

However, in no case may more than 10% of the senior class, nor more than 3% of the junior class be initiated.

Alpha of Washington, chartered in 1923, is one of 55 chapters located throughout the United States.

Gamma Alpha Chi, professional advertising honorary for women (formerly Pi Alpha Sigma) was founded at the University of Washington in 1947.

The purpose of Gamma Alpha Chi is to advance advertising as a profession among women and bring about mutual benefit to women on campus interested in making advertising their career.

Members are chosen in the fall and spring from University women majoring in the advertising field who have maintained a 3.0 grade average in all advertising subjects.

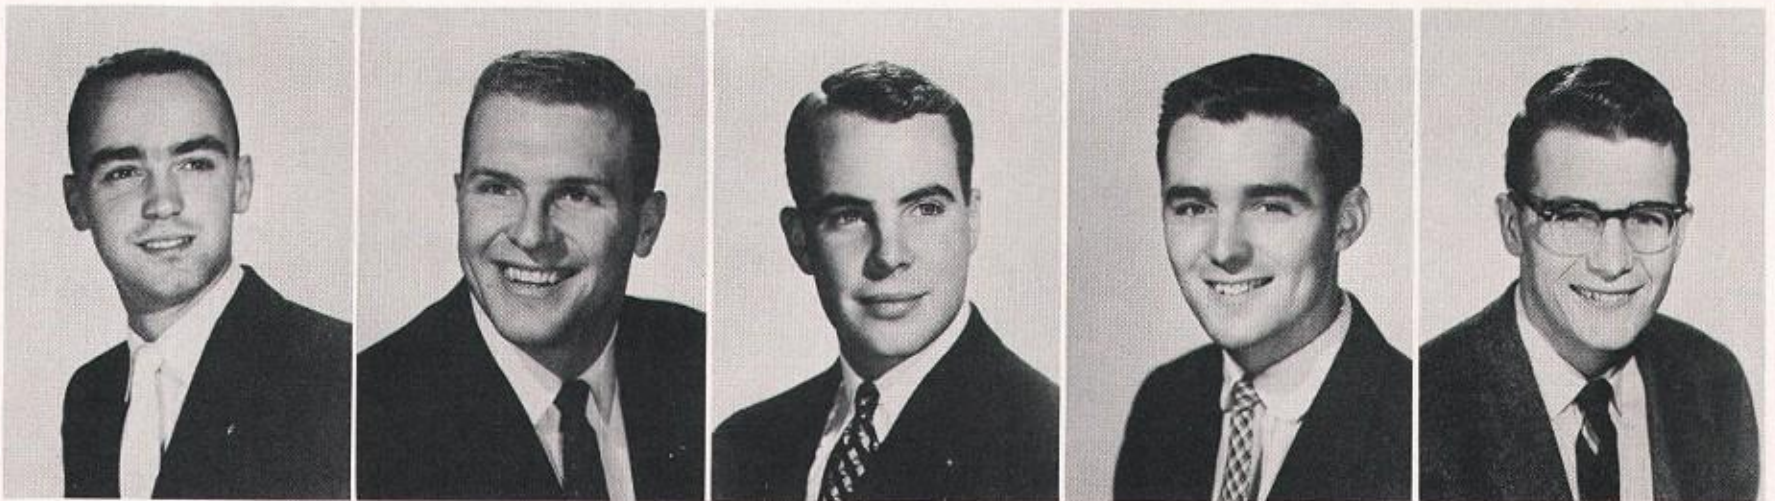

fir tree

Fir Tree was founded at the University of Washington to recognize men who had rendered outstanding service to the University in the field of extra-curricular activities. New members are chosen at the end of the spring quarter from upper division students.

Membership in Fir Tree is limited to undergraduate men who have taken all their college work at this university. The symbol, the fir tree, was chosen because it is typical of the state of Washington.

husky swim club

The Husky Swim Club, which was established in 1949, strives "to promote interest and sportsmanship in swimming and associated sports at the University of Washington and in the Pacific Northwest. Membership is open to male University students who have completed one or more quarters of academic studies, who are active in swimming or an associated sport and who have been approved unanimously by members at the nominating meeting. Continued membership depends on continued active participation.

Through the years, the Club has devoted its efforts to several projects: the sponsorship of swimming and diving clinics for northwest coaches and swimmers, officiating for intramural and for high school meets, and exhibitions at northwest pool dedications. The club also co-sponsors swimming and diving meets, gives demonstrations during Freshman Orientation Week and at university open house programs, selects and announces winners of the Outstanding Freshman Swimmer and the Inspirational Varsity Swimmer awards, and presents the annual three-day spring water show, "Aqua Fantasies."

men's pharmacy honorary

In 1916 a group of twenty pharmacy students of the College of Pharmacy were granted a charter for the Beta Omicron Chapter of Kappa Psi. The organization has as its aims the fostering of pharmaceutical research, high scholarship, and the advancement of professional standards in Pharmacy.

The Beta Omicron chapter is one of forty-seven active collegiate chapters located throughout the United States. Its members are composed of faculty of the college of pharmacy, medical service representatives, leading pharmacists throughout the state, and students in the College of Pharmacy. Beta Omicron chapter is not only expanding professionally, but socially as well and the scope of its activities is increasing every year.

Lambda Kappa Sigma, a national sorority for women in Pharmacy, seeks to promote friendship, high scholarship, professional interest, and to prepare its members for service in the medical profession. The sorority was organized in 1913 with ten members. Today it consists of thirty-seven active and sixteen alumnae chapters.

Chi Chapter at the University of Washington grew from the "Antidote Club" for women in Pharmacy and was installed on April 20, 1941. The yearly activities include a Founder's Day Program, Hygeia Day Celebration, Initiation Banquet, Mother-Daughter Banquet, a Christmas party, and various other get-acquainted parties for the women in Pharmacy. The sorority is also an active participant in the various functions of the Pharmacy Department.

Lambda Rho, Women's Art Honorary, was founded nearly a half century ago at the University of Washington. Since that time its members have proven their capabilities, for nearly every outstanding woman artist in the northwest area was a Lambda Rho member at the University.

The high qualifications required of Lambda Rho women necessarily limits its membership. A woman must have maintained a 3.0 accumulative grade average and a 3.1 in art. These high requirements eliminate all those who are not seriously interested in furthering the goals of Lambda Rho, which are to work in the field and encourage all sincere artistic endeavors.

The main purpose of Malamutes is to promote school spirit. It arranges pregame rallies, plans half-time card stunts at football games, and creates original ways to promote spirit at all athletic activities. In addition, Malamutes is responsible for the selection of the yell team and the care of Ski, the Husky mascot.

An inspiration of Malamutes is the annual University of Washington Songfest, one of the highlights of Parents' Weekend. Malamutes and Rally Girls now cosponsor Songfest.

Membership in Malamutes is open to all freshmen men. During the fall quarter the new members are known as invites. The top forty invites become actives during their sophomore year, for which they are awarded white coat sweaters.

Three principles—scholarship, leadership, and service—guide Mortar Board, national senior women's honor society.

Tolo Chapter was founded on the University of Washington campus in 1925. Since then it has aimed to promote college loyalty, to advance the spirit of service and fellowship among university women, to promote and maintain a high standard of scholarship, to recognize and encourage leadership, and to stimulate the development of a finer type of college woman.

Each spring outstanding junior women are elected to membership in Mortar Board. The scholastic requirement is a cumulative grade point of at least four-tenths of a point above the all-University average.

Mortar Board activities center around the presentation of scholarships to an outstanding and deserving woman in both the freshman and sophomore class. Funds for the scholarships are raised by the annual Christmas Candy Cane sale.

This year Mortar Board participated in a new KCTS program series for prospective college students. As the spring project, panel discussions on college life were given at Seattle high schools to graduating girls.

Oval Club is celebrating its golden anniversary this year as the upperclassmen's activity and service organization at Washington. Oval Club was founded in 1907 and grew rapidly to a position of leadership in the maintenance of school traditions and in the promotion of service projects of value to the University.

Oval Club selects members twice annually from upperclassmen who have proven themselves to be outstanding in activities, athletics, or academic endeavors. Through the combination of the efforts of these leaders the Oval Club has made many contributions to the University over the past fifty years, and with the growth of the University the value of this organization has increased and its responsibilities have multiplied. The members have met this challenge in the past and are looking forward to the next fifty years with the motto "service to Washington" kept foremost in their minds.

foreign trade honorary

Pan Xenia was founded in 1919 at the University of Washington, where the international headquarters remains.

The purpose of Pan Xenia is the development of interest in foreign trade and the promotion of higher ideals and standards of business ethics.

Membership is open to Sophomores majoring in foreign trade, political science, economics and related fields who show interest in the promotion of the group's objectives and good scholarship standing.

Each spring and fall Pan Xenia holds an initiation banquet. The fraternity takes an active part in the Washington State International Trade Fair. Guest speakers just returned from abroad, or businessmen engaging in foreign trade talk at the bi-monthly coffee meetings.

The highlight of Pan Xenia's social events is the annual formal dinner ball at one of the local officer's clubs.

Purple Shield has had as its purpose, since 1925, to bring together those underclassmen who have proven themselves to be outstanding in the field of scholarship and to be leaders in the field of extra-curricular endeavor. The underlying purpose is to create and maintain a spirit of loyalty and unity among the members and to the University, which they will possess throughout their upperclassmen's status and similarly upon the completion of their academic studies.

Purple Shield initiates new members twice a year and requires them to have a 2.67 or better cumulative grade point, with a 3.0 one quarter, and a sufficient number of activity points.

Although not a service honorary, Purple Shield has devoted many hours of service to Washington. This year Purple Shield served as host at many of the receptions and combined with W-Key to put on a television program and to sell concessions at Sophomore Carnival.

"Here we go . . . go . . . go, here we go!" This familiar cry symbolizes the objectives and enthusiasm of the University-founded Rally Girls. Women's Rally Committee works with Malamutes to promote school spirit. Wearing the traditional white sweaters, the girls sell pom-poms and rooter caps at games. Some of the Rally Girls lead singing and yells, but the majority organize card stunts for the half-time entertainment.

Membership in Rally Girls is open to freshman women, who are taken in during the fall as "invites." After one quarter of service, pledges are chosen. Actives are selected at the close of Spring Quarter on the basis of work accomplished throughout the year.

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade is an honorary organization of Army, Navy and Air Force upper-division cadets and midshipmen. At present there are 128 active companies of Scabbard and Blade on the campuses of various American colleges and universities. "I" company of the First Regiment was organized on this campus in 1914.

Members are selected on the basis of university activities, academic achievement, and military leadership and proficiency. Cadets are chosen from the upper third of their military science classes and must have qualities of leadership, integrity and honesty.

sigma epsilon sigma

women's underclassmen scholarship honorary

Sigma Epsilon Sigma is a scholastic honorary for sophomore women who have maintained a 3.5 minimum grade point average during their freshman year. The main goal of this chapter is the encouragement and promotion of high scholarship among freshman women of all branches of learning.

While essentially an honorary, Sigma Epsilon Sigma does carry out the necessary functions of any organization. The members serve as hostesses at the President's Reception, give a tea for freshman women who maintained a 3.5 minimum grade average their first quarter in school, and have an annual project to raise money for their scholarship fund.

sigma delta chi

national journalism honorary

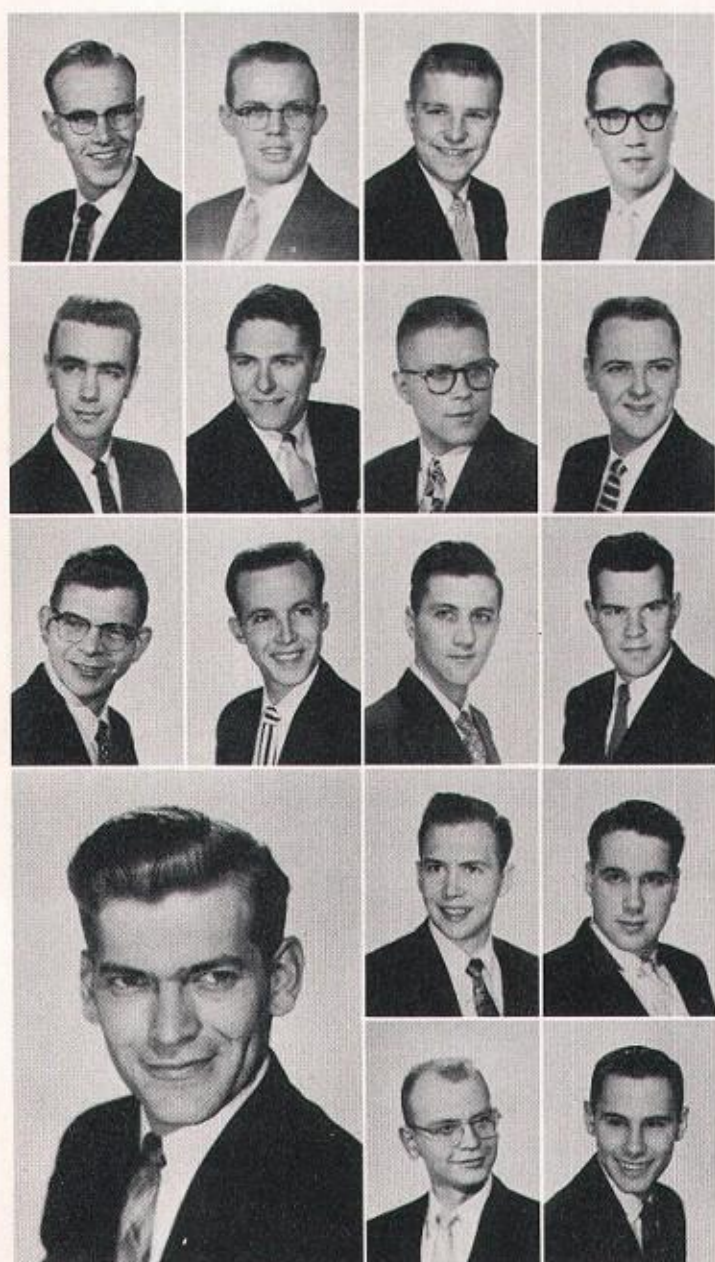

Sigma Delta Chi is a national fraternity of men aspiring to or already actively engaged in the writing profession. The University of Washington chapter has been active since 1910.

Members are selected on basis of scholarship, interest and aptitude in journalism work. Those accepted must have a desire to make writing their occupation.

The University chapter has supported a program, in conjunction with Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, and SDX alumni, designed to better acquaint members with problems and advancements in their field. The year's two big social events are the Fall Initiation Banquet and the Spring Pledge Luncheon.

tau beta pi

national engineering honorary

Tau Beta Pi is the national engineering honor society; it was founded in 1885 at Lehigh University. Washington's Alpha Chapter has been active since 1912 and is one of over 100 chapters located throughout the nation. Election to Tau Beta Pi constitutes recognition of outstanding scholarship, exemplary character, and continued service to the University. Elections are made from the college of engineering in fall and winter quarters. Senior grade point average must exceed 3.20; junior grade point average must exceed 3.50 at Washington Alpha.

Long-term service projects include publication of the Engineering Student Guide Book, and presentation to the outstanding freshman engineer of a suitably engraved plaque in recognition of his efforts.

DONNA DE SHAZO, President

Theta Sigma Phi has a membership based on scholarship and the desire to enter a communications profession. The honorary was founded on the University of Washington campus in 1909.

Each spring Theta Sigma Phi sponsors the Matrix Table banquet to which one hundred campus women and five hundred outstanding Seattle women are invited. Other activities of the chapter include compiling the annual alumni Christmas news letter and running the Communications Building coffee shop. In addition, the group works with Sigma Delta Chi to bring communication speakers to campus.

totem club

activity honorary

Totem Club, junior and senior women's activity and service honorary, was founded at the University of Washington in 1932 to provide recognition of service to Washington. The members' record of outstanding service to the University is augmented by hostessing at University banquets throughout the year, Song and Stunt Night winter quarter, an Orphan's party given with Oval Club spring quarter, and various other charity functions.

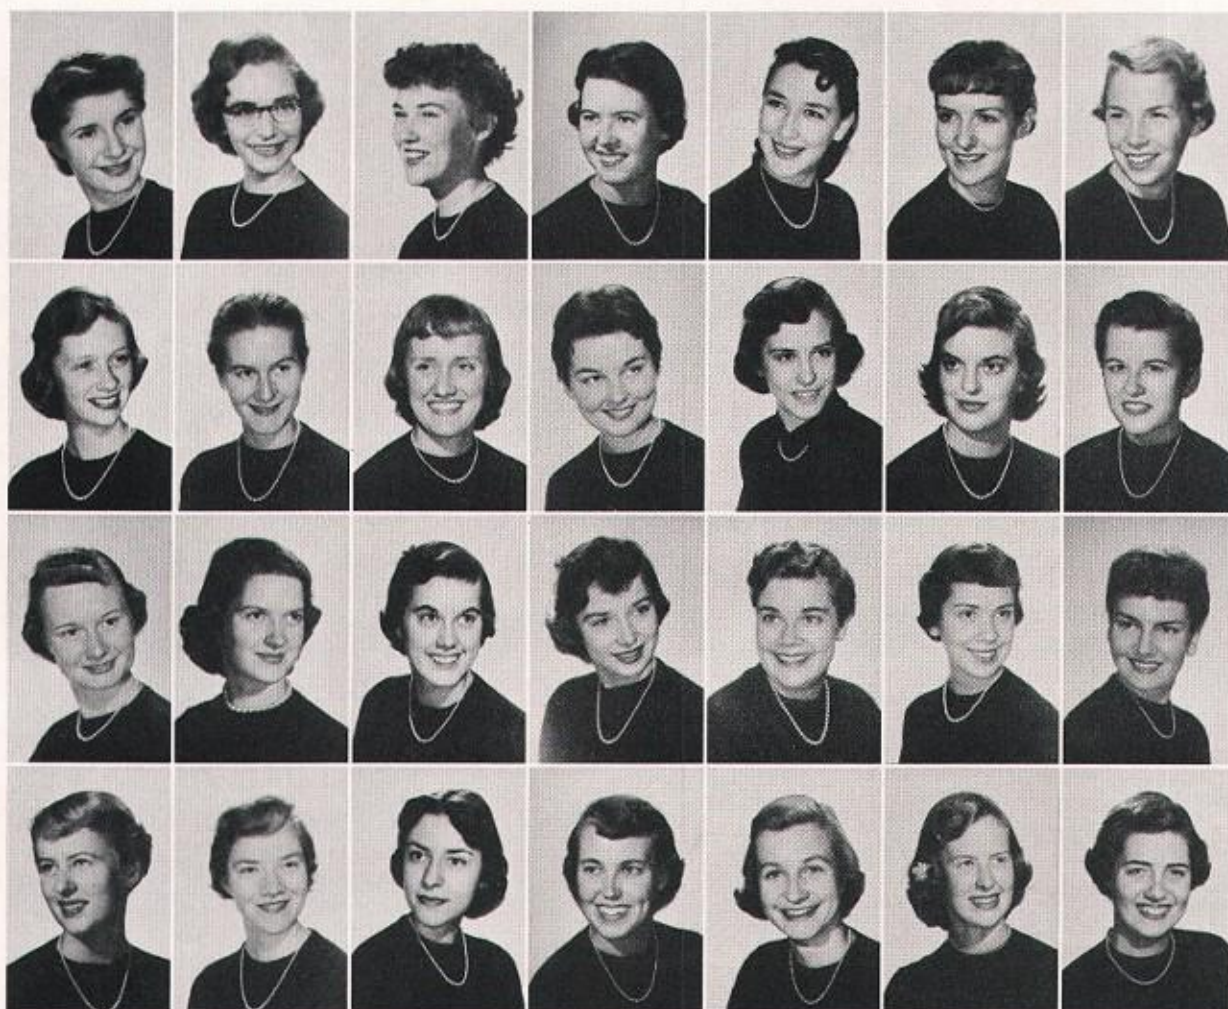

To be eligible for membership in Totem Club, a woman must have at least 90 credits and a 2.0 grade average, plus an outstanding activity record. Members are tapped twice each years with the presentation of a miniature totem pole, the symbol of the organization.

Tau Sigma Delta was founded at the University of Michigan in 1913. Iota, the active chapter at the University of Washington, was founded in 1940. Institutional chapters are chartered only at four-year or more degree-granting American colleges and universities whose department, school or college of Architecture is on the accredited list of the National Architectural Accrediting Board.

The purpose of Tau Sigma Delta is to stimulate mental achievement, effort, and initiative; to emphasize leadership and character, and to reward students who attain high scholastic standing in Architecture, Landscape Architecture, and the Allied Arts of Design, with the prize of membership.

The Washington chapter of Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship took root at Cambridge University in 1877 and has expanded to 14 countries. The fellowship is now represented on some 500 of our campuses. I.V.C.F. is an inter-denominational, evangelical student organization. It stresses vital faith in Jesus Christ as the positive, successful way of life. Its activities this year included Monday noon and Wednesday evening fellowship meetings, organized prayer and Bible discussion groups, and purposeful retreats, conferences, and socials.

women's speech arts honorary

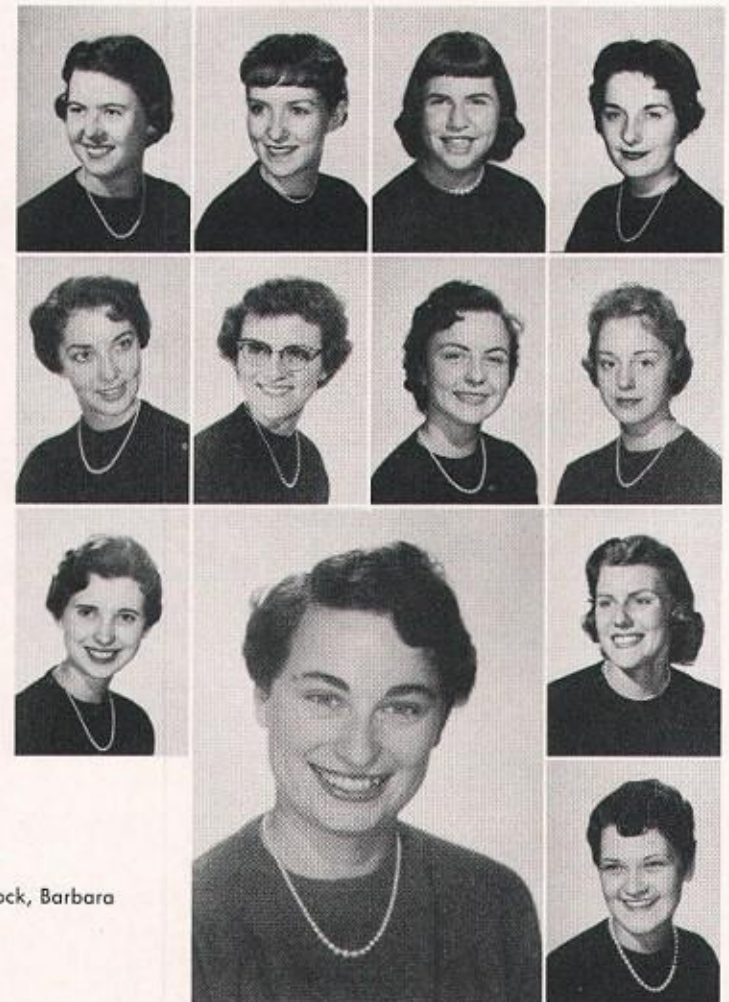

Mu Chapter of Zeta Phi Eta was established at Washington in 1930, and has been consistently active since that time. Among its functions this year have been the sponsorship of the Speech Department Christmas Party, participation in the preparation for the High School Speech Arts Festival, and continued support of the Lois Beil Sandall Scholarship which is awarded to an outstanding woman senior or graduate student studying in the field of speech, radio or television. The Zeta Phi Eta Honorary Plaque is awarded annually to the outstanding senior man or woman in the speech department.

We of Zeta were truly inspired with the visit of our national president this year. To all, the purpose of Zeta—to band together in departments of speech, groups of selected college women interested in maintaining high standards of speech—became personal and vital.

Working together on the University of Washington campus, the YM and YWCA have shared in the activities of another full and meaningful year. The Y groups brought to the campus another International Banquet in honor of the foreign students during the Thanksgiving season. In support of the World University Service, the YW sponsored "Nickle Hop" in the organized living groups on campus. "Jester's Jubilee," the Y's spring carnival, brought fun and entertainment to the U of W and the community as well. Such groups and occasions within the Y as Political Discussion group, Cosmopolitan Club and Folk Camp helped bring to the students an awareness of the world situation in which we find ourselves.

Officers, chairmen, and innumerable committee members assisted by an able and devoted staff of advisers have attempted, through the Y program, to further understand and express the goals and purpose of Christianity in the life of a state university campus. Working together with this like purpose, we trust that we have enriched the education of many.

Campus Religious Council, a representative body for University student religious organizations, strives to bring religion to the campus, and promote cooperation and understanding among member groups. Outstanding among the year's activities were Religious Emphasis Week, described below; the fall Presidents' Leadership Conference, and the annual Progressive Dinner, held winter quarter. In cooperation with the Y, CRC sponsored the Frosh Prevue Banquet and Open House in September, and the big World University Service fund drive in February. Also, CRC protestant committee sponsored the first University Chapel services last January.

religious emphasis week

executive committee

The purpose of Religious Emphasis Week (REW) is to promote an awareness of religion on the campus. REW was held this year during the week of January 19-24. Its activities featured several outstanding speakers qualified in many fields who were brought here from various campuses across the United States. Highlights of the week: Sunday the speakers were featured in the University district church services and in the evening spoke to the various religious groups. Monday evening, speakers held discussions at the organized living groups. Other main events during the week were daily seminars, evening assemblies, worship services and personal conferences, and bull sessions arranged between students and speakers.

calvin club

Calvin Club is an organization designed to provide Christian fellowship for college age young people. Interesting and inspirational meetings are held every Sunday morning and evening. One of the highlights of each week is the Tuesday night dinner and meeting. Another Calvin Club highlight is the weekend conference held each fall and spring. The club also has numerous social activities such as singspirations, skating and skiing parties, outings, and picnics. Calvin Club is located on the corner of 15th N.E. and E. 47th.

canterbury

Canterbury brings worship, fellowship, and meaning into the lives of Episcopal students at the University of Washington. Worthwhile projects, informal meetings, and a weekly Communion service help the student achieve a deeper understanding of his place in a world under God.

baptist-disciple student association

The Baptist-Disciple Student Association (BDSA) is a fellowship of students seeking, through worship, study, and action, to make the Christian faith real in every phase of University life. The program outlined by the student cabinet includes Sunday morning class, Sunday evening fireside, Thursday dinner, and Forumette, projects in group life and social action, and many social events throughout the year.

The center, located at 15th N.E. and East 45th, is sponsored by the Baptist and Christian churches of Washington, and is affiliated with the national student movements of these churches. Students lounge and study in the Center every day, and BDSA welcomes all who are interested in furthering its program of Christian understanding and responsibility.

christian science organization

The Christian Science Organization at the University is open to all students and faculty interested in Christian Science. Members of the Organization plan and carry out activities through an Executive Board and various committees. The Organization is entirely self-governed and has no adult director. Chief among its activities are the weekly Thursday night meetings at which daily experiences in the use of Christian Science are shared.

Successful events of the past year include the Frosh Prevue Open House and the fall quarter reception for new students. Members supported Religious Emphasis Week by work on committees and through participation in events. On Sunday night of REW a Christian Science speaker spoke to the Organization at the Organization Building.

All are welcome to study and relax at the Organization Building located at the corner of E. 43rd and 15th Ave. N.E. Here the weekly Christian Science Lesson-Sermon may be read and current Christian Science literature is always available.

hillel foundation

Appreciation of cultural and religious aspects of the Jewish faith is combined with interfaith understanding at the Hillel Foundation at the University of Washington. This year the officers and council of Hillel continued many past activities and introduced several new ones. In the attempt to cover the various interests of our students, dances and Sunday brunches are important on the social calendar, while Friday afternoon services, lectures by faculty members, and various discussion groups have religious and intellectual value. Classes such as Hebrew and Israeli dancing are offered which form a significant addition to the students' education.

Newman Club, the Catholic student organization, provides a well rounded program encompassing spiritual, intellectual, and social functions. This year it represented the University of Washington at the Northwest District Province Convention of Newman Clubs. The club house at 4504-16th N.E. is the scene for the Monday night convert instruction program and the Thursday night religious discussion groups. Daily Mass is held here at 7:00 A. M. and Father Dooley, the club's chaplain, conducts a daily philosophy class which is free to all the students. This year several students participated in the intermural sports program. For fun to supplement our school work, we held mixers, a Hobo dance, the winter semiformal, a cruise, and a spring picnic. The highlight of the year was our annual Communion Breakfast held at the Meany Hotel during spring quarter.

pilgrim club

Pilgrim Club, the Congregational Christian student group at the University, is open to any student who is seeking to understand himself and his relationships to his friends and to God. It is our wish that we may gain insight into these relationships through Christian love so that we may become a part of the real Church.

We hope that Pilgrim Club may be a place where students can: . . . add a religious dimension to the academic pilgrimage undertaken at the "U"; . . . build real friendships that last a lifetime; . . . worship together, study together, recreate together.

To further these aims P.C. offers opportunities for service within the larger community, i.e. work projects, local and state visitation work. Activities within the club include Sunday evening forum-discussion type meetings; three study groups—Bible, Contemporary Drama and Present Day Theology, Understanding Worship; and weekend conferences each quarter.

Pilgrim Club is located on the corner of 16th Ave. N.E. and E. 45th St.—"Just across from the campus."

The men of University Christian Union can now look back with real pleasure upon UCU's twenty-second year on campus—another year of activity, achievement, and Christian fellowship. USU, an inter-denominational organized men's house, provides not only the many activities of college life, but also an environment in which Christian growth is emphasized.

Intramural softball, bowling, tennis, a league title in basketball, and second place in Songfest are samples of our activity calendar, which was climaxed for 1956-1957 by our annual Spring Initiation Banquet.

Wesley Club, sponsored by the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, is open to all students on the University of Washington campus. Its activities center in Wesley House, located at 4205 15th N.E., just across the street from the campus. Its program of activities planned by the students to fit their need, includes weekly firesides, fellowship cells, coffee hours, Bible study groups, student-led chapel services, parties, and dances. One of the special service projects is the Spring Workcamp which comes during spring vacation. This workcamp gives the students a chance to live with the people of a small Washington community and work with them to improve their church and youth facilities.

Thank You

Now with all the pages in to the printers, I have time to sit back and remember all the people who have contributed so much throughout the year. There are many I would like to thank . . .

- . . . the division editors, Shelby Collard, Paulette Chilcote, Mary Cernetig, and Jim Neely, who worked the whole year to produce this book.
- . . . the hard-working section editors, Marybeth Austin, Ann Clinton, Lucy Pullen, Dan Reitz, Patty Larkin, Danne Ellen Beighle, By Smith, Bill Jones, Anne Godefroy, Koko Webster, Bill Evert, Madeleine O'Neil.
- . . . Clyde Robinson, our advisor, Sue Smith, and Mrs. Lenore Shekels in the "front office" who provided unlimited advice, assistance, and moral support.
- . . . Jean Myers, business manager, and Sandy Whitehead, office manager, who helped us keep within our budget.
- . . . the artists, Marsh Johnson and Karen Quickstad, who made their deadlines faithfully and always provided such talented artwork.
- . . . Ron Renny, Dick Lea, Merv Bailey, and Grace Rusnak from Craftsman, who were wonderful people to work with and just as anxious as we to make this book the "best one ever."
- . . . Ed Kennell and his staff at Kennell-Ellis, our official photographers.
- . . . the DAILY editors who furnished much appreciated free publicity for the TYEE.
- . . . the Photo Lab staff, Gary Miller, Chris Sublett, Cecil Morrison, Ronny Lopp, Bob Petersen, Corney Root, Bill Downie, and Jim Sneddon, who worked late and long hours to help us meet our deadlines.

Without these people, the 1957 TYEE would not exist, and I thank them all from the bottom of my heart. They have worked hard on this year's book and although mistakes may appear, we're proud of it. We hope you will be, too.

we don't provide diving suits....

... nor treasure maps, but we can help you with most of your other money problems. Here at the University Branch, we've worked with Huskies for years (no puns about tough sledding, please). We think we understand your special needs and requirements both now and at the time you begin your career. If you move to another area after graduation, N B of C can continue to serve you in any one of 54 branches in Washington.

Oh,..... and congratulations!

Graduation is an important event both to the graduating class and to the community. For you, it means new responsibilities, new opportunities . . . in fact, a whole new life. For the community, it means a welcome influx of new members who will be the builders and leaders of tomorrow. As it has for 67 years, Frederick & Nelson wishes the class of 1957 at the University of Washington a successful and happy future. Many of you will join us as staff members, a great many will become customers, and all, we hope, will become our friends.

We had fun
helping to put
this book together.
That's what we like
about the printing business
. . . working with pleasant, intelligent, talented people
. . . striving with ideas and ink and paper
. . . tending
the modern streamlined monsters that equip our printing plant to crystalize
all previous thought and effort on paper in a way that will make you say —
"Exceptional!"
"WELL DONE"
"— I like it"
"Good color"
"It sparkles"
— and we hope you do say it,
spontaneously.
The Craftsman Press is our name,
Craftsmanship is our by-word.
Make Craftsman your buy-word and you, too, will enjoy the printing business.
